The Evening Chit-Chat
By RUTH CAMERON

Has she been in your guest room at all this summer — the guest non grata? If you have any guest room to put her in I suspect she has for she goes everywhere in the course of the season. Who is this guest non grata? Well, there are several varieties of her.

Here are a few that you may recognize.

You invite her for the week of August 7-14—that being the only week in which you can conveniently entertain her. She accepts with pleasure, making the slight proviso that, as it suits her plans better, she will come the next week instead—she is sure you won't mind because you aren't to put yourself out for her, and anyway you are always so accommodating.

A more virulent variety goes even farther than this, and not only dates her invitation but extends it to herself—at least in its definite form. You have remarked, perhaps, in an unwary moment that you would like to have her come and see you if she is ever in your part of the country, and your unweariness is duly punished when you get a note saying that she will be staying right near your summer home next week, and be glad to come and see you for a few days, if convenient.

Although apparently amply supplied with trunk room she never brings more than half the little things she needs. All through her stay you patiently—or impatiently—supply her with stamps, writing paper, fountain pen, rubbers, umbrella, sewing materials and so many other incidentals that it would almost wear out my typewriter to try to enumerate them.

"Rock of Ages."

"Rock of Ages cleft for me."
Thoughtlessly the maiden sang;
Fell the words unconsciously,
From her girlish, gleeful tongue;
Sang as little children sing;
Sang as sing the birds in June;
Fell the words like light leaves down—
On the current of the tune—
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee."

"Let me hide myself in Thee."
Felt her soul no need to hide?
Sweet the song as song could be,
As she had no thought beside;
All the words unheedingly;
Fell from lips untouched by care,
Dreaming not that they might be—
On some other lips in prayer,
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee."

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,"
"Twas a woman sang them now,
Pleadingly and prayerfully;
Every word her heart did know,
Rose the song as storm-tossed bird
Beats with weary wing the air,
Every note with sorrow stirred,
Every syllable a prayer—
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee."

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,"
Lips grown aged sang the hymn,
Trustingly and tenderly
Voice grown weak and eyes grown dim,
"Let me hide myself in Thee,"
Trebbling through the voice and low
Rose the sweet strain peacefully
Like a river in its flow;
Sang as only they can sing
Who behold the promised rest—
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee."

"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,"
Sung above a coffin lid;
"Underneath—all restful—
All life's joys and sorrows hid,
Never more, O storm-tossed soul,
Never from billows roll,
Will thou heed thyself to hide—
"Rock of Ages, cleft for me,
Let me hide myself in Thee."

Wireless From an Aeroplane.

McCurdy Sent Message While Flying Over Sheepshead Bay.

New York, Aug. 29.—J. D. A. McCurdy, the Canadian aviator, sent a wireless message from his biplane, while flying over Sheepshead Bay on Saturday. When 500 feet in the air and a mile away from the famous racetrack, McCurdy sent the following message: "Horton—Another chapter in aerial achievement is recorded in the sending of a wireless message from an aeroplane. McCurdy." McCurdy was both aviator and sender. He attached a key to his steering wheel, and the antennae of the sending apparatus hung from the chasses of the machine. Horton is Harry M. Horton, who served in the Spanish-American war in the signal corps under Major Samuel Reber. This is the first wireless message from an aeroplane.

Notes From Harbor Grace.

Mrs. W. Hawkins and her daughter, Miss Hilda, left last Tuesday for Sydney where Mrs. H. will join her sons, Messrs. Ernest and Walter, who have prepared a home for them there. Many friends were at the station to see them off.

Mrs. W. Spracklin, of Chelsea, Mass., who has been here visiting friends for some time, received a message from her husband a few days ago acquainting her of the serious illness of her father, which caused her to leave rather sooner than she expected for home.

Miss M. Cody, who had been spending a few days with friends at Holyrood, returned by last night's train.

Mr. John French got a couple of fingers badly crushed this morning in the sole-laying machine at the Harbor Grace Boot and Shoe Factory. He had to be attended to by a doctor.

