

Canada. Often in this work of sending out-British Graduates to the States I have hoped for a loose talk with you on the whole question.

A short-note in the Times in the other day told of a resignation from an important office in Montreal and this development - has, I trust, relieved you of a brief anxiety. This is merely a chat, which requires no answer, and a message of good-will to you all.

Ever sincerely

J. B. Francis.