Don't Buy a Bill of Expense

A FTER all, the question of a good bicycle bargain is A answered by the slogan; "Don't buy a bill of expense." It costs money to put "Cleveland" quality into a bicycle --- If you buy a cheap wheel you are going to get a "bill of expense." It isn't the original cost that determines the value of the wheel; it's the cost of maintenance.

CLEVELAND

The cost of the "Cleveland" is a fraction when compared with the cost of keeping a cheap bicycle, also the "Cleveland" name-plate is worth a whole bushel of your ordinary guarantees--and the "Cleveland" name-plate is backed up by a legal guaran-
