

Several readers of the Forestry Journal have been kind enough to send in photographs of the "American Elm." This shows a beautiful specimen from the collection of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa.