Bring Colonies to British Councils Lay the Foundation of Empire Now Mix Organization With Sentiment

Declares That the Maintenance of the Empire Depends on Fiscal Reform.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, July 8.-Mr. Chamberlain parliament and 177 others at the Hotel Cecil to-night. The design of the nenu card showed a sketch of the two pheres showing the British emounded by the phrase "Preferential trade." Above the portrait of Mr. mberlain was the motto "Je tiens

Mr. Chamberlain, who was franticalcheered, said he was a fiscal reformbecause he was an imperialist. On that reform depended the maintenance of the British empire. His belief in of the British empire. His belief in free trade was shaken two years before when at the colonial office he learned how closely the question affected the empire. No other nation had to grap-ple with such an infinite variety of problems. The colonial administration of the early years of this century would determine the future of the British em-

Ex-G.O.C. Consents to Be Present in Massey Hall on Friday

An invitation was last night forwarded to Lord Dundonald, asking him if he can attend a public reception to tendered by the citizens of Toronto I Massey Hall on Friday evening next. It is proposed to present Lord Dundon-ald with an illuminated address, and perhaps a further token of regard.

Later in the evening the following acceptance was received:

"Donald M. Robertson, secretary citizens' committee, Toronto acceptance was received:

"Donald M. Robertson, secretary citizens' committee, Toronto Club, Toronto:

"Feel highly honored at kind thought of the citizens of Toronto in desiring to present me with an address, and will have much pleasure in accepting it at Toronto on Friday evening next.

"(Signed) Dundonald."

At a meeting held yesterday in the Temple Building J. F. Ellis presided, and a resolution by Col. Davidson, seconded by Ald. S. A. Jones, was adopted that the general committee take such immediate steps as may be deemed necessary to arrange for such a presentation. Major D. M. Robertson, who acted as secretary, said that haste was necessary, as he understood that Lord Dundonald would be leaving for England week after next. In order to give a wider scope to the movement, on motion of H. C. Osborne and R. J. Christie, it was resolved that the committee be recommended "to co-operate withcommittees in any other municipalities in the furtherance of such general scheme as may seem desirable having for its object an expression from the whole people of Canada of the esteem in which the Earl of Dundonald is, held by Canadian citizens and of their hearty and grateful appreciation of his eminent and devoted services."

Movement Non-Political.

In discussing the form of testimonial, Mr. Ellis said the movement was non-

When the time arrived the Unionist party would pull together.

ON HIS BIRTHDAY.

London, July 8.—Joseph Chamberlain and today, on the anniversary of his birth, was the guest of 200 members of the heuse of commons in sympathy with his fiscal policy. In the course of a long speech, Mr. Chamberlain sald he had not wavered in his conviction that the policy he advocated was necessary in order to prevent the loss of British made and prestige. He said that the the said that

RECEPTION TO DUNDONALD WADE CHOSEN CHAIRMAN TO BUILD EASTERN SECTION OF G. T. P.

Way Cleared for Appointment Last Sunday—Fred Young Likely to Represent the West-Commissioners for Ontario and Quebec Not Yet Named.

Montreal, July 8.—(Special.)—It has leaked out here that F. B. Wade, M.P. for Annapolis, N.S., is to be chairman of the commission to build the eastern section of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

The government is finding some trouble in choosing from the long list of friends who would like to go on It was this question that brought Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Fielding hot haste to Montreal last Sunday by a special train. Their conference with Charles M Hays and two or three of Sir Wilfrid's Montreal advisers is understood to have cleared the way for the ap-pointment of Mr. Wade to the chair-manship of the commission, which

The commissioner from the west will be either Hon. Thomas Greenway or Fred Young, brother of Senator Finlay Young, the chances being in favor of the latter.

The government has not reached a decision as to the commissioners from Ontario and Quebec, but the Fletcher Bath Wade, M.P. for Annapolis, N. S., was born at Granville, Annapolis County, September 6, 1852. He was educated at Belle Isle and elected to the house of commons at the general election of 1900. He was one of the four members of parliament who took part in the unique political picnic at Alexandria on June 11. In The World's report of that political picnic at Alexandria on June 11. In The World's report of that picnic it was said that F. B. Wade added one more estimate to the many which have been made as to what the new road will cost the Dominion of Canada. He put it at $18,000,000. This sum, he said, was three millions less than it would have been if the company had been paid the ordinary subsidies. The Conservative position with regard to the ownership of the new road he declared to be utterly impossible to carry out, because to do so would be to question the honor of Canada. In his opinion, when the bill is passed the matter is settled. All the discussion you like, was his idea, all the effort you choose to make while the matter is before parliament, but once it has been disposed of by the representatives of the people there is nothing to do but carry out the bargain.

They Think He Should Quit and Give Younger Men a Chance

Bowmanville, July 8 .- (Special.) - The iberals of the newly-redistributed conituency of Durham are not all reiven to Robert Beith, M.P., at Newastle a week ago last Wednesday. There is a feeling abroad that Mr. Beith has had the honor long enough, and that it should be passed around among those who have fought the battles of iberalism in the ridings of East and Vest Durham for the past twenty-five years. Besides it was generally undertood that Mr. Beith had tired of parliastood that Mr. Beith had tired of parliamentary honors and was reported to have said that he would not accept the nomination if it were given to him. Now, however, it seems that he has changed his mind, and the change is thought to be due to the fact that the Liberal candidate, tho he may not be successful in the coming fight, will have a powerful lever to use to urge the government to make way for him in the senate. It is this hope that is thought to stir the heart of R. Beith, M.P., for it is conceded that the riding of Durham, with a nominal Conservative majority of 190, will not suddenly be turned to Liberalism.
