FAMOUS SHIP ENGINEER.

Mr. L. Tomlinson, who estimates he has traveled about 2,125,000 miles.

Mr. L. Tomlinson, one of the most famous of ships' engineers, completed his last voyage as chief engineer of the Cunard liner Campania on her arrival in Liverpool, recently, retiring on a liberal pension after fifty-one and a half years' service with that company. As the vessel neared port on Saturday morning the saloon passengers met and formally presented him with his portrait, an illuminated address, and a purse of gold. One of the many feats which he performed at sea, just eleven years ago, stands out as remarkable. In the middle of December the Umbria was fighting her way through a great gale, about 800 miles out from New York, when her thrust shaft to which the propeller is attached snapped. On land no news could be obtained of the vessel, and Christmas passed without any tidings. Both in England and America the greatest concern was felt, and the vessel was given up as lost. But just before New Year's day the Umbria, very slowly and very gingerly steamed into the Cunard wharf at Liverpool. The old shaft could not be replaced, and the chief engineer had to piece up the great steel rod, on which practically the whole force of the engines is thrown. For eighty hours the engineer and his staff toiled, and at last with feelings of intense anxiety the engine was started. The shaft stood the test, and not a penny had to be paid in salvage. Mr. Tomlinson has served as engineer on fourteen of the company's ships, and estimates that he has traveled about 2,125,000 miles.

A Veteran Journalist.

Mr. Mason Jackson of The Illustrated London News, died the other day after forty-two years' service. Mr. Jackson's artistic experience dated back to the days of the Rebellion of 1837. Some years ago in an interview with The Sketch, Mr. Jackson told the story as follows: "It came about in a curious way," said Mr. Jackson, in answer to a question as to how he first became connected with the pictorial press. "In 1837 a rebellion broke out in Canada, the interest of which chiefly centered in Navy Island, in the Niagara River. There were no regular illustrated journals then, though The Weekly Chronicle and The Observer used occasionally to blossom out with a woodcut. Mr. Wyld, the map publisher, called to see my brother, John, and said that a block of Navy Island was urgently wanted for The Morning Chronicle. In my brother's absence I successfully undertook the work. The next incident was the fire at the Royal Exchange in 1838. A rough sketch of it was given me to execute for The Weekly Chronicle in a great hurry. I well remember working on it through a winter's night, the weather being as cold as the theme of my engraving was warm. Four days later my picture appeared in the paper. When the Queen's Coronation furnished the subject of a picture in The Weekly Chronicle I helped to engrave the Coronation procession. Thus as a young man I became equipped for the duties which ultimately came to me in the office of The Illustrated London News.

The Oldest London Kitchen.

Perhaps the oldest relic in London of a medieval kitchen is at Westminster Abbey, though little remains to indicate it save the rubble floor, the buttery hatch and an adjoining cellar, now the handsome dining hall of Canon Wilberforce. The monk who acted as kitchen or refectory had a responsibility as great as any hotel manager or chef in these days. For among his fellow monks, to say nothing of the pensioners, were critics as keen as any among the world-famed diners of to-day. Yet the Abbey kitchen was scarcely more elaborate than any one of those which linger on in the remote cottages of the rough Cornish coast or on the Yorkshire moors, where the entire cooking of the family is done on a flat hearth, with no other fuel than turf, or peat or twigs. The "broth-pot" hangs from a crane or stands on a tripod, and is most accommodating in its uses. Would you make bread? Lay the dough on a clean iron plate and invert the broth pot over it; then heap up all round it your lighted turf or wood.—Windsor Magazine.

Cholly—Doctor, I want something for my head.
Dr. Gruffy—My dear fellow, I wouldn't take it for a gift.

Monkey Brand Soap makes copper like gold, tin like silver, crockery like marble, and windows like crystal.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

At the Chatham Grand:—
Harry Clarke's Vaudeville Co.—
Thursday, Feb. 22.

(Supplied to The Planet by Press Agents.)

Harry Clarke, who stage-managed Robin Hood, is putting on a first-class vaudeville show here on Thursday night.

Among the artists are George M. White, originator and leader of the Newsboys' Band at Washington. He

The part of Mary, the daughter, is played by Barbara Lane, a young debutante of much merit, who has a great future.

Col. Thornton, the old-time lover of Mrs. Trefusis, will be played by Harry Clarke.

Two distinctive stars will accompany Mr. Clarke, Little Queenie Wright, the dainty child wonder, and Miss Jessie Cree, the talented lady whistler and ballad singer, both of whom are artists in the true sense of the term.

