New Weaves in Navy

FOR GOWNS AND SUMMER SUITS.

EVER strike you how important a shade navy was at this season of the year? It's more prominent among the fashionable shades this year than it has been in many for two reasons.

First—You can get navy in the sheerest of fabrics for summer gowns and the fashionable folk of the leading fashion centres of Europe and America have taken kindly to these sheer fabrics yet for street gowns, sheer fabrics in delicate shades are not the most practical, hence the selection of navy.

Secondly—Can you think of any shade that looks better in a firm fabric for an unlined shirt waist, skirt or a tailored suit for your summer travelling than navy?

In navy you'll find no new or desirable weave wanting in this stock.

Such weaves as Voile, Etamine, Nette, Ripley finished Cloth, Empire Cloth, Broadcloth, Canvas and Cheviot get a good showing.

FIRES AT QUEBEC.

TWENTY-FOUR HOUSES BURNED IN HULL.

Montreal Darkened by Smoke of Forest Fires—Many Towns Wiped Out—Others Threatened.

Ottawa, June 4.—By the narrowest of margins Hull yesterday escaped a repetition of the great conflagration of 1900. As it was, some 24 houses were burned and about $15,000 damage wrought. A strong wind from the north was blowing, when, shortly after 3 o'clock, a fire developed in the brush around the eastern limits of the city. A number of men started with pails for the scene, but while they were on the way a second fire broke out in a hay-loft at the back of Bonner's restaurant, at the corner of Charles and Chaudiere streets. Fanned by the high wind, which was blowing from the north towards the centre of the city, the flames spread with great rapidity, and in a comparatively short time several of the finest frame houses, which abounded in that part of the city, were consumed. The prospect of another devastating outbreak threw the inhabitants into a panic. In all quarters of the city people poured out of their homes, carrying their valuables and articles of furniture. Furniture stores and houses were looted; chairs, bureaus and mattresses were deposited on vacant lots. Women with frightened faces rushed to and fro, some weeping hysterically and others, controlling their feelings only by a strong effort. On the north, Western street, on the east, Chaudiere street, on the south, Pond street, and on the west, Autumn street. In the centre of this area is a small sheet of water enclosed by rocky bluffs. To the north Bank and Rock streets were the nearest to the lake.

London, Ont. June 4.—The general store and postoffice in Lobo village, about twelve miles from here, kept by George F. Dean, were destroyed by fire yesterday with most of their contents. Loss, $3,000 to $4,000. Insurance, $600 on stock and building. The Dean family lived some distance from the store, and were unaware of the fire until aroused by neighbors. Those first to reach the scene found that a pile of empty wooden boxes had been placed in the front of the store and set on fire. Hamilton, June 4.—There were half a dozen small fires in this city during the last 24 hours, and the opinion of the department is that the majority of them were of incendiary origin. About 12:30 last night the stable and ice-house of D. Dewey & Son and the Street Railway Company's barn, Stuart street, were fired, and all three buildings were burning when the firemen arrived.

Montreal, June 4.—From all parts of the Province of Quebec come most alarming accounts of bush and forest fires. In some instances small places are reported to be burning, and in others wires are down exact accounts cannot be obtained. The whole firmament was a bright amber shade, and the sun hung in the air like a rose-colored balloon. Everything else looked yellow. The sidewalks in this city reflected the light from the faces of the people were sallow like the Chinese. White and black wood ashes fell in the streets, doing much damage to spring millinery and dresses of summer fabrics. Pedestrians were overwhelmed by soft flakes of smoke, the banks, stores and offices were obliged to turn on the lights early, and in more than one quarter the street lamps were burning at an hour when it is usually broad daylight. Prof. C. H. McLeod of McGill University says that the clouds hung much lower than usual, which, with the smoke from the fires coming between the sun and the earth, caused the awe-inspiring phenomenon. Request came from Coteau Junction for assistance to fight the fire threatening that place, but as alarms were almost constantly ringing here the chief decided that it would be imprudent to spare any of his men or engines.

Sherbrooke—Bush fires are burning all along the line from Scottstown to Magantic, and are close to the latter bridge. It is reported here that the village of Dudsud is on fire. Three Rivers—There is fire all around Shawingigan Falls. The residence of Mr. Berman and the English church are now burning. Flames are not nearer than six miles from this city. It is reported from Doucet's Landing that the village is being swept by flames. St. Vincent is in great danger. Trains from Arthabaska to Doucet's Landing are blocked, being unable to pass Aston, which has been destroyed. Grandmere—Bush fires are raging all over this locality. It is impossible to state the extent of the damage. Large gangs of men are constantly watching the bridges and cordwood piles. Several hundred cords of wood burned during the past few days.

St. Therese, June 3.—The country two miles north of this place is one mass of flames, the result of bush fires. In order, if possible, to check the fire, the farmers are taking down their fences, and are ploughing large areas of ground.

A C. P. R. employee, whose name cannot be learned, after having assisted with others in fighting the fire between St. Agathe and St. Francois, was forced to flee. The smoke, however, was so dense that it stifled him. He fell, and before his companions could rescue him, the fire had overtaken them, and the man was burned to death where he lay.

Coteau Landing, Que. June 4.—Fire swept this village yesterday, destroying 7 dwellings and rendering about 40 people homeless. The damage is not definitely known, but the estimated loss is $6,000. Fire broke out at 9 o'clock in the house of Mr. Neumar, owing to a defective chimney. The high winds blowing at the time soon carried flames to adjacent houses. Flames soon got beyond the control of the local fire-fighters and swept from house to house, which, being entirely of wooden construction, were consumed by the fierce fire. Requests for aid were sent to Montreal and Valleyfield.

FOOTBALL

IS THIS A PIPE DREAM?

The Sandwich news in the Windsor Record says:—

The Sandwich football club had a splendid practice last evening. The team will visit Chatham in the finals for the Walker vase next Saturday. Sandwich will have one of the strongest and best teams that ever represented this district, and the probabilities are that they will have little difficulty in again transferring the championship trophy to this end of the League.

A practice of the local team will be held to-night at 7 o'clock sharp. The team will be picked to-night.

BASEBALL

PICKED NINE W.D.N.

The C. M. C. team was defeated by a picked team from Tecumseh Park last evening, with Grant in the box. Depew was his opposition, and both pitched good games. In Hicks and Sage, the C. M. C.'s have secured acquisitions to their team; Carrier caught a good game for the picked nine.

VARSITY JUNE 11.

Manager P. W. McAuley, of the C. M. C.'s, will have the Varsity team here on June 11th, when Chatham fans will see one of the best exhibitions of baseball they have seen in years. The C. M. C.'s will be strengthened by the best material in town, and that's pretty good.

It has been suggested, and wisely so, that the diamond be roped in by extending ropes from tree to tree to keep the crowds back.

THE WOMAN OF IT

P. C. Darr had a strange laundry hunt yesterday. A woman from Chatham Township went to P. C. Darr and complained that a Chinaman would not give her the collars that were hers. She produced the laundry check to show that she really had a parcel at the wash shop. She took the policeman to Hop Kee's laundry, just beyond the Post Office, but Hop Kee said that the check belonged to the laundry at the bridge. This enraged the woman and she wanted to know if she didn't know where she had left her collars. She just guessed she knew. They were her collars and she had left them. Finally, the officer inquired the woman to try the laundry on the bridge and, sure enough, the collars were found there. The woman had a check and the Chinaman had the half that corresponded. The woman, however, refused to take the collars. She stoutly affirmed that the collars couldn't belong to her. She just guessed she knew where she had left her laundry, and she knew the laundry where she had left her laundry, etc., etc. Finally, the calm counsel of P. C. Darr prevailed, and the woman collared the collars and went off—unconvinced.
