UPHAM, SMITH, SHAW

The Three Opposition Winners
Named at Hartland
Convention

In Friday's downpour more than 400 delegates, drove and came by train to the most enthusiastic political convention held in Carleton county in many years. Every polling district was represented and the names of G. W. Upham, C. L. Smith, ex-M.P.P., and Frank R. Shaw put forward by the nominating committee were received with cheers, and the choice was made unanimous. The spirit of the meeting would indicate that the county was thoroughly disgusted with the Flemming government. Richard Wheeler, of Florenceville seventy-five years old, a lifelong Tory, told the assembly he had worked to put the present government in, but would work to put them out. He spoke with much vigor, and was followed by A. R. Rigby, who also had been a lifelong Tory but he had voted for reciprocity and was told at that time by Premier Flemming that if he, Rigby, or any other Conservative voted for Carvell they forfeited his friendship forever.

A. B. Copp was given a great reception and has already won a strong place with Carleton county voters. In his ringing denunciation of the government, he made himself clear to the people interested in the Valley railway just where he stood, branding as false as H—the Tory canvass that he and the opposition voted to kill the project.

Mr. Copp stated that if he became leader of the government he would follow out to the letter the arrangement to build the Valley railway, and moreover, the construction to Grand Falls and to St. John would immediately begin.

Mr. Flemming was doing himself an injury and him a personal injustice in representing throughout the county that he had opposed the road. The duty of the hour was to see that the province was safeguarded against the infamy of having the road stop short of Andover and St. John and, as was positively known to be the intention, handed over to the C.P.R. That corporation owned Flemming, who was bound helpless in its gigantic maw, and it would directly own the Valley road and the province. What had Flemming given that corporation since the memorable private car ride? The Minto Railway, the Central Railway, the Pinder Railway and the plan was nicely laid to hand over the Valley road.

"I will state my position and pledge you, man to man, that if given the opportunity to lead the government, I will give a square deal, and if I cannot in the next four years do better than this government has done I will step out and ask you to select someone else."

The candidates spoke briefly owing to the fact that the train was soon to leave for the Woodstock meeting.

Frank Shaw is a splendid speaker, his selection is popular and his election considered safe.

C. L. Smith said he was glad to get back and his heart beat strong for the party, despite what the Standard had to say.

"Get out and fight," was F. B. Caryell's word to the electors. He spoke briefly and said that he knew the Valley road would not be built to Grand Falls. Flemming knew he knew it. He knew the whole scheme and the most fatal thing in this world to Flemming's plans would be to arrange for the construction to Grand Falls.

The meeting broke up with hearty cheers for the candidates. The very air is vibrant with opposition today and it is considered by level-headed Conservatives that Flemming's defeat in his own county is sure.

Gillin-Thompson.

A quite but pretty wedding took place at 5 o'clock Monday Morning in St. Gertrude's church when Rev. F. J. McMurray, the pastor, united in marriage Miss Blanche Thompson, daughter of Daniel Thompson of Woodstock, and W. Riley Gillin, a prominent produce buyer of Hartland, Harry Gillin, brother of the groom, was groomsman, and Mrs.

Harry Gillin supported the bride. After a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride, the happy couple left on the early train for a honeymoon trip to Boston and other American cities—Press.

Last Friday Harley Grant the seventeen year old son of Gideon Grant of Charleston met an accident that may result in the complete loss of sight. It was a gun powder explosion.
