THE BONUS QUESTION. A comple of weeks ago we published an article on the bonus question, which excited considerable comment among the residents of Goderich. In it we laid down certain principles, and took exception to too great haste in grasping at business offers, and the exhibiting of too in time others will be found. great anxiety to offer bonuses to business enterprises proposing to locate in our town. The direct cause for our utterances on that occasion was the fact that Messrs. Scott & Bell, furniture manufacturers of Wingham, were looking for another location, while an application for a local bonus from the town of Wingham, to retain them, was pending. It is true that the application of Scott & Bell was withdrawn, at the Wingham public meeting, when is was discovered to be adverse to the public sentiment as expressed by a number of prominent residents at said meeting; but there is no question that the offer of a bonus from Goderich or any other town would be a Canada to obtain freer access to the marlever for the firm to use if the matter came up again for discussion in Wingham. Messrs. Scott & Bell were corresponded with by the town clerk of Gode rich, under instruction from the special committee of the Council, and in response, on Good Friday, Mr. Bell was present in Goderich at a meeting of the committee. The matter was talked therefover, and although no definite arrangeopinion ent was arrived at, there were many from Quo got highly elated over the prospect opinions getting the firm here at any cost. We can say d not agree with the enthusiastic ones, he g having a knowledge of towns and villages which had given bonuses that had proved burdens, without corresponding, or, in fact, any benefits accruing. Mitchell bonused an iron safe manufactory, and for the Government of the United Kingreceived irreparable injury; Brussels dom to advance, and which can be best bonused a fire engine manufactory to the realized and presented by the Governextent of $20,000, and has now every prospect of paving another $20,000 in law costs to get rid of the incubus; Seaforth made a bad bid on a foundry; Elora has not yet recovered from the injury inflicted upon it by the carpet factory bonus; and scores of oth instances could be recited showing that of trade negotiations, enhance the diff-good had not accrued from the efforts culties of the situation and diminish the of corporations to "buy themselves chances of success that have already resulted in less to Canada. The principle of bonusing is wreng. Of course there are times when necessary powers to enable Her Majesty, good may obtain, as when a new rail through her representative, the Governor General of Canada, acting by and way or some other project of a like nature is brought in, but, in the main, benusing industrial institutions is wrong, and no amount of specious argument communication with any British posses-can make it right. The fact that there was a "nigger on the fence," is obvious in the Scott & Bell-jeet to the prior consent or to the submatter, in the light of recent developments. In recent letters to the Mayor and Reeve of Goderich, the proposed removal of the firm from Wingham to Goderich appears to have got its quietus, owing to an alleged the Holding he treated the House of Representatives back" from the undertaking by a Winnipeg partner in the concern. If our special committee are anxious to improve the prospects of the town, there is one way in which it can be done. Lest her wing wet with the mildew of mon-the railway question be taken up and worked at; place the men best conversant with railway matters on the committee, and let them do their utmost to make connection with the Torento. They will come then of their own voli- printed for some time, the silliest was tion, and in their own interests. Another railway is what is wanted in Gode rich, and without it all the efforts that the present special committee, or any other committee can put forth to seditious. bring in industries to build up the town will prove abortive. Right effort, properly put forth at the present time by our prominent men, is what is wanted to make Goderich what it ought to be-

SIR JOHN A. MAODONALD characterized the elequent speeds of Mr. Blake on the Irish Resolutions as "demagogic." Sir John's own speech was envious, spiteful and silly, and is remarkable only because of its jealous neference to the leader of the Opposition. Mr. Blake's magnificent oration (for so ex-Judge Coursel, a Conservative member, termed it, in the face of the Premier's disparaging remarks), is in demand everywhere, and has touched the popular heart of Canada as perhaps no single which was in this instance granted as a prize Sir John's plaintive talk about bespeech ever touched it before.

CANADA'S TREATY RIGHTS.

We give below the text of the resolutions moved by Hon, E. Blake with regard to Canada's independent action by a majority of 101 to 58, but Mr. Blake succeeded in creating a defection in the Tory ranks-some seven members of that party voting for the motion, To Mr. Mills we are indebted for a re which was, in every sense of the term, a view of Irish legislation which showed vote of want of confidence in the Gov- how the present demands of the Irish were kept leyal to the Government by and unjust laws forced upon her by the the tightening of the party reins. Canada's Commercial Rights.

Of all the silly articles the Mail has an attack on Mr. Blake for moving his resolutions in favor of Canada having the right to make her own commercial treaties. The resolutions are denounced as being "superflueus, hypocritical and seditious." Coming from the organ of the party that attained to power on the strength of the N. P. which was the hoisting of the flag of Canada's commercial independence, this is rather rich. Then it was only a few months ago that Sir John A. Macdonald said in this city, within sound of the Mail tower, that he was "a home ruler up to the handle."

Are we to understand that this was mere clap-trap? Added to this is the fact that in speaking about the new line of steamers between Canada and Brazil, Sir John said that "Sir Alexander Galt had been put inte direct communication with the Governments of France and Spain, with which Great Britain is trying to negotiate treaties, and should these negotiations fail, he has the promise of her Ma-jesty's Government that he will be duly accredited with power to make treaties statements be true what becomes of the tween St. Vincent and Emerson there is specially for Canada, if negotiations can poor man story? Very Encertain.

The liberals went into the election of 1878 very hopeful; they sustained a crushing defeat. The conservatives enter upon the coming struggle in much confider to make commercial treaties with foreign with much hectoring; will history repeat with much hectoring; will history repeat itself? As the darkey said to the carpet De ballotam mighty uncertai

Jealous John A.

