Mr Merchant, while you are talking "Buy in your home town" to your home town" to your customer, be sure and look well within—see that your letterheads, envelopes and other printing is done by the local printer. Make sure that the doctrine preached is followed in your own business.—Exchange.

The Reporter will be published later than usual this week on account of the tie-up on the railroads. The storm of yesterday was the heaviest of the year, perhaps of many years. The large amount of snow which fell drifted in such a manner as to completely block traffic on the local branch of the C.N.R. for two days. The sidewalks in the village were almost impassable for a time and snowshoes were requisitioned to get about the village.

Arrangements have been made whereby the ordinary rate of two cents per ounce applicable to all letters sent from Canada to the United Kingdom, will apply to letters addressed to British and Canadian troops on the continent. The rate on ordinary letters from Canada for the continent is five cents for the first ounce, and three cents for each subsequent ounce, so that this extension of the two cent an ounce rate to letters addressed to our soldiers on the continent is a decided reduction in favor of correspondence going to the soldiers.

THE VERSATILE EDITOR

(Bowmanville Statesman)

Editors have their peculiar troubles it is true, but the scribe who wrote this paragraph was not drawing very hard on his imagination for this little list of stunts: An editor should be able to write a poem, discuss the tariff, umpire a ball game, preach the gospel, beat a lawyer, report a wedding, write obituaries, saw wood, describe a fire, make one dollar do the work of ten, spout at a soiree, address the agricultural society, abuse the liquor traffic, test whiskey, subscribe to charity, go without meals, sneer at snobbery, wear diamonds, invent catchy advertisements, overlook scandal, praise the babies, administer to the afflicted, fight to a finish, mould opinions, sweep the office, move the world, scorn the flesh and the devil; be everything, feel everything, see and know everything on this worldly footstool and do it all on a dollar a year subscription basis—hard lines, it is true—but verily, it is not surprising that baldness and neurological battles early decimate the ranks of journalism.

Laid at Rest

The infant daughter of Mr and Mrs Gordon took place at 8 o'clock on Friday. The child was only 6 months old, and was suffering from a sickness of less than a week. Mr and Mrs Gordon accompanied the remains which were placed in the vault on Saturday.

Silver Wedding

An interesting assembly at the home of Mr and Mrs Foley Friday evening Jan. 29. An enjoyable evening was spent and refreshments were served. As it was their twenty-fifth anniversary Mr and Mrs Foley were presented with a beautiful present. They heartily thanked their friends for the kind token and the party broke up wishing their host and hostess many happy returns of the day.

HONORED AT PARTING

The Anglican congregation of Addison on Wednesday evening last honored Mr and Mrs L. J. Latimer and daughter, Gladys with an address and presentation. There were about 200 friends at the gathering. Mrs Fletcher Gibson read the address, the form of presentation being gold cuff links to Mr Latimer, a gold brooch to Mrs Latimer, and a gold jewel case to Miss Latimer. They all responded suitably to the following address:

Addison, Jan. 27, 1915
To Mr and Mrs L. J. Latimer and Gladys:

Dear Friends,—We have learned with deep regret that circumstances have developed which necessitate your severing your connection with our church where we have so long been co-workers together.

During the years you have been associated with us you have endeared yourselves to us by your self-sacrificing and kindly examples. In our church, our Sunday School and W.A. work you have given of your time, your talents and money, and we feel that your loss will indeed be hard to fill.

Mr Latimer for many years as Synod representative, we have always relied on your wise judgment, neither do we forget the many years as S.S. superintendent you so generously gave us of your good and wise counsel. Please accept from us these slight tokens of esteem to remind you that you have a host of friends in the Anglican congregation of Addison who will be thinking of you and wishing you many years of health and happiness to continue the good work you have so long been engaged in.

The Anglican Congregation
