"The Least Hair Casts a Shadow."

A single drop of poison blood will, unless checked in time, make the whole impure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great leader in blood purifiers. It casts no shadow, but brings sun-shine and health into every household. Running Sore—"My mother was troubled with rheumatism in her knee for a number of years, and it broke out into a running sore. She took three bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is now well. Hood's Olive Cintment helped to heal the cruption." Mrs. John Farr, Cloverlawns, Ancaster, Ont.

Rheumatism—"I was badly afflicted with sciatic rheumatism. Consulted doctors without relief. Was persuaded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, and five bottles gave me relief and enabled me to go to work." WILLIAM R. ROACH, Margaretville, N. S.

SCHOOL BOARD VS. COUNCIL

Action Being Tried at Non-Jury Sittings.

Fall Assizes Opened Before Mr. Justice Meredith-Nine Cases on the List.

The non-jury sittings of the fall assizes opened at the court house this morning before Mr. Justice R. M. dairy, 16c to 25c. Cheeke stead, September fancy, 10%c; small, September fancy, 11c; large, October fancy, 10%c; small, September fancy, 10%c; s Meredith. The list of cases set down ally entered, that of Fitzgerald vs. Morden, to decide the authenticity of assizes by order of the count in Toroncase taken up, that of the board of education against the city coincil to compel the latter to pay over the whole of certain sums asked for in the yearly estimates of the former, and the last case on the list, that of Saunby vs. the water commissioners, asking for an injunction against the operation of the Springbank waterworks dam.

In the case of the board of education vs. the council, Mr. Hellmuth, solicitor for the board, after briefly reviewing the case from the board's standpoint, put in as evidence a quantity of correspondence between the two bodies. No witnesses were called for the board, and the case rested on the exhibits produced. Early in the year the council requested the board to sulomit its estimates for the current year. This the board did, including in their estimate the sum of $17,400 for repairs, making their figures for this liminary observations, read the follow-year somewhat in excess of the sum ing address: ordinarily asked for. The council refused | Hon. George W. Ross, LL.D., Premier to grant the board the whole sum, but struck off one mill, making a decrease of $15,340. This decrease ent suit is the outcome. . Hellmuth announcing the board in bringing suit was to secure this money for the current year, or was it to lay a basis for action in fu-Mr. Hellmuth replied that the board's object was the securing of the money, though it hoped that a principle would be faid down for future years.

For the city the first witness called was D. W. Blackwell, a member of the board, who, throughout has opposed the board, both in its request for the ncreased estimates and in its entering suit. To Mr. Meredith the witness said that he considered the item of $17,400 for repairs was exorbitant, and that he never knew the board in previous years to require over $3,500 for this purpose. He considered the request for $17,400 for repairs merely a bluff to induce the council to raise $30,000 by debentures for new school

Mr. Hellmuth subjected Mr. Blackwell to a long cross-examination. Witness said he was appointed on the board by the city council and was therefore the nominee of the defen-Mr. Blackwell, said he had, with Mr. Wilkins, opposed the board's action throughout. Mr. Blackwell told at length of the committee meetings at which the estimates were prepared and discussed.

Trustee Gillean was next called. He agreed with Mr. Blackwell that the board's request was a bluff. He had been in favor of and voted for the entering of the action against the council, but had since changed his pinion as to the advisability of the suit. Even if the board obtained the money now it could not be expended this year. He considered the sum unnecessary, as the average yearly expenditure of $3,000 to $4,000 had been sufficient to maintain the schools in a fair state of repair.

At the conclusion of Mr. Gillean's tes timony, Mr. Justice Meredith asked if the parties to the suit could not get together and arrange some basis of equitable settlement, instead of pro-ceeding with the litigation, as, no matter how it was decided, it meant expense for the ratepayers. He asked if the matter could not be decided by referring it to the ratepayers for decision as to whether the amount should be expended or not. The people, who pay the money, should have a voice in its expenditure. He had no doubt both parties had acted in good faith, terests of the ratepayers, of whose rights they were the trustees. Counsel for both bodies expressed themselves as willing to confer with their clients and try to arrange a set-tlement. The case was accordingly adjourned till 1 o'clock. The case of McKenna vs. Day, a suit to prove a codicil to a will, was next taken up.

They also wish at the same time to give some tangible proof of their earnest and unswerving loyalty to you as their leader, and of their high esteem and admiration for Mrs. Ross, who, while proving a model wife and helpmeet, has also endeared herself by unfailing kindness of heart, tact and courtesy to your many followers. We recall the fact that before you entered the legislature you rendered great service to the Liberal party as a member of the House of Commons. Your keenness and eloquence in debate won for you a foremost place in the parliament at Ottawa. In the Ontario Legislature you held a commanding position from the time you entered it. Your opponents and your followers alike have at all times acknowledged your devotion to duty, your tact in administration and your skill in leadership. It will always be remembered to your credit and honor that you have unfailingly and uncompromisingly resisted all attempts to divide our people on lines of race or creed, and that your ideal has ever been a united Canada. We confidently expect further victories for the Liberal party under your prudent and vigorous leadership.

