TROUBLE AGAIN IN CITY OF CORK

Disorder in Patrick Street; Constable Killed

Condition of Mayor MacSwiney — The Reprisals Question — Report on Effect of Troubles on Trade.

Cork, Oct. 4.—There were disorders here in Patrick street on Saturday night and early on Sunday morning in the course of which a constable was wounded. He died soon afterwards. A civilian also was shot and seriously wounded. The front of a shop was blown out by a bomb and the contents of it were destroyed.

The Sled Day.

London, Oct. 4.—Terence MacSwiney, long mayor of Cork, passed a fair night at Brixton prison, having had several hours of sleep, but it does not seem to have refreshed him much, said a bulletin issued this morning by the Irish Self-Determination League. It adds that doctors do not find much change in the condition of the lord mayor except that he is very weary. This is the third day of his hunger strike. A bulletin issued at the Home Office this forenoon stated that the lord mayor was not nearly so well yesterday, but after some sleep last night, appeared to be better this morning.

London, Oct. 4.—A despatch to the London Times from Dublin gives an official report that a member of the pension ministry named Collet and a commercial traveller named McLean were kidnapped from a hotel at Lisdoonvarna County Clare, on Sept. 20.

As to Reprisals.

London, Oct. 4.—A despatch to the London Times from Dublin says a circular issued by the Royal Irish Constabulary officers to the district commanders of police and county and district inspectors refers to press reports of reprisals against the Irish as "generally thoroughly misleading, because," it says, "the means often represent acts of the League of Self-Determination." It adds that doctors do not find much change in the condition of the lord mayor except that he is very weary. This is the third day of his hunger strike. A bulletin issued at the Home Office this forenoon stated that the lord mayor was not nearly so well yesterday, but after some sleep last night, appeared to be better this morning.

Effect on Trade.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Writing from Belfast to the Weekly Bulletin of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Trade Commissioner G. H. Macdonald, discusses the effect of the disturbances in Ireland upon trade. He states that after a fairly comprehensive tour of the chief commercial centres of Ireland, he finds that there is considerable temporary and local disturbance of trade. The logical centres for the distribution of goods, he states are Belfast, Dublin and Cork, but at the present time it is practically impossible for any one house in any particular city to distribute effectively throughout Ireland owing to the many boycotts and counter-boycotts which have been effected. He finds that there is a keen interest in Canadian goods in all parts of Ireland, and a definite desire that better trading relations may be established.

Dublin and Cork merchants are enthusiastically desirous of trading with Canada.

Agricultural implements and garden tools have found a ready market. Belfast timber importers are interested in getting supplies from British Columbia at a reasonable price. He notes that the Germans are already sending small shipments to the Irish markets.

Tomorrow morning the Herald and Mail's ten-mile amateur championship road race will be run and the afternoon will be devoted to a police and firemen's athletic tournament.

G. G. WELLS IN RUSSIA

London, Oct. 4.—H. G. Wells, English novelist, has arrived in Petrograd, according to a Moscow wireless message, greeted by a delegation of Russian authors, headed by Maxim Gorky.

Mr. Wells declared he did not doubt that Russia was on the eve of a noble future, but that the Russian and British characters were very different and that the two peoples could not achieve their purposes by the same methods. "Your read," the Moscow despatches reports him as saying, "is towards communism; ours is toward individualism."

ON AUTO RIDE WITH FIANCE, GIRL IS KILLED

Companion Wounded — Says Three Men Held Them Up and One Fired Shots.

Kansas City, Oct. 4.—Miss Florence Barton, twenty-four, daughter of K. L. Barton, president of a shoe manufacturing company, was shot and killed last night by an unknown person, while riding in a motor car with Howard R. Winter, her fiance, so it became known today. Winter was wounded.

According to Winter, the shooting took place on a lonely road in a suburban residence section. He told the authorities that he had stopped his car to light a cigar, when three men appeared in another car. One of the men asked the direction to go to Lee's Summit, Mo. When he had been told, Winter said the man leaped upon the running board of his car, with a revolver in his hand and fired several shots. One struck Winter in the left arm and another wounded Miss Barton over the heart.

The assailants fled and Winter drove to a country residence nearby, summoned help and took the car to a hospital where she died.

TAX EX-KAISER

Dutch Fix His Assessable Income at Million and Half Guilders.

Woman Who Fought in Ranks in the Civil War Dead

Raritan, N. J., Oct. 4.—Mrs. E. A. Miles, eighty-two, who with close clipped hair and a uniform concealed her sex, and is said to have fought beside her husband through the Civil War, died here today.

The war call found them on their honeymoon. The husband, Martin Miles, joined the ranks of the fourth New Jersey Infantry, and when the regiment left, Elizabeth Miles marched beside him. She fought through many engagements, it is said, and was mustered out, undiscovered. The husband died several years after the war.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "I like to get close to the people I am a born democrat. The people interest me. They are mine own people—my ain folk—as the Scotch say. They are the salt of the earth."

"Well," said Hiram, "if you want to get real close to the people in St. John you want to get on a street car in the rush hour. Then you kin see 'em, an' smell 'em—an' taste 'em. In the Mash Crick an' the Carleton mill pond ain't got nothing on 'em—nuther."

"I was not thinking," said the reporter, "of physical contact, although even that has its attractions to the servant and contemplative citizen. The receptive mind gains valuable impressions."

"Yes sir," said Hiram, "an' the receptive system sometimes gets a case fer the doctor."

"But what a display of patience and long-suffering," said the reporter. "You seize a strap and gaze upon the faces of the people as they pass—nether. A sense of common calamity sustains and excites them above the trivial annoyances of a passing hour. I am not surprised that we won the war. We are a people born for adversity and strong endurance."

