

strong. ad. use those which when they stand up alone must show the case of the noun.

—34—

Prose Exercises based on "Die Lügnerin."

Erster Auftritt.

1. They are busied with their work. 2. She persists in her wish. 3. Your reasons beat mine. 4. He does not meet other young people, as far as I know. 5. If you were my friend, you might lay claim to my assistance. 6. When reason and sentiment are at variance, the latter usually has the best of it. 7. She is constantly referring to her husband. 8. What answers must I give your questions? 9. The view on the street will, in the long run, be very tiresome. 10. This man is prominent in political gatherings. 11. If I yield, I will be relegated to a subordinate position.

Zweiter Auftritt.

1. Back here, facing the garden, we cannot hear the general (beat of the drum) that is being struck up. 2. I am always master of myself. 3. We get accustomed to anything that continues long enough. 4. There is not a quiet spot on the whole earth. 5. Blood had been shed; I saw it and shuddered at (the sight of) it. 6. Look at this letter and tell me if it has come by mail. 7. Break in the windows if you see any light. 8. I shall not return for five weeks. 9. Value yourself a little more. 10. Put the letter on the table and go to the window.

Dritter Auftritt.

1. We will not hurt you; you need not be afraid. 2. Do listen to reason? 3. They are coming up through the window. 4. Where have we landed? 5. I should have suspected that. 6. Will you ever pardon me for that? 7. A word from you will solve the riddle. 8. We succeeded in escaping. 9. We will leave you because we are causing you uneasiness. 10.