The popular conductor on the shore line train, Mr. Kelly, gave another proof on Thursday last that he was the right man in the right place. While his train was at Holyrood a gentleman left the car and walked along the platform. In some way he lost a pair of valuable spectacles. Another passenger picked them up, but the keen eye of Mr. Kelly noticed the man picking them up, but did not know to whom they belonged. Shortly after leaving the station the gentleman discovered his loss, and mentioned his loss to the conductor, who immediately conducted him to the person who had picked them up. Conductor Kelly is well liked, and while he and his crew are obliging and courteous to passengers he is also most attentive to the duties of his office and the interests of his employers.

The British Society Excursion party returned from St. John's by last night's train, after a most enjoyable trip. They were given a hearty welcome by the Sister Society in the Capital, and the members will not soon forget the many acts of kindness shown them; President Goodland was at the station with a number of his committee to receive them, and was assisting in his efforts to make the day, and the night, too, most enjoyable to all participants.

Work on the public wharf is being pushed ahead rapidly, and the work is being well and faithfully accomplished under the supervision of Mr. Edmund Rogers. This wharf, when completed, will give us a landing place for passengers from the Coastal boats. The wharf has been built out 2½ feet, and its 3½ feet wider than before. Very heavy timber has been used, and the whole structure is now solid and good for years. Mr. R. is to be congratulated on the good workmanship.

Drunk Cut Up Lively.

Last night a resident of Kitouhesse cut up lively on Water Street while under the influence and was arrested by Const. Whalen, who was shortly after assisted by Inspector Collins. The man was about to board his craft when he became so frisky, and had he gone down on Bowring's pier, where she lay, he undoubtedly would have gone overboard. He had two bottles of rum in his pockets and one fell on the sidewalk and went in pieces.

Personal.

Mrs. Finch, of Hamilton Avenue, accompanied by her sons, Messrs. Robert and William Finch, and her daughter, Olive, leave here by the Bonavista and will in future reside at Montreal. The young men are excellent tradesmen but could get no work here, and determined to try the Great Dominion.

Mr. Stephen Hanaford, of Petty Hr., who has been several years employed at the power house there, proceeds to Grand Falls by Tuesday's express and will take charge of the switchboard in the electrical department of the A. N. D. Co.

Fishery News.

Trinity—Wind S.; boats ½ to 2 gals.

Catalina—Hand liners 1 to 2 gals.; trawls, 4 to 5 gals.; bait still very scarce; one arrival from the Straits yesterday with 140 gals.

Carbonar—No boats out yesterday; stormy; plenty bait.

Harbor Grace—Squid scarce; boats 1 to 2 gals. codfish yesterday.

Bonne Bay—Skiffs from 8 to 10 gals. codfish; plenty squid.

Mipper's Harbor—Moderate S. W. wind; little fish; plenty squid.

McMurdo & Co. backed up by the manufacturer of SALVIA, the Great Hair Grower, guarantees it to grow hair.

"SALVIA destroys Dandruff in ten days."

"The roots of the hair are so nourished and fed that a new crop of hair springs up to the amusement and delight of the user. The hair is made soft and fluffy. Like all American preparations SALVIA is daintily perfumed. It is hard to find an actress who does not use SALVIA continually."

"Ladies of society and influence use no other."

SALVIA is a non-sticky preparation, and is the ladies' favorite. A large, generous bottle, 50c. The Scobell Drug Co., St. Catharines, Canadian distributors.

A Generous Action.

Mr. James McFarlane, the well known actor, who never spared himself when asked to give of his time and talents in the cause of charity or benevolence, is now very ill at his home, McFarlane Street. Monday night his former histrionic associates will produce "Sham Rhué" for his benefit in the T. A. Hall. This is being done to enable him to get to a sanitarium in Montreal. We bespeak for the play a crowded house. The committee in charge are His Hon. Mayor Ellis, P. F. Moore, P. J. Wallace, P. Flynn, T. M. White, Geo. F. Power, T. H. O'Neill, L. Griffin, E. J. Malone, C. P. Eagan, M. W. Myrick, J. J. Mullaly, W. J. Myler, P. Hanley and P. J. O'Neill.

Enjoyable Time.

