THE MONTREAL BOOK TRADE.

BOOKS on outdoor life and bird and animal life are now selling ahead of almost every other kind of book, and there is as yet no end to the making of them. One of the latest plant studies is by Fannie D. Bergen. It is a small book called "Glances at the Plant World," and sells for 60c. Nature studies of all sorts are going well, being taken for summer reading in the country.

Several novels have come out lately which are worthy of mention, though "Lady Rose's Daughter" continues to lead all in point of sales. Paper editions of several are on sale, among the most popular being "The Banner of Blue," by S. R. Crockett; "The Heir of Fairmount Grange," by Agnes M. Macfar; "Mam Tanager's Wife," by J. H. Yoxall; "Barbary Lee," by John Bennett; "Gordon Keith," by T. Nelson Page, and others. F. Marion Crawford's latest story, "Man Overboard," is selling well. Another book on seeing Montreal, by Anson Gard, who now calls himself the wandering Yankee, is out. It is smaller than his two previous books, on sight-seeing in Canada, but is as rich in humor as the others. The Scotch edition of "Wee Macgregor" is now selling. This book shows "Macgregor" with the red tassel in his bonnet.

The 50c edition of "The Letters of a Self-Made Merchant to his Son," is now out and meets with a ready sale. "John Percyfield," by C. Hanford Henderson, is also in the "best selling" list.

A remarkably cheap book is a new volume of Carlyle's "French Revolution." It contains the three volumes of that work complete under one cover, well illustrated, and sells for 50c. There is a good demand for it of course. Ward, Lock & Co. are the publishers.

The legends connected with it and like matter of interest.

"The Royal Tour in Canada," has been written by Joseph Pope, C.M.G., who had the best of opportunities to witness the various state functions and the interesting incidents in connection with the visit to this country of the Duke and Duchess of York. The book is not only an accurate record of the Royal tour, but is most readable as well. A number of illustrations are included in the book, the Royal party at Government House, Toronto, at Place d'Armes, Montreal, and in other principal cities.
