

we believe, in the long run, in spite of all mystifications, will commend itself to the plain common-sense of Christian men.

Whatever Jesus believed about the Old Testament, all real believers in Him must believe. We shall be found right in the end if we "think thoughts of His thinking, and proclaim the everlasting words of the Eternal Word!"