MINERAL DEPOSITS

Many valuable fields in vicinity of St. John, opinion of experts—Interest in marble.

The mineral deposits in and about St. John have long been the matter of much talk but aside from the production of lime the great mineral deposits have been scarcely touched. Recently Mayor Frink has had enquiries about the marble deposits here and several days ago sent samples of the different outcroppings away to people interested. It was pointed out yesterday that St. John was peculiarly situated in respect to minerals and other natural materials.

At the Falls there are extensive fields of graphite and two or three decades ago these were worked to a considerable extent but the shafts have been allowed to fill with water and no effort has been made recently to develop the fields.

In Port Howe various minerals have been found. Small quantities of asbestos have been dug out of the rock while many people have been almost sure that the handsome quartz crystals found there were real diamonds.

The lime formations have been worked extensively and up to about twenty years ago the lime as produced in St. John had a reputation all over America.

Recently engineers from several cement companies have looked over the ground near St. John with the idea of establishing cement plants here but so far nothing definite has been done in the way of establishing these plants.

Although the mineral resources of the southern part of New Brunswick have been scarcely examined still there are great possibilities and it may be in the near future that the southern part of this province will be a great mineral producing centre.

DOMINION DAY PLEASANTLY SPENT HERE

Threatening rain in early morning caused many to stay home—Growth of Canada.

Dominion Day passed quietly in St. John. The rain in the early morning and the threatening conditions that prevailed throughout the early part of the day caused many people who had outings planned to remain at home. In spite of the weather conditions many people went out of the city. Trade has also increased from practically nothing to $1,085,264.48.

Evidence of growth could be given in abundance but the growth of Canada has been steady, healthy and satisfactory.

In Canada there are few public holidays as compared with the number observed in the republic to the south, and the natal day of the Dominion has in many parts of Canada been looked upon with as great an enthusiasm as the day caused only followers of the people of the United States look upon July 4.

As far as the people of St. John were concerned the day passed pleasantly. Baseball, golf, horse racing, yacht racing and other sports gave the enthusiasts a chance to view or indulge in their favorite recreation.

More than the usual number of people spent the day on the streams and lakes in the vicinity of the city and it was said that the fish were running strong at all the favorite haunts.

On the golf links play was open to all members and the grounds were dotted thickly with followers of the ancient Scottish pastime.

A royal salute was fired at noon from the Dorchester battery.

Taking it all together the people of St. John thoroughly enjoyed the holiday and will resume their labors this morning with their usual vigor.

BOARD OF TRADE MAY HOLD FULL MEETINGS DURING THE SUMMER

Agitation among several of the members with this object in view—Keep up interest.

An agitation has been started among the members of the Board of Trade to have the monthly meetings of the full board continued through the summer. At the last meeting of the full board there was only a slim attendance and it was decided to adjourn till September. Some of the members think it would be wise to hold regular meetings of the full board during the summer, the meetings to be called in the afternoon as was the case in former summers.

The council of the board holds regular weekly meetings during the summer, but it is claimed by some members that the whole work of the board should not be left to the council and the discontinuance of the meetings of the full board might tend to engender apathy on the part of the membership at large.