This winsome little lady is Queenie Wright, the 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wright, of this city. She is a great favorite in Deis well known in musical circles, and has a funny trombone stand, called "Rambling Mose." Mr. White is also a cornet soloist.

Sisters Leo, who have just returned from a successful western trip with "A Run on the Bank" company, where they met phenomenal success and received much praise for their refined and entertaining turn.

"Avola," the graceful contortionist, whose back bending was the marvel in western cities.

Louis McPhee has earned a world wide reputation as a banjo artist and a buck and wing dancer. He is shortly to tour Europe, where the Detroit Dramatic Agency has secured him a good place.

La Belle Azetta, as a novelty dancer, will introduce her Japanese, Spanish, skirt and gypsy dances, which have earned her a reputation from New York to San Francisco.

Harold Moran, character sketch vocalist, is well-known. His portrayal of "The Dope Fiend," an entertaining sketch, in which the artist makes up before the audience and illustrates his tuneful melodies with clever characterizations.

MISS JESSIE CREE.

Who Appears in Harry Clarke's High Class Refined Vaudeville Company on Thursday Evening Next.

"Ambition," a romantic sketch in one act, teaching the lesson that social ambition cannot alone satisfy the heart's desires, that after all love is the only dominating power that can bring contentment into one's life.

Miss Cathleen Barry, a lady who has gained great repute in many leading roles, plays the part of Mrs. Trefusis, a woman who realizes that social ambition leaves nothing but the taste of bitter apples behind it.

After training her daughter with the idea that social triumphs are the aim of a girl's life, tells her just before it is too late of that erroneous impression.

troit. She very cleverly entertained a social gathering of Damascus Commandery, Knights Templar, at the Masonic Temple last Monday evening. This pretty little girl is a talented singer. Her first appearance was in the Masonic Temple when only four years old, at which time she made a great hit with the song called, "Just Wait Until I Get a Little Older." Her favorite songs are "My Little Kitty and I," "What Would You Take for Me, Papa," "My Little White Dove," "Wonder Why Papa Don't Write," the last being composed by Thomas Childers and Miss Blanche and dedicated to little Queenie.—Detroit Free Press, 1903.

Mr. Clarke and his company will be extended a hearty welcome by Chathamites.

The reserve seat plan opens tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, at Brisco's.

DISTRICT DOINGS.

Feb. 20.—Miss Kathleen Fraser of Detroit, is spending a few days at the home of her father, Mr. J. S. Fraser.

The trophy won by the Wallaceburg curlers at Chatham, on Thursday, is on exhibition at Mr. F. Dulong's restaurant.

The train going to Chatham on Thursday morning was detained a mile from Chatham with a broken axle. The passengers were obliged to walk to the city, and the curling stones were brought in by a rig.

Miss Seeds is spending Sunday at her home at Courtwright.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gillard, of Owassa, Mich., are visiting at the home of the former's mother, Mrs. Anna Gillard, also with other relatives.

The death took place yesterday, Feb. 19th, of Larisa Hodgins, aged 72 years.

Mr. Chas. Hubbard has undergone a critical operation at Chatham, for appendicitis.

Mr. Geo. Belson, of London, has charge of the barber shop until Mr. Hubbard's recovery, which it is hoped will be speedy.

The first hockey match of the season was played off on the rink on Thursday evening. The result was a victory for the home team by a score of 4-2. A number witnessed the game, which proved fast and interesting.

The C. O. F. of Port Lambton, will hold a supper and concert on Feb. 23. Mr. Harrington, P. C. R. of Chatham, will be present, also Dr. Henderson, of Sarnia. Mrs. Crummett of this place, will take part on the program, also the Walpole Island Jubilee Singers. Mr. Jas. Clancy, M. P. will be one of the speakers of the evening; also Rev. Mr. Brighorn, of Walpole Island.

BLLENHEIM

Perfect Digestion Means Health.

A Good Stomach Keeps Every Part of the Body in Perfect Condition and Disease Cannot Break In.

You Can Also Enjoy Mince Pie if You Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

If your stomach is all right, you are all right. Why are growing boys nearly always healthy? Because they have not abused their stomachs by excessive eating and drinking and weakened or destroyed the functions of that organ. Because they eat what Nature demands of good whole-some food and then take plenty of exercise and run and romp and help out in the process of digestion and keep their stomachs strong and well. The same is true of men who lead active outdoor lives and engage in physical activity. Their digestion is perfect, their food nutriment is properly assimilated, the blood is pure and healthy and you seldom hear of them being affected with headache, backache, kidney trouble, liver trouble, constipation or any other of the common ills that always afflict those with bad stomachs.