"I guess you're right," said Hiram. "Yes sir—I guess that's so."

CHECKING UP TAX EVADERS

Dominion-Wide Effort to Get Country's Due

Auditors Going Over Books Where There is Suspicion That Correct Statement of Income Has Not Been Turned In.

Ottawa, Oct. 4.—Recent prosecutions in Ottawa, Hamilton and other places of persons charged with making incorrect returns of incomes for the purpose of evading taxes, are the outcome of a dominion-wide effort to unlock the pockets of the tax evaders.

In the first year in which the dominion tax was imposed upon incomes, it was discovered that a large number of persons had failed to make the returns required under the law.

This year it is said returns have been made pretty generally, but in a considerable number of cases they have understated the incomes of taxpayers. The taxation branch of the finance department, consequently, has employed auditors in various parts of the country to examine the books of business and professional men suspected of incorrectly reporting their incomes. In some cases the auditors have succeeded in securing investigations, and fines, some as large as $1,000, have been imposed for one offence.

The fines levied go into the dominion treasury and help to meet the cost of maintaining the taxation branch. Higher rates of taxation upon large incomes, and the steps being taken to ensure payment by all who are liable to taxation, are expected to increase the country's revenue from income taxation.

Special auditors are also being employed in various sections of the country to work in conjunction with inland revenue officers for the purpose of checking returns of collections of luxury and sales taxes.

GUN FIGHT IN GAMBLERS' ROOM

One Man Killed in Philadelphia Combat

Police Swoop Down on Bandido Who Gambled Backed Against Wall and Are Robbing Them.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4.—One man was killed and another wounded in a three-cornered fight here early today between policemen, alleged gamblers and a gang of bandits, whom the police found holding up the gamblers when they were held at the place. One of the injured, physicians said this morning, cannot live.

Half a dozen persons were arrested and held as witnesses. When the police entered the alleged gambling house they found a dozen men backed up against the wall with their hands in the air looking into the muzzles of pistols in the hands of four masked men. Two other bandits were going through their pockets and stacking their money and jewelry on a table in the centre of the room.

"Hands up," shouted Lieutenant Graham, who kept the sound of the lights and detectives. Immediately the lights went out and a free for all fight followed.

This May Help Solve Wall Street Mystery

Man With Dynamite Is Arrested in Pittsburgh

Visit to Home in Brooklyn Reveals Facts Which Authorities Believe Important in Connection with September 16 Explosion.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 4.—Information obtained from Florenz Zelenka, of Brooklyn, arrested here last night with a quantity of dynamite in his possession may lead to a solution of the Wall Street explosion, according to local police and government agents. The nature of the information was not divulged, but the police said it has been forwarded to Wm. J. Flynn, of the department of justice.

Questioning of Zelenka, who was taken to a hotel after a fight with the police, continued until early this morning. He had been en route from Cincinnati to New York, and his remarks on the train to an unidentified man, who called the police, brought about his arrest.

Authorities were reticent as to the result of their questioning, but it was said clues furnished may lead to scores of arrests in Brooklyn and New York. He could furnish no good reason, police said, for having the explosive in his possession, and is alleged to have remarked to a companion on the train. "Tell them I will have the stuff there tomorrow."

Another remark attributed to him as he was being placed in his cell was "See what we did in Wall street. Next time it will be bigger and more terrible. The last was only a start."

Some Discoveries. New York, Oct. 4.—Renewed vigor was installed today in the investigation of the origin of the Wall Street explosion on Sept. 16, as a result of a room being occupied led to the discovery of the following facts which they considered important:

That Zelenka left his little room at 470 Cleveland street, in the heart of the foreign section, an hour before the disaster occurred; That when he left he was carrying a package of dynamite in a bag; That he had had one of the dynamite sticks in his pocket; That he left in his room a large quantity of Russian literature, said to be of a radical nature.

It is understood that the currency commission has submitted to various groups, the countries being divided on the subject, according as the interior situation is affected by the problem. All sorts of projects have been presented to this committee, among them the suggestion of monetary units to be called a "forin." Ten forins would have the value of eight grammes of gold, or approximately $8 cents.

His adoption would reduce money everywhere to the decimal system.

Peace and War in Same House. Warsaw, Oct. 4.—War and peace plans progressed simultaneously yesterday under the same roof in recently reconquered Poland, where General Pilsudski, the head of the state, has established his temporary headquarters. In one room of the house where the general is domiciled, plans were laid for continuing in pursuit of the defeated Soviet troops on the southern front who are fleeing in a disorderly retreat. In another room, civilian representatives of the government were received by the chief for discussion of the next move to be made by the Poles at the High peace conference with the Russians.

On the Polish northern front it was announced that the cavalry pursuing the Russians had reached a point less than forty-five miles from Minsk. In various sectors of the front, where reported near the point of collapse, in one sector the account declares, an entire brigade was taken prisoner virtually without a fight.

In the Pripet region after some fighting, the Poles captured 1,200 Russians. In the south General Romer's cavalry was reported to be making some progress.

"LOVE MAKING" TO QUEBEC PROVINCE

Joseph Archambault Says Premier Meighen's Affection Is of Necessity.

Montreal, Oct. 4.—"Je me souviens" is the motto of the Province of Quebec, and Joseph Archambault, M. P. for Chamby-Vercheres, told an audience in Chamby yesterday that the motto was the answer to Premier Meighen's overtures to the province. Quebec, he said, would forgive but not forget.

He contended that Mr. Meighen's "love-making to the Province of Quebec followed the motto that "necessity knows no law" for the Premier felt that its only chance against 40 or 50 free traders who will be elected next west, could be found in this province.
