

For City Boys

SCOTTISH TRAINING FARM
OPENED—INFLUENTIAL GATHERING.

Thirty boys, saved from demoralizing conditions in our Scottish cities, have been helped during the past year by the agency of the Craigellach farm scheme to embark on a new life on the land in the Colonies.

The farm, which is situated on Glenelg, near Paisley, was formally opened by Sir Hugh Shaw-Stewart. It has, however, been in use as a training institution for almost twelve months, and in all about 160 boys have been admitted to it.

Of these 40 failed to stick to the training, a few others failed to qualify physically for overseas work and were placed in home situations; while the 20 boys are still in course of training.

£2000 Spent.

The organizers of the scheme are making a public appeal with the view of procuring the capital expenditure upon it and of securing a financial condition in the unimpaired.

One of the promoters, Dr. Cassar, has been carrying on notable social work among poor boys in the city of Glasgow.

The Council who are administering the scheme were encouraged by the demonstration of public sympathy with the work at Saturday's opening of the farm. There was an influential gathering at it, and many communications were received from those unable to attend.

The scheme is evidently one which has the goodwill of the philanthropists, and as it is of Scottish-wide scope, designed to rescue boys in all cities from imminent perils of bad environment, there should be little doubt in the Council realizing their aim of liquidating the capital expenditure of about £2000.

Nickel Vocalists in
Farewell NumbersNICKEL PERFORMANCE TO-NIGHT'S SHOW.

Last night a large and appreciative audience attended the Nickel Theatre to hear the farewell selections of these Armstrong and Loring whose return to please have been abundantly repaid by the high tributes paid them on all sides. Whilst these are the farewell numbers, they do not mark the end of their career, until after their performance.

The Armstrongs' renditions of "The Fashioned House" and "My Darling" were such a success that the audience, as she pours forth her songs in such a manner that she has instant admiration. The general effect of Miss Loring's singing was as ever, wholly beautiful and her renditions of "Good-bye" and "When You Come Home" evidenced the technique of an artist of unusual calibre. The duet "O Dry Those Tears" was indeed delivered masterfully, there being a beautiful blending and harmony that won the general applause of the audience.

The film attraction was an equally good item consisting of a Metro class entitled "The Infamous Miss Mervel" a powerful social dramatic starring by Dallas Fitzgerald with a cast headed by Alice Lake.

Motor Association

Meeting

LECTURE BY PROFESSOR DAVIES.

At a special meeting of the Motor Association held yesterday at the West End Restaurant a very interesting address on Fire Protection in connection with gasoline was delivered by Mr. D. J. Davies, B.Sc., President of E. R. Watson, who occupied the chair, introduced the speaker. Mr. Davies emphasized the necessity of exercising precaution with empty gasoline drums as owing to the danger which they possibly may contain an explosion would follow should they come in contact with a lighted match or cigarette, etc. The speaker also pointed out the danger from waste and oil clogs that may be thrown about carelessly in the streets, and in conclusion he put forward as a good motto for car owners the words: "Quench the spark or you may dread the fire," the "Despise the waste or you may dread the explosion." On motion of Mr. D. M. Moore and Mr. F. W. Ayres a hearty vote of thanks was recorded. Mr. Davies.

"The Fast Mail" Exciting Photoplay

CONTINUATION OF THRILLS IN FOX MELODRAMA, ADAPTED FROM STAGE SUCCESS.

"The Fast Mail," a William Fox production adapted from Lincoln J. Carter's stage melodrama and directed by Bernard J. Burnings, was presented yesterday at the Majestic Theatre. Fox melodramas certainly provide the thrills. "The Fast Mail," brushes aside the logical development of a story and just goes after keeping you quiver in tingling fashion. It succeeds, for it simply explodes with excitement, literally in one episode.

The story of the villain who conspires to win a Mississippi state-chase by foul means and to capture a Southern belle in the same way keeps the spectator breathing fast almost from the first moment. The fast mail train itself appears in the picture only as an incident, but the photoplay travels with enough speed to make one feel one is on a through express all the way.

Miss Kathryn Gullivan added fresh laurels in her splendid singing of "Because" and "Carolina Mammy" to which she gave beautiful interpretation. Miss Gullivan's operatic work of the past two years has proved an invaluable asset to her voice. Her hearers last night were of one mind as they applauded heartily.
