C. M. B. A. Congratulations.

From the Brockville Recorder of June 8

we take the following item concerning our estimable Grand President, which will be read with interest by his brother C. M. B. A.

read with inference of a constry: men throughout the country: At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, in St. Francis. Xavier Church, Vicar-General Gauthier performed a mariage ceremony, the contracting parties being Mr. O. K. Fraser, of the law firm of Fraser, Reynolds & Fraser, and Miss Margaret Branif, daughter of the late Thomas Branif, of this town. There were only a few of the immedi-ate friends of both parties present, the young couple desiring a quiet wedding. Mr. R. C. McHenry acted as best man, while Miss Rose Braniff, sister of the bride, acted as brides-maid. The couple are widely and favorably known, not only in Brockville, but through-out the counties, and the Recorder joins in the general good wishes for their future life and happiness." The CATHOLIC RECORD also extends men throughout the country :

CATHOLIC RECORD also extends heartiest congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fraser, with the hope that long life may be theirs, and that no cloud of sorrow will ever pass over their happy home.

<text> A Contradiction. At the regular meeting of Branch % of the C. M. B. A., of Levis, P. Q., held in their hall on Wedne-day, the 31st of May, 1893, being the first meeting of this Branch held since the 10th of May instant, it was resolved to protest against that, part of Supreme Deputy Kelly's report as published in the C. M. B. A. Weekly on the 11th instant, and which reads as follows: — "It will be seen that two branches ignored the Supreme Deputy and refused to furnish him with the information he was specially authorized to procure. The estimated mem-bership of these branches, the members of Nupreme authority, are counted with the majority to which they properly belong, although at one time several of their leading members were known to be favorable to a Grand Council for Quebec." And at the end of the report it is said. "that the officers of Branch 96, Levis, in the diocese of Quebec, refused to furnish the names and numbers of their members in good standing on their rols." — More by Brothers P. J. Montreuil, George LeBel, Calixte Dion, Francois Gin-gras, Eugene Labranche, seconded by Brothers T. Labranche, seconded by Brothers T. Labranche, Mo. 96, of the C. M. B. A. in the intriction of the Grand Council joyful sounds of the newly dedicated bells. In conclusion it may be said without flattery that the St. Louis congregation of Waterloo deserve unstinted credit and praise for their admirable zeal, union and devotion in the cause of the Church. For, although few in numbers, and little blessed with worldly wears, they have the most spacious and finest church ground in the country, where form-erly there was but a huge unsightly sand-hill and swamf. Their church is a jowel of neatness and beauty; and it is now complete in all it furniture, vestments and other ap-pointments. In a word they have accom-plished in a few short years, what many other are and weathy congregations could not do in a lifetime. May they always continue to labor and prosper in the future as they have so nobly done in the past !

AN ENTERTAINMENT AT JEROME'S COL-LEGE IN HONOR OF ST. BONIFACE.

AN ENTERTAINMENT AT JEROME'S COL-LEGE IN HONOR OF ST. BONIFACE. By the kind permission of the Faculty the Literary and Dramatic Society of St. Jer-ome's was permitted to invite a number of friends of the college and a few members of the press last evening to witness the produc-tion of a highly interesting society drama, called "A Father's Curse." Over a hundred ladies and gentlemen witnessed the produc-tion of the play in the dramatic hall of the college. Here the students have a pleasant room set apart for holding such entertain-ments. It is furnished with a good stage, drop curtain, cleverly-painted scenery, other accessories, and a good piano. The evening's entertainment opened with a musical selection by the college orchestra, after which the President, Mr. P. J. Donovan, in a neal little speech, welcomed the guests on behalf of the society. Mr. N. Lehman followed with an eulogistic address in German on the lite and work of St. Boniface, which was well delivered and well received. Prof. Meyerhofer, the skiltul leader and teacher of music at St. Jerome's and Mr. Peteprin, then gave a well-rendered plano duet, en-titled "The Shepherd's Evening Song." **

then gave a well-rendered piano duct, en-titled "The Shepherd's Evening Song." The play itself is very strongly written, and the interpretation given by the students hast evening was highly creditable. Mr. Frank C. Neisens took the leading rule, that of the father, and played the blind part with markable power, and at times succeeded in drawing the moisture to many an eye in the andience. The support he received was good, and reflected credit on his management. Mabel Heath was taken by Lucius Kesseler, who played the daughter's part very well. P. R. Dunigan acted the part of the cool, calculating villain sufficiently well to ear in and Simpkins, 'don't yer know,'' won the admiration of all. The part of Sadie Milton was well taken by Leo Doll, who made a sweet young lady and acted cleverly. P. S. Walsh, as loyad Dinny Doyle, was thoroughly at home in his part as a faithful servant, and won great applause on several occasions. Little Willie, the guide, also did well. The Dramatic Society is to be congratu-head on the successful presentation of the play, and the College on the possession of such talent. The students entirely suc-ceeded in pleasing their guests. During the progress of the play, Prof. Meyentofer rendered a violin solo, 'Lorelei,'' with varia-tions, in capital style, while the College lent music. Altogether the entertainment was an en-gyable and successful affair. — Berlin Record, June 6. A HALIFAX SENSATION.
