A Marine Court of Enquiry.

At 10 a.m. to-day a Marine Court of Enquiry sat on the matter of the loss of the "Regulus." His Honor Judge Conroy presided. With him, the assessors, were Capt. English and Bolter Inspector McLachlan. The two divers from the "Regulus" were in attendance as witnesses and were examined, and the Lieutenant of the ship was also present to testify in the matter.

Medical Registration.

The argument in the case of Anthony vs. Moseley was heard this morning by the Full Bench. This is a motion for a certiorari to quash the decision of Magistrate Duder, who gave judgment against Dr. Moseley on a charge of practicing as a medical man without a license. Mr. Pilonig, K.C., for Anthony.

A UNIQUE SIGHT.—Yesterday hundreds of people visited Rennie's River where an "unique sight" could be witnessed. Large trout in thousands could be seen running up the stream, and the belief is that they were going up to "Loug Pond" to spawn.

Fell Over Cliff.

Mr. Hutchings, K. C., Deputy Minister of Justice, to-day had a wife from Magistrate McGrath, saying that a woman named Steward of Rushoon, sustained an accident yesterday, which came near causing her death. She fell over a steep cliff yesterday and broke her leg which was "badly lacerated." She was sent to Durin for treatment.

Mr. Vickers, of Witless Bay, came to town to-day to make enquiry about a report that was circulated of his son who had been working on Bell Island was on the "Regulus." He found that the young man went out to Sydney by train the following Sunday.

Banker Ashore.

North Sydney, Nov. 5.—The Grand Bank, Nfld., schooner "Cora," Captain George Hickman, while making the harbour at one o'clock this morning, went ashore on Petrie's Ledge. The vessel was on her way from Grand Bank to this port to load coal when the accident occurred. As it was low tide when the schooner struck, it was thought she could be floated at high water this morning, and the tug "Iona" went down to try and get her off. There is a heavy sea running and a strong wind this morning, and it is feared the vessel will remain where she is. It is reported that there is a good deal of water in her hold now. The "Cora" is one of the best vessels of the Grand Bank fleet. She is about 85 tons register and is comparatively new.

Train Notes.

The west bound express left Grand Falls at time this morning. The incoming express with the local arrived here at noon to-day. The local and express combined arrived here at noon to-day bringing Rev. S. O'Driscoll, J. Prowse, Magistrate Murray, John Winter, Charles Barnes, W. H. Franklin, E. Duran and wife, Mr. Harvey, J. Hillyard and J. Funchion and wife.

Cable News.

Special to Evening Telegram. HONOLULU, Nov. 5. The first case of yellow fever ever known in this port has been discovered aboard the Japanese cruiser which arrived here Oct. 30 from Manila at Morisco.

Special to Evening Telegram. NEW YORK, N.Y., Nov. 5. Because of continued rain and wind the proposed flight to-day of J. A. M. Cardy from the deck of the steamer Kaiser, in Augusta, Vic., to Governor's Island, has been postponed until Nov. 24th, when it will be attempted from the steamer Amerika.

Special Evening Telegram. LISBON, Nov. 5. The Republic of Portugal was proclaimed one month ago, and to commemorate the date a decree was published in the official journal to-day granting amnesty to political offenders and reducing the prison sentences of all criminals one-third.

Special to Evening Telegram. WASHINGTON, Nov. 5. Encouraged by recent success in the operation of dirigible balloons, a project has been launched in Liverpool, England, for a passenger, mail and express service between that city and North Wales, according to consular reports received here.

Special to Evening Telegram. MADRID, Nov. 5. Senior Sagasta, Spanish Minister of the Interior, said to-day that he tried unsuccessfully to secure the arbitration of the strikes at Sabadell, where 600 men demand a 9-hour work day, and at Barcelona, where the metal workers are out. The attitude of the Government, he added, was neutral.

Special to Evening Telegram. COBLENZ, France, Nov. 5. Advice from Sanvel, Spain, says the town is stricken with famine as a result of the general strike, which has cut off supplies. The population is excited and general disorder is feared. Thousands of troops have entered Barcelona. All leave of absence has been cancelled.

Special to Evening Telegram. PANAMA, Nov. 5. The Howduran Consul here has been advised by the Government that owing to revolt of General Jose Valadarez, the deposed commandant at Amapala, the port of Amapala has been closed. The steamship companies here whose vessels touch at Amapala have also been notified to the same effect.

Special Evening Telegram. PORTAGE, Wis., Nov. 5. Dr. Jas. C. Monaghan, of New York, scholar and educator and chief in the Division of Consular Reports under President Roosevelt, was stricken with apoplexy here last night while in the midst of an address before a large audience at the Opera House. He was removed to hospital. His condition is said to be critical.

