CHARLES AUSTIN BATES

Vanderbilt Building, New York.

"Mr. Bates' Masterpiece. It is interestingly and readably written—more readable than one would believe possible on so hackneyed a subject as advertising—and it is illustrated by pictures intended to lend a humorous turn to many of the sentences in the text. For those who want a general idea of advertising principles, the book will be found valuable, and even the readers to whom its subject is more than familiar will find it an interesting companion for a leisure hour. It is full of apothegms, every one of which rings with a true note."

—Geo. P. Rowell.

Do You Ever Have Occasion To Use a Legal Directory?

Forty-two law firms who jointly forward over two hundred and fifty thousand items of business to their legal correspondents annually, and who are necessarily posted as to the best attorneys to use at a distance, communicate to a central office constantly their experience with their various correspondents, and from this information is compiled monthly the directory which they use. That such a list is superior to one compiled in the ordinary way and published annually or semi-annually, goes without saying. Each issue contains, in addition to the legal list, a complete Bank Directory, the collection laws of the various States, tabulated besides a good deal of general information of value to lawyers and credit men.

The directory (complete each month—no supplements) can be obtained for Five Dollars per annum by addressing