In conclusion, we ask of you to accept from us for yourself and Mrs.Ross this cabinet of silverware, and we earnestly hope that many anniversaries of your wedding may await both you and M. Gloson, R. Harcourt, John differed with me politically, whilst in | Mrs. Ross bears the following inscriprespect of those allied with me it has tion: been an unbroken career of warm at-tachments and generous confidence and helpfulness far beyond what I believe my abilities or my services entitled me to expect. Indeed, so cordial and selfdenying has this confidence apparently become that my followers in the legislature appear to regard themselves as the special guardians of my good name, and my colleagues in the government as the custodians of my personal and political honor. Under such circumstances it is easy to fill the place which has been assigned to me in the Liberal party, and which you are good enough to say is strengthened by personal as well as political ties. Let it be understood, however, that the happy event which a kind Providence has enabled Mrs. Ross and myself this day to comme norate has been by no means the least important circumstance in attaining that measure of success to which you have so kindly referred. You will pardon me if I do not attempt to reply to the many pleasant references you have made to my political history. One remark, however, I cannot overlook. You say: "You have unfailingly anduncompromisingly resisted and attempts to divide our people on lines of race and creed, and that your ideal has ever been a united Canada." Allow me to say that you have aptly expressed one of the cardinal articles of my political creed. As there is no room on this continent for two Canadas, so there is no room in Canada for two races, and as everybody has perfect liberty of conscience

there is no room for any creed to claim

Confederation made us one country, as the revolutionary war made the United States one republic. If, with all their diversity of race and creed, the people of the United States call themselves Americans, without any qualification as to origin, why should not we call ourselves Canadian, without any qualifications as to origin? Do we so despise our heritage as to be ashamed of its claim to a distinctive national title? Are we to rest our claims forever for distinction upon ancestral blood and lineage, or shall we add to the heraldry of a new century a name which, for honor, enterprise and virtue, shall be as distinguished as any name with which its pages are now adorned? Although we have not yet attained an ideal unity, may I hope, as Mr. John Bright used to say of Mr. Gladstone. "that we are struggling towards the light," and that before the new century has cast off its swaddlingclothes we shall have swept into the wider day of national unity.

In conclusion, let me say that neither Mrs. Ross nor myself shal lever forget kindness towards us as we tarried for an hour at the twenty-fifth milestone of our married life. The cabinet presented to Mr. and planing mill to suspend operations

"Presented to the Hon. George W. Ross. LL.D., Premier of Ontario. and Mrs. Ross, the 17th day of November. 1900. being the 25th anniversary of their marriage, by his colleagues in the government and followers in the legislature." The receptacle contains fifteen dozen pieces of solid silver, and is made from the finest quarter-cut oak. with silver-plated handles and other mountings. It was obtained from the establishment of Messrs. Ryrie and is said to be one of the finest yet produced in the country.

FISTIC. WALCOTT'S CHALLENGE TO COR-BET.

New York, Nov. 18 .- Although Jim Corbett seems to have much difficulty in arranging a contest, and the heavies appear to avoid him, yet he need not go without a fight, as the following challenge published by a morning pa-

"Seeing that all the bi gfellows have hid behind Jefferies, with the exception of James J. Corbett, who is out of work and still looking for fight, and as he, like many past champions, has not drawn the color line. I will post $5,000 on behalf of Joe Walcott to box James J. Corbett any number of rounds from twenty up that the club will allow. Trusting that Mr. Corbett will gratify Mr. Walcott's wish, I am, yours sincerely, Tom O'Rourke.'

NOTES. The Nonpariel Club of Louisville has made offers for the Sharkey-Jeffries and Ruhlin-Jefferies contests. Terry McGovern has declared his willingness to box "Kid" Broad and Benny Younger in the same ring. Jimmw Smith, the crack little 115-pounder, Toronto, is in fine form just now. He is anxious to get on a match with "Kid" McFadden, Clarence Forbes, or any boxer in his class. A bout between Jack Daly, of Wil-mington, and "Kid" Lavigne is spoken The pair may meet in Chicago within two weeks in a six-round combat. Daly and Lavigne fought a 20 round draw in Cleveland several years

Choynski will be unable to keep the engagement to box Joe Walcott at Chicago on Nov. 27. At one time it was expected that the injury t Choynski's hands, sustained in th fight with Fred Russell, would head sufficiently to enable him to fight, but the injury needs more time to complete recovery.
