Iropriate services. The pastor, Rev. B. H. Nobles, preached an excellent sermon in the morning from the words: "Our Father." His theme was Fellowship. First, Ot all Christians-this was grand. Second, Of members of same church-this was grander. Third, With God-this was grander. Third, With God-this was grandest.

NO. 50.

The sermon, of which the forego is the barest outline, made a g

Impression. In the afternoon Rev. Mr. Camp, pastor of Sussex Baptist church, oc-cupied the pulpit, and preached a forcible discourse upon Inspired Logic, taking for his text Rom. v., 10. The reacher dealt with his text after the owing outline

(1) Three fundamental facts: (a) Christ's death is the proof, not the cause of God's love; (b) Christ's death is the assurance—not the measure of God's love; (c) Christ's death is the begining—not the end of God's love.

(2) Three truths proving out of these facts (a) If so much has been done for us as enemies, what will be done for us as friends? (b) If death of Christ has done so much, what will His life do?, (c) If reconciliation is so great a gift for all men, what can God do for you when you have submitted to Him?
(3) Three obligations upon us. (a) If God loved us, we ought to love Him.
(b) If God loved us, we ought to hove Him.
(b) If God loved us, we ought to by each other. (c) If God so loved us—and loves all—we ought to tell if to others—to all!
The above oulline was so filled in and illustrated, and withal so eloquently presented, that the large audience was deeply affected at times during the delivery of the sermon.
The publit was occupied in the evening by Rev. C. W. Hamilton, who preached from I. John, II. 5. The storm that began before dark prevented a large attendance at the evening service. The music during the deliver was defined in the sermity. ing service. The music during day was excellent, led by Miss E Pearce, who also presided at the gan.
