

Part Eight Final Provisions

Chapter Twenty-One: Final Provisions

In Articles 2101 and 2102, the two governments agree to exchange the necessary statistical information and to publish all necessary information to facilitate implementation and administration of the agreement. This Chapter provides for annexes and amendments and the duration and entry into force of the agreement. The agreement will remain in effect indeterminately. Due to a provision in the U.S. fast-track approval procedures, any agreement brought forward under its provisions must contain a six-month termination clause.