If there is anything wrong with you, be sure your stomach is right. If it is not right, get it right and do it in the right way—that is the natural way.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a natural remedy for all stomach disorders and weakness. They possess exactly the same properties that the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach possess and they actually do the digestive work of the stomach and enable that organ to rest and recuperate and become sound and well. They act in a mild, natural manner and cause no disturbance in the digestive organs. They prevent any fermentation of the food which causes sour stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets instill health into every part of the human body. They compel perfect digestion of the food and perfect assimilation of the food nutriment. Every organ and part of the body is kept in repair and good health necessarily results. At the same time the stomach, being relieved of the work of digestion, gets well and strong.

A prominent Detroit physician says: "I prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for all cases of stomach trouble. I have tried many prescriptions, including a number of my own, but find nothing that gives such universal relief as this remedy. They are natural, harmless and thoroughly effective in their work, and while I have a natural antipathy to patent medicines, I do not hesitate to prescribe and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on all occasions."

The above is no exception. The best physicians are prescribing them all over the land. They can be had of any druggist for 25 cents a box, and if your own doctor is real honest with you, he will tell you frankly that there is nothing on earth so good for dyspepsia as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

esting one. There will be a silver collection.

Mr. J. C. Fleming is moving into the brick house lately vacated by R. L. Gosnell.

The sparrow shoot that was to have been held at Cedar Springs today is postponed for one week, owing to many members of the teams being sick.

Mr. Allan Russell is moving into the house he purchased from Mrs. James Bell, on Sheldrick street.

Mr. Wm. Campbell will hold a sale of his farm stock and implements at his residence, Lot 13, Con. 7, Back Ridge Road. As Mr. Campbell intends to move to town, he has purchased the house now occupied by Mr. W. Feetham, the property of W. E. Hall.

The death occurred on Tuesday of Mrs. Andrew Downie, at the age of 68 years. She came to Harwich in 1880 and was married to Mr. A. Downie in 1883 by the Rev. Mr. Ker-shaw. The funeral took place yesterday at the Evergreen Cemetery, the Rev. W. E. Kerr officiating.

At Toronto, on Wednesday last Mr. Jas. Hogan was united in marriage to Miss E. Krampe, of Toronto. Mr. Hogan was a former captain in the Salvation Army here, but lately has been employed in C. E. Myer's machine shop.

The following are the scores of those who took part in Blenheim Gun Club weekly shoot on Tuesday last: Ritchie 11, M. Samson 6, C. Gilbert 11, H. Holmes 10, Mont. Burk 18, H. L. Merritt, 8, W. O'Brien 15, F. Gilbert 16, W. Vester 14, L. Cox 13, A. Handy 14, F. Suitor 19, J. Wetherald 13, P. Slater 8, Marshall Burk 7, Hy. B. 12.

Mr. Wilbur Bradburn has disposed of the farm he lately purchased from H. Brackett, to Mr. S. Burk, 3rd con.

Mr. Leslie Myland, of U. S. S. Yantic, at Detroit, came home last week quite sick. He will not return for some time.

We Know What

Is going to happen to the little boy who is stuffing himself with green apples. A grown man couldn't be induced to try that experiment; and yet the grown man will overload himself with indigestible food for which he will pay a greater penalty than colic. It is this careless and thoughtless eating which is the beginning of stomach trouble and all its painful consequences.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other forms of "stomach trouble." It restores the weak and run-down man or woman to sound health.

"Some time has elapsed since I have written you in regard to the treatment I have been taking under your instructions," says Mr. E. F. Cingmars, of Minneapolis, Minn. "When first I commenced taking your remedies I was under treatment of a well-known specialist in this city (and had been for four months), for catarrh, and especially stomach trouble, and I was rapidly getting worse. Got so bad that I could not eat anything that did not distress me terribly, and I was obliged to quit taking the doctor's treatment entirely. I was greatly reduced in flesh. As a last resort I wrote to you and stated my case, and, after receiving your instructions I followed them closely. After the bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and one vial of his Pleasant Pellets I commenced to improve, and the medicines and observe your instructions regarding my treatment, and I can say that I am well and stronger than I have been in my life. Am very grateful to you for what your medicine has done for me."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness and sick headache.