Sir John says that Mr. Blake's speech on the Irish question was demagogic. When Sir John bewailed the hard times and lyingly declared that he could better them, was that demagogic? When he said that he could produce "tall chim ne said that he could produce "tall chim-neys" everywhere; that villages would become towns and towns develope into cities—was that demagogic? The reader may answer for himself.—[Advertiser.

Ireland's Friend.

The Knights in the Cabinet handled Mr. Costigan's resolutions expressing aympathy with the Irish tenants, very gingerly. Mr. Blake having doclined the shilling offered him by the British Gevernment, in the shape of knighthood, felt himself free to speak what was in his mind and heart in regard to the Irish. His speech will find an eche in the hearts of all who sympathise with an oppressed people.—[Evening Telegram.

A Weak Argument.

Some conservative journals must think the people of Ontario are wanting in common sense when they tell them that the course pursued by Sir John Macdonwill give to Ontario more terrirory than she claims. What Ontario wants is the award gave her, and she wants no tomfooling about it. The tories are on the wrong side on this question and no amount of special pleading and tugging at their beot straps will lift them ever to the other.—[World.

The Irish resolutions adopted by the Canadian Commons declare that the Lish in Canada are the most loyal, contented and happy of her Majesty's subjects in the colony. This dees not agree with the opinions expressed by the Mail and its evening echo, both of which journals delight in maligning the Irish. The other day one of them deelared that all national societies established by Irish-

Not the Cheese.

The disgust with the N. P. expressed voice, voted just double the amount of by some of our farmer-readers has disturbed the Howick Enterprise. "There are no tall chimneys in Gorrie," said one of the farmers as a reason why he should be discontented with the N. P. The Enterprise endeavors to prove there is a tall chimney—namely a cheese factory. This cheese factory we are infermed by a friend, was running six menths before the last election. We should like the pertion of the town was inundated, and a new $70,000 bridge carried away; but Enterprise to explain what the N. P. has done for the cheese industry. The duty on cheese was not changed by the N. P. Nine-tenths of our produce gees abroad, and the price here would be rehas been carried away by the gorge and consequent flood. Fears were entergulated by the exported produce if only one-tenth went abroad. Every manone-tenth went abroad. Every man-ufactured article used by the dairyman tained for the magnificent Louise bridge of the Canada Pacific, but it still stands, was increased in price by the tariff. His though a portion of the piers was can cheese-cloth is subject to a vindictive ried away, a portion of the city bridge being sunk between its piers. The breakwater of the draw swept away, and telegraph communication with the south tax of 60 per cent. and is all imported.
And, to cap the climax, the N. P. Goventirely cut off. Wednesday night was an anxious one for Winnipeg.

Sir John's Poor Mouth. When the Shields payment for the settlement of the Hewsen-Macdonald claim was discussed a few weeks ago by the Globe Sir John Macdonald, in his defence of himself in Parliament, made an ostentatious show of his poverty. He was "only a poor man," he said, and his followers have from time to time put forward the same story that Sir John, though so leng in power, is still poer. In this connection the question has been raised, Is Sir John a peer man? and if so, ought he to be peer? An evening paper discussing this question, which has been much talked of about the lobbies of late, gives the fellewing statement of the Premier's annual re-

A Reminiscence of Thirty Years Ago.

To the Editor of THE SIGNAL DEAR SIR, - In the Mail of last Sa turday, I read these words, "there is nothing that brings people together soon er than a little nonsense." A truism which brought to my mind one such in cident of the most ludicrous and yet most successful sort I ever met with, and if you will kindly permit me space, I shall relate it for the amusement of your readers, some of whom will yet remem her and take another laugh over it. On the day before the meeting of the United Councils of Huron, Perth and Bruce June, 1852, a general meeting of the sattlement had been called to discuss the merits of the then proposed railway There was a large meeting in the Square, with delegates from Buffale, Brantford, Paris and Teronto. The latter, however, came to oppose the scheme. At the supper which was given to the strangthe evening, it was rather care fully arranged to set certain of our townsmer in certain places to entertain the guests. Mr. John Clark, the Crown Land agent, was placed between the Mayer of Buffalo and one of their Aldermen, and soon after the hot whiskey had began to work, Clark remarked to and appropriated almost immediately his neighbors that they must have a and many who fancy that they need queer sort of editors in Buffalo, or they certainly were a queer sort of folk alto-gether. His neighbors of course, wanted to know what he meant, when without a smile on his face, he drew a then recent Buffalo paper from his pocket,

How to Train a Child Mentally.

Children think much more deeply than we imagine; we should therefore answer their questions to the best of our ability, unless evidently asked in a spirit of frivolity, and try to explain to them reasons for things they see occurring around them, and for the acts which you yourself perform. But gain their confidence in every way in your power. A mother should be more a monitor than a teacher, or rather she ought to be both You like to see your boy clever, doubtless, but do not make a show child of him. Do not even let him know you think him clever, and discourage all pertness in conversation, for this teo often borders on impertinence. Never permit him to contradict you. If he contradicts his mother, may he not, when old enough to go out, be guilty at table of very great rudeness? At the same time, mothers should never deserve contradiction. When you have occasion to reprove, beware of doing so angrily. It is far better to speak gently and make the child feel ashamed of himself, because shame breeds sorrow and contri-tion, and this in its turn, the desire to behave better in the time to come
