Household Notes.

Meringue should be cooked long and slowly.
Cranberry syrup diluted makes a refreshing drink.
Roast turkey is delicious with chestnut stuffing.
After-dinner coffee should be made double strength.

Coffee for the percolator should be ground very finely.
A little minced onion improves the flavor of pea croquettes.
Roll a little grated cheese into the crust of your pumpkin pie.
Garnish clam broth with whipped cream and a dash of paprika.
Before putting on the top crust of your apple pie, add a few cut dates.
The combination is delicious.

SCHOOL BOOKS.

Our stock is again complete with the following:
Siepmann's Primary French Course—Parts 1 & 2.
Meiklejohn's Shorter History of England.
McMillan's Shorter Latin Course—Parts 1 & 2.
Shilling's Arithmetic—With and without answers.
Outlines of English Grammar by Newfield.
Hall and Stevens' Geometry
Send along your orders for School Books to

GARRETT BYRNE,
Bookseller & Stationer.

Add ½ cup raisins and ½ cup chopped walnuts to cranberry pie.
From old silk shirts one can make bases for storing white hats.
If table napkins are initiated, the points are turned toward the forks.
The flavor of your coffee will be better if you use it freshly ground.
Use 3 teaspoonsful of tea to every 2 cupsful of boiling water.
Instead of plain pork cook a little sausage with your baked beans.

Rotary Club Inaugurated

Board of Governors Elected—Congratulatory Telegrams Received.

The inauguration of a Rotary Club in St. John's took place at the Green Lantern Restaurant, Theatre Hill, last night, following a dinner at which some 30 guests (Charter Members) were present. Each delegate represented a different calling with the sole exception of the press, each local daily having a representative present, these being Editors Currie (News) Mews (Advocate) James (Telegram), District Governor R. O. Patterson of the Maritime Provinces, who came here to assist in the inauguration, presided. Before the proceedings began all stood and joined in the singing of "Newfoundland," the famous ode of Sir Cavendish Boyle. An excellent report was then taken from St. choruses from the Rotary Song Book enlivening the proceedings. After dinner had been fully discussed, the sound of the gavel called the meeting to order, and following the roll call, reports of the various organizing committees were received and adopted, and a resolution of affiliation with the International Association of Rotary Clubs enthusiastically carried. The following Board of Governors was then elected:—Messrs. H. E. Cowan, C. E. Hunt, J. McKay, J. S. Ayre, Dr. Mitchell, R. F. Horwood, Reg. Harvey, Hon. S. Milley and Dr. V. P. Burke, and from these the officers for the ensuing year were selected as follows:—President, H. E. Cowan; Vice President, C. E. Hunt; Sergeant at Arms, J. S. Ayre; Secretary, V. P. Burke and Treasurer, Reg. Harvey. After a brief word of thanks from the first Rotary President of Newfoundland, the newly elected Sergeant of Arms was installed and received his implement of office—a sealing gaff—at the hands of Rotarian Montgomery, who was most happy and witty in his remarks. In declaring the Rotary Club of St. John's duly constituted, District Governor Patterson delivered a splendid address, in the course of which he expressed his pleasure at having been privileged to declare this new club duly constituted. He explained the principles of Rotary and related many interesting anecdotes to illustrate them. He laid stress upon the fact that attendance has been termed the price of membership in Rotary and said it was the barometer by which is judged the efficiency of the club. He also stated that Newfoundland is the twenty-fifth country in which Rotary has been established. After Mr. Patterson had concluded, the following congratulatory telegram was read by the President:

COPIES OF TELEGRAMS TO NEWLY INCORPORATED ROTARY CLUB OF ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND.

From Rotary International Headquarters, Chicago.—In the name of the Rotary Club already established in twenty-five countries, I cordially welcome the Rotary Club of St. John's, Newfoundland as a new club from a new country. May the St. John's Rotarians find true happiness in the exemplification of Rotary and the new Club become a tower of strength in Number One District.—CHESLEY R. PERRY, Sec'y-General.

From Halifax Rotary Club.—Heartiest congratulations on the inauguration of Rotary in Newfoundland. All our fellows join in extending to your Club warmest Rotary Greetings and heartiest wishes for genuine success. I believe Rotary will mean more to either of us than any other closer relationship between our cities and a better understanding and more cordial good fellowship among our citizens. We are delighted to welcome you.—J. LAYTON RALSTON, K.C., President.

From St. John, N.B. Rotary Club.—St. John Club sends greetings and best wishes to the Baby Rotary Club in District Number One.—H. L. SPANGLER, President.

From Sydney Rotary Club.—Sydney Rotary Club rejoices to welcome men of St. John's into the fellowship and service of Rotary. We have no finer members than our Rotarians of Newfoundland birth, Gower McKay and Val Merchant, and knowing them we know that the St. John's Club will be enthusiastic, earnest and a tower of strength to the whole of Rotary. We look forward to opportunities of greeting St. John's Rotarians at our meetings here.—ARTHUR S. BURCHILL, Secretary.