Editor Evening Telegram:

Dear Mr. Editor.—A friend of mine wrote, advising me, that if I wished to spend my holidays, thoroughly, to spend them at Holyrood. I am glad to say that I took the advice, so kindly given by my friend, and fled no thither. Holyrood is a charming place and the people are most hospitable; every one treated me with the greatest kindness so that I had a delightful vacation. We had a splendid time at Mr. J. Gibbons on Saturday night. Amongst those present were: Misses Annie, Maud and May Fleming, Alice, Jessie and Louisa St. Croix, Babe and Mary Ellen Gibbons, your humble servant and a large number beside. The brothers Flemming supplied the music. Oh! didn't we enjoy ourselves. I am now going to school and I like it very much; Miss O'Reilly is such a charming teacher.

Goes to Blind School.

Harold, the little son of Conductor George Noseworthy of the R. N. Co., goes shortly to Halifax, accompanied by his parents, to enter the Institute for the Blind there. The poor little chap was born with very defective sight and can now see but very imperfectly. He is a particularly clever little chap and will be given a thorough education in the institution.

Twitching of the Nerves

Miraculous cure brought about by DR. A. W. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD.

It is only by vitelline the symptoms of nervous exhaustion and applying Chase's Nerve Food that you can ever hope to ward off locomotor ataxia and paralysis.

Mrs. B. J. Vanderburgh, of Eastern Welland Ave., St. Catharines, Ont., writes:—"For twenty-one years I was badly afflicted with heart trouble, nervousness and cramps in the limbs, also twitching of the nerves and nervous headaches. I became weak, emaciated and emaciated. My condition was distressing and I was made worse through worry and loss of sleep."

"I tried a hundred remedies in vain. After having used half a dozen boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my old troubles had entirely vanished, and I was enjoying better health than I had since childhood."

"Such cases as this prove the wonderful efficiency of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food. It cures in Nature's way by enriching the blood and for this reason enriching the blood and its benefits are lasting. 50 cts. a box, all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale people lack good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs need invigorating, for after all, a man can be no stronger than his stomach.

A remedy that makes the stomach strong and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and drives out disease-producing bacteria and cures a whole multitude of diseases.

Get rid of your Stomach Weakness and Liver Laziness by taking a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the great Stomach Restorative, Liver Invigorator and Blood Cleanser.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its hot-water wrapper, same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Soak white lace in sweet milk overnight, then wash in hot soapsuds and water.

A good quality of dress shield can be washed in warm soapsuds, rinsed and dried in the sun.

Clean colored ribbons in a bowl of gasoline or naphtha, remembering that it is very explosive.

What is left of a roast of meat will keep moist if wrapped in a piece of linen or waxed paper.

If the window cords are wiped off occasionally with an oiled cloth they will last much longer.

Genuine whalebone can be soaked in hot water for half an hour and ironed with a warm iron.

A teaspoonful of sugar added to every pint of peas when boiling will greatly improve the flavor.

If the green stems of radishes are eaten the radish is found by many persons to be more digestible.

Rose jars occasionally stirred will perfume a linen closet, room or bureau drawers and when well made lasts for years.

To remove oil spots from matting, clothing, etc., wet with alcohol, rub with hard soap and wash with cold water.

Coarse salt with vinegar is an excellent cleansing paste for enamelware which has become discolored through use.

Keep lemons in a wide-mouthed jar covered with cold water. Change the water every day and there is no danger of moulding.

Soak dried fruits in warm, rather than cold water, and always add a pinch of salt. This plan followed, the flavor will be enhanced.

When whitewashing a cellar add a tablespoonful of carbolic acid to very pallid of the whitewash. This is the best purifier you can have.

If one's shoes have become wet and the leather is hardened by the drying process they may be easily softened by rubbing them well with kerosene.

An excellent cleaning medium for the nickel-plated chaffing dish or other cooking utensil is a paste made of whitening wet down with household ammonia.

Keep steel buckles in a box of powdered starch. Chiffon may be renovated by passing through the steam of a pan of hot water, then iron under a nap towel.

Corn on the cob should have the inner husk left on, but the silk removed for boiling. Put on in cold water and let it cook 15 minutes after the water boils.

When a carpet is necessary and yet beyond one's means cover the floor all over with ordinary, but thin, wrap-
