

Requirement of Uniform. 74.—At Musters of the Officers' Corps, uniform will be held to be required, only when expressly ordered.

75.—At all other Musters, and at all Meetings on Regimental or Company business, the Officers and the Sergeant Major will be held to appear in uniform, if not excused therefrom by the Order summoning them,—but may wear the shell-jacket and forage-cap, unless when the men are in full uniform, or when full uniform for themselves may have been ordered.—The other Non-commissioned Officers, and the Cadets and Men, will be held to appear in uniform, only when so ordered.

76.—For all ends of discipline or business, it will be regarded as immaterial, in respect of any Muster, or Meeting whatever, whether the same be held in uniform or not,—or whether it do or do not comprehend such provisionally enrolled Cadets and Men as may have been allowed for any Company or Companies of the Battalion.

Cadets.

77.—Cadets, if finally enrolled, but not otherwise, will rank with Lance Corporals. They will not, however, be entitled to act as such, unless specially so appointed.—If appointed to be Non-commissioned Officers, they will rank with others of their grade, and will wear the uniform and appointments of such grade, with their own distinguishing Star. In such case, they will require to be duly relieved of their charge as Non-commissioned Officers, before availing themselves of their right to retire from the Corps at pleasure.

General Provisions.

78.—At all Business Meetings, the Senior Officer present will preside.

79.—Such buildings, rooms or places only as may be furnished by Government, or designated by Regimental Order, will ever be occupied or taken for armoury, drill or other use, by or for the Corps, or any Company or Detachment thereof.

80.—Neither the Corps, nor yet any Company or Detachment of it, will ever be ordered to parade or meet for any other than Militia purposes, properly so called. No Company or Detachment will on any account appear in public, in uniform or with arms or accoutrements, unless by order or with leave of the Commanding Officer. Such leave will not be given,—even as regards the Band,—on any occasion which may be deemed open to question, either on political or religious grounds. And it is to be understood that no member of the Corps will on any account appear in uniform on any such occasion.