From St. Stephen, N.B. Rotary Club.—St. Stephen Milltown Rotary Club extends hearty welcome to Rotary to St. John's Newfoundland Club. J. M. FLEWELLING, Secretary.

From Charlottetown, P.E.I. Rotary Club.—Kindly convey greetings of the Charlottetown Rotary Club to the newly affiliated St. John's Club. We heartily welcome Ancient Colony into the fellowship of Rotary and look forward with pleasure to more intimate relations at the March Conference in Montreal.—J. A. CLARKE, President.

Congratulatory addresses were made by Rotarians Gower McKay, of Sydney, Harvey Smith and C. F. Bond, of Halifax, after which the proceedings were terminated. From the enthusiasm which abounded at the inauguration it seems fairly evident that Rotary in Newfoundland is in for a successful career. To-morrow the directors will meet at the Green Lantern at 1:15 p.m. and on Tuesday next the first general luncheon for members will take place.

M. J. O'BRIEN.

O'Brien wishes to say right here, at the commencement of his remarks to-night, that he agrees in every point with the papers editorial of last night regarding a cleaner city. Our water supply is unlimited, therefore, more flushing of those drains, which carry so many germs of pestilence, must be insisted upon, more disinfectant placed in the hoppers, and the hose must be pointed more often to rout those evil accumulations of filth. Water Street is now in need of not less than eight or ten men, properly uniformed in a distinguishing color of overalls, to be given each a section with a broom, shovel and scraper for which they would be daily responsible in keeping clean, by collecting the droppings and filth that is constantly in the making, and which should be deposited, in proper receptacles, that could be provided in the Coves. O'Brien believes a great deal more benefit would be got out of the money spent in snow shoveling every year if the work was given out on contract to the lowest tender received, say for a given portion, this would do away with the wasteful system now tolerated, and would also allow the regular staff to attend to their other, no less important, duties of keeping the gutters, traps, and storm sewers open, which now they have to perform neglect with the result that all the streets are rep and torn by overflowing freshets bringing down with them floods of water, tons of gravel and filth, eventually finding a resting place in the lower streets, which materially assists in choking the gutters of that section. O'Brien assures every citizen that he will fight hard to have New Gower Street improved by some means of paving, and at least he hopes to see the sidewalks paved on that busy thoroughfare even if he has, should he be honored with election, to call for a public subscription to accomplish it. The mud, the pedestrians get so exasperated brushing off their clothes, gathered in traversing this street, not to speak of what germs of disease they bring in their shoes, would prompt every sensible man to dig down in his jeans and give a donation for this purpose, much more cheerfully than for one to enlighten the benighted heathen, whose cities can laugh us to shame for those utilities, and we should remember "charity begins at home first," more especially so where the health and comfort of our fellow citizens is at stake. O'Brien advances the opinion of one of the fair sex on the board, considering they have eleven hundred sisters who have a vote, he believes many a good suggestion would be put forward for the advantage of our citizens. The children of our city, who already call him "the children's friend" and say he is the only candidate who has given them a thought so far in the contest, would like, in a lady councillor, a strong advocate to relieve the evils that now prevail and which men cannot, at all times in a becoming manner, approach the opposite sex upon; her advice could be given to many a mother in matters of hygiene and civic affairs, who innocently violate the ordinance of the city's laws. In conclusion to our remarks to-night, O'Brien desires to have every voter vote, he is not allied with any particular candidates who might become affiliated. He is placing the planks of his platform before the public every night for their debate, consideration, judgment and approval. If you elect him he will strive to obtain those measures, which must, however, have the co-operation of the full board if they are to be brought in force. You citizens who are now picking out the respective candidates for your choice, will of course bear in mind that your interests, your neighbors' interests, the community's interests will make you decide you shall mark One Vote for O'Brien.—adv.

Household Notes.

Add a drop of peppermint to the chocolate for devil's food cake.
A few blackberries mixed with thinly sliced apples make a good pie filling.
Arrange sliced peaches on cream pie and top with whipped cream.
Cover a hot cake with cut marshmallows and pour over them fudge frosting.
Little individual tarts are more attractive than plain pie and simpler to serve.
Spread a thin layer of bitter chocolate over the white icing of the chocolate cake.
Chocolate cake is especially delicious if flavored with a little cinnamon and clove.
Candy mints, candied cherries, ginger and orange peel are delightful tea accessories.
The best tea is made with a proportion of 3 teaspoon tea to every 2 cups of boiling water.
If you fry eggs in muffin tins, they will be perfectly round and much more attractive in appearance.
Tuck loops of narrow tape in your buffet drawers. Under separate loops place knives, forks, etc.
Tea should never be boiled. Pour boiling water over it and allow it to stand 5 minutes in a warm place.
If no paraffine is available, use a common modeling clay around the cork of a bottle. It seals perfectly.
Meringue may be varied if ½ cup chopped walnuts are added, and 1 cup jelly is used instead of sugar.
The same tea leaves should never be steeped a second time.