Special to Evening Telegram. CORBEHEN, France, Nov. 5. Cornist Willows, the Italian Welshman, ascended in his dirigible airship at Wimbledon Scrubs, London, at 3.25 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a flight across the English Channel and on to Paris. He arrived here safely this morning, and after taking on a new supply of fuel he proceeded for Paris.

Special to Evening Telegram. BERLIN, Nov. 5. Emperor Nicholas hunted to-day in Emperor William's new game preserve near Cranienburg, six miles N. E. of Potsdam. A cordon of soldiers with foresters had been engaged for several days assembling 1,500 deer, hare and other four-footed game within an enclosure, and from which the animals were driven out to-day past a line of platforms concealed by pine bushes and upon which the Royal party and 22 other hunters had taken positions ready for the killing. Emperor Nicholas was permitted the first shot. Early to-day the forest was thoroughly searched by troops to make sure it contained no one whose presence was unauthorized.

Special to Evening Telegram. HAVANA, Nov. 5. The returns from the elections held in the island last Tuesday are still incomplete. Nothing like actual figures from many provinces have been received, and because of the law on proportional representation it will be impossible to announce even a proximate result until the votes are counted. The Conservatives still claim to have won in Oriente and Camaguey Provinces, and the Liberals in Pinar del Rio, Santa Clara, in Havana Provinces. It is believed the Conservatives have elected four Congressmen, and the Liberals five, while three seats are still doubtful. The probability is that there will be little change in the makeup of Congress. The Independents made a poor showing in the election.

Arctic Hunt Scenes In Moving Pictures.

Paul Rainey at Big Dinner Shows Films Made in Recent Trip to the North.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Moving pictures of an Arctic big game hunt, the first ever shown, were displayed last night when Paul Rainey introduced a vivid representation of the experiences he had encountered on his recent trip to the frozen north at a dinner given at No. 5 East Thirty-sixth street by Seward Prosser to thirty-two friends. Mr. Rainey went on the journey on board the Bostic, which he had chartered, and Harry Whitney, who had been on a previous expedition, accompanied him.

The pictures were explained as they were flashed on the screen by Capt. Robert Bartlett, who had been with Mr. Peary in the quest of the North Pole. Among the pictures were the slaying of a giant polar bear, the capture of musk oxen, the hunting of the walrus and the feats of the Eskimo in harpooning.

No other expedition in the interest solely of sport has ever gone so far to the northward. Mr. Rainey plans to deliver several lectures this winter to social clubs to which he belongs.

A Prophetic Jewel.

Peculiar Ring That Was Owned by Marquise du Barry.

Marquise du Barry whose lovely head fell into the basket beneath the guillotine in explanation of her levity, extravagance and folly, had in her possession a stone of which the Paris jewelers were unable to tell the precise nature.

There appeared upon it below the surface and as if under water an outline of a picture containing human figures. Strange to relate, when first the gem was given to its afterward unfortunate possessor this outline was not clear, but after it had been some months in her possession it grew more vivid.

One day the negro servant boy, Larmor, who was afterward instrumental from revenge in the downfall of the Du Barry, declared, looking at the jewel, that he could decipher the figure of a woman with disheveled hair leaning before a scaffold and surrounded by a crowd, while beside her stood the executioner.

A strange but authenticated circumstance is that the negro servant boy precisely described the guillotine. Dr. Giffill had not then invented his celebrated instrument of death, nor had the horrors of the revolution begun.

Snatching the jewel from the hand of the servant, M. du Barry examined it, saw the kneeling woman, the angry crowd, the death knife falling and, with a cry of agony, fell senseless to the floor.

When Pa Begins to Snore!

My pa's got somethin' in his nose that's fassened there to stay. That all the neighbors wishes he would lose or give away. Some sort of 'bellerin' affair like bulls has in their throats. Or like a big ban's horn, except it never plays no notes. Ma says it's sleepin' on his back, he says it is katarr. But you can bet your bloomin' life whatever it may be, It's there for doin' bizness, an' does it to for sure. As all the neighborhood kin tell when when pa begins to snore!

Ma says if she'd 'a ever knowned that he was sich a fright. A'tryin' to skeer the livin' out an' rise the dead of night. She'd never have consented for to be his lovin' wife. And share his sorrens an' his joys an' lead a sleepless life. It's hard on me the same as her, fur when I git asleep. An' dreamin' I'm a hunter bold out in the forest, deep. I feel my hair a-risin' up to hear a lion roar. An' then wake up in fright to hear it's pa begun to snore!

Ma says that some day when we git to Heaven afterwhile, Where every prospect's goin' to please an' only man be vile, If people there is just the same as people here below, She can't imagine how she's goin' to bear the load o' woe! She thinks that at the usual time up there amongst the blest, The angels'll be broken o' their sweet celestial rest. An' wish he'd never been redeemed.

Mr. T. A. Hall returned from York Harbor by train to-day.
