TOO much weight in an automobile means low mile-little weight means wasted power. The Chevrolet Fredericton, N. B.—An immense demand has been made that a thorough investigation of the possibilities of harnessing the tides at the head of the Bay of Fundy, as a power development proposition, be made. It is believed that with the help of the railways the project could be carried out successfully, and some investigation work has been undertaken.

THE HISTORY OF BATTLEFORD

It is only of recent years, since the opening of the country by the railroads and the discovery of its wonderful possibilities, that Western Canada has found its way into the histories of the world. The stories of the early settlers who penetrated an almost unknown land full of hope but of uncertainty of the future, the Indian troubles, the proving of the fertility and productivity of Western soil, the transition of the prairie from its primitive wildness to the huge productive grain areas supplying the granaries of the world—all these are almost too near our own epoch to yet be history. Yet there are certain localities which constitute landmarks in the glowing story of Western progress, names already fragrant with historical aroma, blending the romance of early settlement with the bustle of modern industry and agricultural progress.
The Battleford district is one of these.

The city of Battleford, beautifully situated where the Battle river and mighty Saskatchewan converge, was one of the earliest of Western settlements—a thriving little community in the era before the railroads. It linked up Winnipeg with Calgary and MacLeod on the main trail which led through what are now the prairie provinces. In 1878 it was made the seat of the North West Territories Government and Parliament continued to meet there until the penetration of the Canadian Pacific Railway further south and the consequent attraction of settlers along its tracks caused it to relinquish this honor in favor of the more conveniently situated town of Regina. Its name occurs frequently in the tales of early western settlement and the Battleford district was the scene of many bloody encounters between pioneers and Indians. At the barricades of the town the Indian Chief Fountainhead surrendered to General Middleton on May 25th, 1886, virtually closing the chapter of Canada's Indian wars.

It is in this historic district, that one of the last blocks of land owned by the C.P.R. is just becoming available for settlement. It is a beautiful park area of picturesque shadgroves, rolling upland and luxuriant meadows. The country is admirably suited to mixed farming and the livestock industry, for its rolling slopes produce fine hay, and its clumps of trees, whilst offering no serious obstacles to grain growing, afford shade, in the summer and shelter in the winter. The soil is a rich chocolate loam with a clay subsoil ensuring a conservation of these ingredients which make for rapid and hardy growth. Wheat is grown extensively and successfully as well as other cereal crops. Every phase of agriculture in fact, has been successfully carried on. Poultry raising, market gardening, and vegetable growing flourish, whilst there is the better dairying locality in the Western provinces.
