Evolution from God's spiritual realm downward gets your alphabet right end first. Then commence at the Z end of materialism and read nature's laws up to God through the bullfrog and monkey tracks of time, up to the sixth day of creation or third diameter of the snowflake, when God takes the material days into the eternal day of rest as the heavens melt again into their molten state at His presence. Then the new heavens and new earth can be created without the dual purposes in them.

The Child's Visit to the Nickelodeon.

When his mother took him there he saw the three Hebrew children walking in the fiery furnace and Christ walking with them as the fourth witness from heaven. The lands are burned off, but their character garments are preserved, as the king sees them in the form of the three lesser stars of the Pleiades and Christ in the midst of them like the tree of Everlasting Life in the midst of the Garden of Eden, in the triangle of trigonometry over all. The child sees the expression of the king's face as he recognizes the "Son of God" walking there and wonders why our presidents and kings cannot see Christ and know Him like the kings of the earth did then, when Daniel was cast into this den of solid geometry with the lions or where Esther delivered Israel from the Medes' and Persians' unchangeable law. One picture showed Christ's clothes on the Mount of Transfiguration (Mark 9: 3) "His raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow, so as no fuller on earth can whiten them." Then the child said "I want my character washed white at Christ's laundry; that is so much better than we get done at the steam or Chinese laundry." And then we can take hold of Christ's hand at twelve years of age and be raised from the dead or touch the circle of his garment, as the woman did that had the issue of blood twelve years and be healed and cleansed (I know how to change a circle sign into 12 signs of cube.)

The Child's Dream.

Company forbade the mother from retiring with the child, and as the mother enters the room the light seems to startle the child and he screams out in a frenzied shriek, saying, "Oh! oh! How can I stand it, mother? Mother, you are going to be burned up like the men we saw burned in Ne's (Nebuchadnezzar's) everlasting fire, seven times told." After the child is reassured some he says, "Mother, you did. Mother, you did." The mother tells him as he has been dreaming and gets him to tell her his dream.

"I dreamed," said the child, "I belonged to the Lord. Like the oldest sons in Egypt, I was dying, when heaven opened to receive me, as it did Stephen, the seventh deacon of Jerusalem. I saw you from Abraham's bosom in Neb's fire. You did not do it, mother, did you?" "Did I what? What was I going to be sent to hell for, child? Child, you are still dreaming." "No, I am not, mother, and I am going to see." Then the child runs to the Lord's tithing centre table and finds it empty. "That is just what I dreamed, mother; that you stole the last dime from the Lord's purchase money and went to hell like Ananias and Saphira. You took the widow's lost piece of money to pay our way into the
