UMPHS IN PICARDY

ption of French Advance orth of the Somme is a Feature.

IS, July 6.—The Anglo-French ve in Picardy has had another substantial progress, outstanding feature being the resumption of French advance north of the and the capture of German positions there.

plete preparations had been tudy in this section virtually red by the Germans, while the forces south of the river pull-level and got a thoro grip on ermans' second positions. was accomplished by the deof the Germans from the part they still held and the capture of their communications between the villages of Belloy and Belloy. The soldiers then emerged from their and dashed forward a good distance.

Germans' second positions had not been demolished by artillery, and the forces of the were unable to make a strong push except at the village of which had been strongly fortified. Here the attacking troops met fierce opposition. Each house was fiercely disputed, but at last the French, after a hard fighting the village was won as well as Monacu Farm to the west.

Important Capture.
French consider the capture of a considerable importance. commands the passage of the to Feuilleries already in their possession this assures a bond between corps on either side of the stream.

Germans are beginning to re-vigorously as reserves are particularly south of the Somme.
French advance there is intended. French critics expect Germans will concentrate all energies in defence of the village of Barleux and Villers-Cotteret. The former bars the route between the two plateaus while the French line from Barleux while the latter, a village of habitations, stands on the southeast of the two plateaus, three feet high, and takes the Valley of the Somme as far as the eye can see.

EDUCATION BOARD IN QUIET SESSION

Expected Discussion Did Not Materialize at Meeting
Last Night.

APPOINTED TEACHERS

Dr. Noble Protested Against Giving Positions to Eligible Men.

The expected did not happen at the board of education meeting last night, J. G. O'Donoghue's demand for an increased schedule of wages for plasters on school contracts was referred to the management committee for discussion and the expected debate on the future of the school inspectors to recommend Miss Daisy Dorrien of Bolton avenue school for promotion because of her religion did not materialize. Miss Dorrien, it was said, did not want promotion. So far as prejudice against her religion was concerned, Dr. Steele said he did not even know she was a Roman Catholic until she was passed over in the selection of directors.

Dr. Noble again protested against the appointment of men to military age to the teaching staff. When the recommendation to appoint seven male teachers was reached he said: "It is proposed to secure these men to teach "Safety First" to the children? They are all of military age, unmarried, and should get women teachers until the war is over."

Dr. Hunter characterized the trustees' attitude as unbecomingly country. The country was under the voluntary system of enlistment, he said; the board of education had no right to upon themselves to force men to go to the front.

Dr. Noble: "We are not forcing them to go to the front. Let these men do what they like, but don't bonus them to stay at home."

The report was adopted without resulting to a vote on the issue.
Dr. Noble raised the question of whether teachers on leave of absence for military service would be taken on the staff and given their salaries back immediately they returned from the front. He wanted it clearly understood that the day they reported back to the board their salaries should continue. The board agreed that this should be the understanding.

The board adjourned after a very peaceful session, not to meet again until September.

BRANTFORD, July 6.—The inland revenue returns for the past month totalled $8851.50, an increase of $1897 over the month of June last year, when the receipts were $7154.44.
Practically all the increase is due to spirits, which would indicate that a supply is being laid in.
