ARMY IS ABSORBED

Kitchener's New Troops Are Drafted Into the Regulars.

SIX ARMIES ARE FORMED

New Strength of British Expeditionary Force Will Be Eighteen Army Corps Under Six Generals—Halt, Smith-Dorrien, Hunter, Hamilton, Rundle and Bruce Hamilton Are Commanders

LONDON, Jan. 2.—An army order issued last night announced that the present organization of the army will be further increased by the creation of six armies, each of which will consist generally of three army corps. The first army will be commanded by Lt.-Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, who headed the first army corps of the expeditionary force; the second by Gen. Sir Horace L. Smith-Dorrien; the third by Lt.-Gen. Sir Archibald Hunter;

Maj.-Gen. Sir Charles C. Monro, Lt.-Gen. Sir Charles Ferguson and Lt.-Gen. Sir H. C. O. Plumer have been given command of the first, second and third army corps respectively.

This organization follows on the absorption of Lord Kitchener's army into the regular army.

MISSION A FAILURE.

Count von Buelow Has Not Been Able to Influence Italy.

PARIS, Jan. 2.—According to a special correspondent of The Temps, who has just returned from Italy, Count von Buelow's mission at Rome has failed. "It is untrue," says The Temps, "that von Buelow offered Italy any concrete compensation for intervention in Germany's favor, or at least, disarmed neutrality. He only made vague promises to induce the Italian government to show a less friendly attitude to Britain, as 'Britain is the sole enemy of Germany.' His mission was principally to convince Italy that her interests should be with Germany, as one Britain was ousted from the Mediterranean Italy might become a large Empire."

The Temps adds that the Kaiser sent von Buelow to Italy charged with such a difficult mission with only a vague hope of success. The Emperor's idea was to exploit von Buelow's popularity in Rome in case it might lead to the actual benefit of Germany, or should he fail, to let von Buelow bear the whole responsibility.

New Year Quiet in Berlin.

BERLIN, Jan. 2.—(Via London.)—Berlin at the passing of the old year showed strikingly for the first time since the outbreak of the war that life of the city is not proceeding in its normal channels. The customary celebrations to welcome the advent of the New Year were almost entirely lacking.

No horns were blown and no bells were rung, nor could any other noise-making contrivances be heard.

Sir James Duckworth Dead.

LONDON, Jan. 2.—The death has been announced of Sir James Duckworth, former member of Parliament, and president of the United Methodist Free Churches.

Sir James was born in 1840, and was prominent in Methodist Church work in England. He began to earn his living in a cotton mill before he was seven years old. In the latter years of his life he built up a vast provision business.

NOTES.

Write 1915.

Remember your New Year's resolutions.

1915 has been ushered in and what has been done for the unemployed?

Voting day is the electors' day. They should speak out in no uncertain voice.

Make 1915 a happy, prosperous year for the working man and the town of Ingersoll.

The New Year may be bright and fair. But if you go to the "post," the dust will be there.

Vote for a more progressive Ingersoll. Ingersoll's advancement will mean more to the working man.

The citizens of Ingersoll, working together with the harmonious co-operation of a harmonious council should be able to make substantial progress during 1915.

The Scout motto, "Be Prepared," is a good one for citizens on Monday. They should be prepared to do what is expected of them in behalf of the welfare of the town.

JUNIOR O.H.A. SERIES.

Ingersoll and Woodstock Will Clash at Mason Arena Monday Night.

The opening game of the O.H.A. junior series will be played Monday night at the Mason Arena. Ingersoll and Woodstock will clash at 7:30 p.m. The Industrial City has been in the hockey world for many years and has turned out strong teams, both junior and intermediate. The Woodstock team of a year ago made a big bid for championship honors. While the team has undergone changes this season it is very promising. Woodstock and Ingersoll always furnish an exciting struggle and a large crowd can be expected to turn out Monday night.

DIED SUDDENLY.

James Garvey, Residing Near Rayside, Succumbed to Heart Failure This Morning.

The death of Mr. James Garvey, a well known North Oxford farmer, residing near Rayside, occurred suddenly this morning of heart failure. Mr. Garvey was stricken while doing his chores at the barn. His death came as a shock to the family and his many friends, as he had previously been in good health. He was 60 years of age and unmarried.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

THIRD VICTORY FOR HOME-BREWS

BRANTFORD INTERMEDIATES DEFEATED BY 7 TO 3 IN AN O.H.A. GAME — VISITORS OUTCLASSED IN FINAL PERIOD.

The intermediate home-brews defeated the Brantford O.H.A. seven at the Mason Arena Friday night by a score of 7 to 3. It was the third consecutive victory of the home-brews. St. Mary's having been defeated in the exhibition game, and St. Andrew's in a Northern League contest. Friday night's game called forth all that the home-brews could muster and until the final period the result was in doubt. The locals took the lead and were never headed by the visitors up to the beginning of the third period when a narrow lead there was nothing to save about. At the end of the first period the score was 1 to 1 and at the end of the second twenty-minute session the score board showed 4 to 3. The Brantford team appeared much heavier than the home-brews and they were strong in the scrimmage, but Ingersoll's light forwards, however, were plucky and they battled gamely to the finish. In the final period their team work outshone that of their opponents and they ran in three corners while Brantford was unable to find the net.

