Most Conspicuous Monument in Canada.
ON BANKS OF ST. LAWRENCE RIVER.
Quebec (Associated Press)—Commemorating the life and services of Abraham Martin, first pilot on the St. Lawrence, after whom the famous plains of Abraham are named a monument is to be erected by the C.P.R. on the wharf shore of the river just where all steamers passing by will note it in distinguished relief to all ensemble. The design has just been completed. The stone tablet plinth is crowned by a globe meshed in the thistles emblematic of Scotland, and below this is the emblem of La Belle France, the Fleur-de-Lis, itself meshed in the waves of world progress. All this is resting symmetrically upon a splendid foundation stone. A tablet reads:

This Monument
Recalls to the passer-by
Abraham Martin, called the Scot,
First King's Pilot
on the St. Lawrence, who tilted the land
on the illustrious plains
which bear his name.

Touching the personal history of Abraham Martin himself it may be noted, that he was descended from one of the famous Scot's Guards who adorned the palace of Louis XI, whose romance play an important part in Walter Scott's "Quentin Durward". The monument, which is being completed by the sculptor Hebert, will be unveiled sometime in May.

A Meat Inspector Needed

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—I would be exceedingly obliged if you would please publish in the columns of your widely circulated paper a few remarks in reference to the long felt want of a meat inspector. The Government should lose no time in having a qualified person to look after the meat supply as vended in this city. For the past twelve months there has been no one looking after this important matter, and it is a wonder that we have not been poisoned. How are the householders to know that the meat that is distributed by vendors and shopkeepers is properly killed? How are they to know whether the animals had been strangled or died of disease? How can we expect an inspector to know diseased cattle when he is not qualified for this particular work? It is bad enough, Mr. Editor, to have unwholesome meat sold, but when it is handled by vendors that are not clean themselves, or who have diseased faces or inflamed hands, it passes the bounds and would not be permitted in any other city outside of this. We have been told that a salary has been voted for a Meat Inspector, then why not make the appointment. Let the Government select a committee of old standards, those who have been in the trade all their life-time and empower them to select a man on his merit and knowledge. Is it not time for Hon. Dr. Campbell to wake up to the situation? This belongs to his department, and being an Executive member and a M.D., he should see to it that the health of the city is properly safeguarded. Trusting that some able pen than mine will take this matter up and urge the necessity of the immediate appointment of a Meat Inspector. I am,
Yours sincerely,
CITIZEN.

Memorial Billiards.

MASONS STILL LEAD.
The Masons, C.E.I. and B.I.S. were the winning teams in last night's play in the Memorial Billiard Tournament. The Masons are now leading as they have not lost a game for the series. The Star and B.I.S. are close seconds with 66.6 per cent each. J. Edwards (C.E.I.) had no difficulty in defeating W. Newbury (Guards) in the first game. He took the lead with a nice break of 31 and finished 104 ahead of his opponent. The game between E. Fox (Masons) and E. Myler (T.A.) was more interesting. Myler led by 8 at '99, but Fox soon picked up and won with a margin of 52. In the final game C. Merner (B.I.S.) defeated J. Hickey (K. of C.) by 41 points. For a time Hickey had a big lead, but Merner soon closed up and forged ahead. To-night the games will be: Guards vs. C.E.I. Saints vs. Guards. City vs. Masonic.

Communists on High Plane.

MOSCOW, (Associated Press)—The cleaning of the Communist party which rules Russia has resulted in the past two months in the expulsion of 5,813 members out of 41,500 members. In the case of legal offenses, the Chaka (police) agents make a severe distinction between Communists and non-Communists, the former being often held to strict account on the ground that as a Communist his code should be higher.

California Co-Operation Applicable to Ontario.

In California we had at least ten failures in co-operation to one success before we discovered the proper system. The earlier mistakes were caused by our trying to maintain co-operation in local groups. Light came when we discovered that same marketing depends upon organizing by commodity and not by locality. When this principle was grasped, we commenced to federate the local associations. The 80,000 farmers of California who profited by that lesson and by that change of system, are now the most prosperous farmers in the United States. Instead of dumping their products on the markets in competition against each other, they now are merchandising their crops collectively and efficiently. Briefly, the various steps in merchandising farm crops are followed in this manner:

1. Grade, inspect and improve the quality.
2. Adopt a package that will stand shipping and that will sell the goods.
3. Extend the marketing period, both as to time and place.
4. Centralize control, not only of production and selling, but also of crop movement and supply at point of consumption.

California has followed that system with all kinds of crops, with cheese, eggs and other products of the farm. The system has not only increased the wealth of the people, but it has improved living conditions in the farm home and in the community. Although successful beyond the expectations of even the most enthusiastic dreamers of only a few years ago, we haven't done a thing in California which cannot be done in Ontario.

Women Old Age Pensioners in London.

LONDON, (Associated Press)—More than 72,000 persons in London are dependent on the old age allowance, according to figures just announced. In addition about 10,000 septuagenarians are in workhouses or hospitals, receiving free medical treatment and clothing, or under the care of the guardians. More than two-thirds of the old-age pensioners are women.

The totals show a considerable decrease over 1914, although there is a marked increase in the number of women. A maximum of 10 shillings weekly is granted under the pensions act. The minimum is one shilling a week. An income of £50 a year disqualifies from the pension benefits. Few, if any, destitute people are nowadays allowed to spend the night in the open. From 1914, when hundreds of homeless Londoners slept nightly on staircases and under arches, the figure has declined to an odd case here and there.
