EVIDENCE OF THE WITNESSES

roborated by Another Witness - Trial at Next

TORONTO, Feb. 9.—The trial of the accused trio in the case of alleged poisoning, in which an attempt was said to have been made on the life of Watter Evans, a hotel-keeper at Sharon, by his wife, his hostler, named Osman, and a young man named Pegg, came up in the County Court house here yesterday.

Pegg. same up in the County Court house here yesterday.

The first witness to give evidence in the case was Maggie Reid, a servant girl. Her evidence was of a decidedly sensational nature. She had heard Pegg tell Mrs. Evans that the only way now left was to try the stuff in oysters. She saw a letter that Mrs. Evans wrote to Pegg, who was going on a visit to Toronto, telling him to be sure and buy "the stuff that started with S" when he reached the city. She had also seen Pegg's reply, which stated that he could not get the stuff in the city without being found out, and advising h r to send George to Bradford or Mount Albert. Osman had been sent to Bradford wive.

The whole case before it is completed promises to develop some of the most sensational evidence heard in court for many rears.

Tononto, Feb. 10.—The evidence given yesterday in the alleged case of attempted poisoning brought against Mrs. Evans, Charles Fegg and George Osman, was most damaging to the accused trio.

After Maggie Reid had finished her story of the doings at the Evans' house, Dr. Lewis H. Campbell, of Bradford, gave his testimony. His evidence corroborated the statements already published. George Osman had purchased 30 grains of strychnine on December 26 and 20 grains on January 4, asying that he wanted to pol-

After a number of other witnesses were camined, all going to damage the accused, Mrs. Evans was put on the stand, after which the Crown tested its case.

SENSATION IN A CHURCH Pastor of a Baltimore Church Assaulted by His Assistant.

BROOKLYN, Feb. 12.—A sensation was caused yesterday morning in St. Paul's Roman Catholic church by an attack upon the pastor, Rev. Wm. J. Hill, by his assistant, Rev. Patrick V. McDonald. Dr. McDonald had been appointed by Pastor Hill to celebrate the mass at 10 o'clock and also the high mass at 11 o'clock. During the celebration of the former the worshippers were amazed to see Dr. McDonald approach Father Hill, who entered to assist at the eelebration and strike him a violent blow, felling him to the floor. Before Father Hill could arise Dr. McDonald came to the chancel rail and gestioulating wildly. exclaimed that there had been a conspiracy between Father Hill and Bishop McDonell to drive him from the diocese. He then turned and again assaulted Father Hill. Parishioners finally rushed forward and held him until the arrival of officers. He was subsequently taken to St. Peter's Hospital for treatment. ### LORD ABERDEEN'S LETTER

He Expresses His Opinion of the Imperiance of the Quebec Carnival.

Quebec, Feb. 8.—The following letter was received yesterday by the Hon. Mr. Joly de Lothiniers from the Governor-General, and speaks for its-if:
Government House, Ottawa. February 6, 1894. Dear M. Joly de Lothiniers.

"Although I have orally mentioned to you the impression made upon Lady Aberdeen and myself by our experience of the carnival, I cannot help wishing to address a few more words to you in your official and representative capacity as president of the executive council, in order to express the heartiness with which we join in the congratulations which I am are must have poured in upon you and your colleagues on the executive committee, regarding the remarkable success which has attended your careful preparations and arduous exertions. Nor can I refrain from taking this opportunity of recording our thanks for the unique and notable recent arduous exertions. Nor can I refrain from taking this opportunity of recording our thanks for the unique and nutable reception accorded to us on our arrival. A reception indeed striking in point of leyalty, of magnitude, and of enthusiasm.

"It is not necessary for me to dilate upon the various indirect benefits that may be excepted to accrue from the auspicious accomplishment of the carnival.

upon the various indirect benefits that may be ex-ected to accrue from the auspicious accomplishment of the carnival, but I trust that among the results will be the unconscious influence likely to arise from the friendly and cheerful co-operation of all scotions of the community in one common purpose and enterprise, so that, as suggested by your address of well-come on the occasion of the brilliant concert on Thursday, we may all strive to live in the spirit and after the example typified by that most interesting and impressive of all the many interesting features of Quebec—I mean the monument erected by the joint action of French and English citizens to the joint memory of Wolfe and Montcalm.

"I will only add that when I have the honor of submitting to the Queen some accounts of the success and cellat which have distinguished this the first carnival in Quebec. I doubt not that Her Majesty will be graciously interested and gratified by the influence, all the more because the success has been so largely due to the activity of Her Majesty's French-Canadian subjects, whose loyalty is undoubtedly a source of pride and satisfaction to Her Majesty sait assuredly is also to the British people as a whole.

"I remain, dear Mr. Joly de Lotbiniere, "Yours very faithfully.

"Yours very faith "ABERDEEN.