The aggressiveness of the visitors from the home-brews was especially indicated that they came to Ingersoll determined to carry off the honors. They used their weight to advantage and at times introduced combinations that were dangerous. Kings and Gould on the wings made several thrilling rushes and had Harry at center. Harry showed some bad temper in the second period when he started to use his stick on Wilson following an attack on the Ingersoll goal. He was "jailed" for five minutes.

On the whole the game was above the average for hockey and interested to the spectators that the Ingersoll skaters, although not yet in the "pink" of condition, are traveling at a merry clip. The whole team played well together. Moulton, Henderson and Gregory were particularly conspicuous in the goal-getting, but they were ably assisted by their teammates. Eric introduced some interesting rushes, Wilson did good work between the posts, and Patrie and Jackson stuck with their checks at all times. Patrie was wonderfully fast, and although pitted against a speedy Wilson, invariably outskated him. Towards the close of the game Henderson marked the play of the Ingersoll seven, their combination being a bright feature. The ice was slow and this fact was more to the disadvantage of the locals than to their heavier opponents.

There was a fair attendance and interest was at a high pitch during the game. The teams:

THE EVENING CLASSES.

The Industrial and Art School reopens Monday, Jan. 5th, 1915. Instruction will be given in the following courses—Millinery, dressmaking, household science, wood carving, cabinet making, mathematics, mechanical drawing, art and design. Prospective students should register before the beginning of the term. Mr. Tanton will be at the lecture room of the public library every night this week, except Friday, to give any information re the classes and enroll students.

THE CLOSE OF POULTRY SHOW

PUBLIC INTEREST WAS VERY ENCOURAGING—THE EXHIBITS IN ALL CLASSES WERE NUMEROUS AND OF EXCELLENT QUALITY.

The annual show of the Oxford County Poultry Association, which was held in the town hall, was brought to a close on Friday. The success of the show was in keeping with the high expectations of the most enthusiastic members of the Association. The number of entries was in excess of the largest previous show here, while the interest manifested by the public was decidedly encouraging. In all classes the exhibits were of the highest quality.

The displays have been particularly attractive in Braams, Dr. R. A. Williams being one of the heavy exhibitors in this class. Other varieties in which there were many fine birds were: Partridge Cochins, Black Langshans, Game Hens of Ingersoll, being a prominent winner. Barred Rocks were to the front as usual, Jas. Bloor, Ingersoll, and W. W. Thompson, Woodstock, having fine specimens. In White Rocks there were also some very fine birds. Stevenson Bros., Woodstock, and Dr. J. J. Johnson, Ingersoll, were the principal winners, the former winning one of the silver cups. In Buff Rocks the exhibits of Fred Franks and Jas. Kerr, both of Ingersoll, created interest.

The Columbian were a good class, Mr. Fred Hagar being a exhibitor in Silver and Golden Laced Wyandottes the principal winners were Chauncie Hughes, Ingersoll, and Mr. W. W. Thompson, Woodstock. In the White Leghorns, the White Wyandottes, were a very heavy class and were greatly admired. Several of the leading prizes were won by Mr. Sid Hamilton, Ingersoll. Some excellent birds were also exhibited by Mr. Webster, Ingersoll. The Rhode Island Reds were a full class and many fine birds were shown. Mr. L. Vance & Sons and Mr. B. B. Johnson were the principal winners. In the Orpingtons saw many fine specimens. The winners in the "Buffs" were Fred Franks and Jas. Kerr, both of Ingersoll. In the White Leghorns, Mr. Pollock, Norwich, had fine birds, as did also J. W. Kelly, Ingersoll.

25 YEARS MARRIED.

Address and Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hugill Friday Night.

Friday being their silver wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hugill were pleasantly surprised in the evening at their home. Thirty friends, who between thirty and forty of their friends visited upon them. Their presence was as planned a complete surprise. After hearty congratulations had been showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Hugill, the following address was read and appropriate gifts of silver made to the bride and groom at 25 years ago. Addresses were given and a very pleasant evening spent by all.

Ingersoll, January 1st, 1915.

We, a few of your friends have gathered here tonight to remind you that you have passed the Twenty-fifth milestone of married life, and as you have triumphed on together passing the milestones one by one, we trust as you gaze in the Twenty-fifth that your love and devotion for each other has grown stronger than ever it was at the beginning. The hand that guides all human feet and keeps them on the right path, has guided you along the path of right and has spared you both to enjoy health and prosperity all these years.

And we are here tonight to help you celebrate this, the Twenty-fifth anniversary of the greatest historic day of your life and we ask you to accept this little token of remembrance as our appreciation of your friendship among us. Every year you partake of the good things which this dish may contain may your thoughts go back to this evening when your friends gathered to help you celebrate our quarter of a century of happy married life. Our wish is that you may both be spared so that some day some one will have the opportunity of remembering you with a similar token in gold. Yours in Love,

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Coulter, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Nagle, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Rogerson, Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Leake, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Walley, Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Walley, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. George Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Seldon, Rev. L. W. and Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Rebecca Morrow, Mrs. O'Neill, Mrs. Bradbury, Miss Russell, Mr. Roy Russell, Miss Nellie Dunham.
