malways a consistent place winner in the big tournaments—National open, Metropolitan open, and sectional tournaments. Famed for his accuracy and steadiness under fire.

The simplest method of producing a hook is by turning the right toe out—away from the ball. Turning it in will produce a slice. Gripping with the left hand pushed over to the right will also cause a hook. Gripping with the left hand under the shaft will cause a slice. Advancing the left foot will have a tendency to produce a hook also. Advancing the right foot will result in a slice. But the race also ran.
