COBALT

STOCKS

And Others

GOOD and BAD

"Advice is cheap," is the sneer of the cynic who does not appreciate the value of the results of the experience of others.

Is this not a mistake? Is not every human being with sufficient "grey matter" to think intelligently dependent on advice in numerous emergencies?

He falls ill; he asks the advice of a doctor; he pays for it, and probably recovers.

He is imposed on by his neighbor—he gets the advice of a lawyer, and pays for it and gains redress.

He asks his tailor for advice and is a well-dressed man in

The doctor, the lawyer, the tailor, all have no other equipment than the cynic who asks their advice, i.e. intelligence

But, each of them, however, have given time, patience, thought, money, his best endeavor, to the solution of the problems that arise in his certain line of work.

They are specialists.

Their advice is sought.

So it is in investing.

A doctor, a lawyer, a tailor saves money for those they serve. They also save time, money, thought, labor.

One might do without them. It is a credit to one's good sense that one uses all of them in their different ways

It is a credit to the good sense of a large number of successful investors that they use the services of this Bureau.

What Cobalt stocks can make money for you?

We can tell you because we know. What is this advice worth to you?

We will answer that by asking a question. What is it worth to get the biggest possible dividend from an investment?—Cobalt stocks are (some of them) an investment.

It stands to reason if we can help others and gain the confidence of others, we can be of service to you.

We simply say we know more about Cobalt stocks than If we are worth anything we are worth a trial. Below you have the opportunity.

We know there are some Cobalt stocks selling at a price in excess of their par value. We know there are others selling at a figure in excess of their original market price.

The market is active, and in some cases this increased value is the result of manipulation—the outcome of clever stock-juggling. In others it is the result of the genuine worth of the properties. We can tell you which.

Then again, there are Cobalt stocks selling at a lower figure than the original market price. In some cases this is the result of a determination on the part of interested parties to obtain back, (now that the properties have proven valuable), at a lower price that it sold for, all the stock of these ies. In other cases, the low price is all the stock is These are the "wild-cats" of which Cobalt in common with all mining camps has not a few. There is stock it would be very foolish to sell at the present price—then again, there is stock (?) which might advantageously be sold at present or even a lower price because it worthless in the extreme.

To the investor who is able to go over the ground and see what he is buying, Cobalt offers splendid opportunities for investment.

To the others, the great majority, who know Cobalt only the oily-tongued promotor or the well-groomed, polished agent, or the well-written, handsomely printed prospectus describes it, with happily worded pictures of wealth, ready to be hand-picked—then Cobalt offers an opportunity for the loss of much money unless you have reliable advice.

It is to these that our services are valuable. We can give you a definite, authoritative, reliable report on Cobalt mines. Our information is gathered by men who understand their busi-We are not connected with any mining company-we have no stock to sell, one way or other, but are independent to the last word

If you are a holder of Cobalt stock we can tell you by son of the fact that we know the truth about the property, whether it is worth the market price—whether it is worth more whether it is in reality worth less.

Larder Lake

What we have said above applies to Larder Lake properties as well as Cobalt. We are equally well informed as to formation are as adequate as in reference to Cobalt.

In fact, we have investigated many mining concerns in of the continent outside of Cobalt and Larder Lake, and solicit correspondence regarding any mine.

Sonora or Promontrio Mining Co., Mexico

We are just completing a report on the above property for several local shareholders and would be pleased to send to any one interested a copy of this report for one dollar ($1.00).

What It Costs

For information and advice upon any Cobalt or Larder Lake property we make a uniform rate of one dollar ($1.00) for each mine reported on, which must in every case be remitted with enquiry. If we cannot give this information and render an opinion which in our judgment is of real value we will return the $1.00 with our reply.

If there is any Cobalt or Larder Lake property you wish to know about, write us a letter, give the exact name of com-pany (there are several very similar) and the city where you understand the head office is; whether you hold stock and if so how much; whether you intend purchasing and how much. Specially mention any particular point on which you wish en-

We will send report whenever possible by return mail and if it is necessary for us to submit your enquiry to our Cobalt and New Liskeard correspondents we will notify you to that effect and forward report as soon as completed.

As all our information is sent out in writing we do not, as a rule, give personal interviews. If, however, you desire a personal appointment and we think the case warrants it we vill name a time for you to call if you will notify us of your

SEVEN YEARS. AND THE LASH

Given to William O'Connor For Assault on Woman.

Judge Snider Passed a Stiff Sentence Yesterday

And Also Spoke a Few Very Timely Words.

"Stand up, William O'Connor! You are charged with a very serious offense, robbery and assault, and this is a crime which must be stopped by severe meas ures. If it is permitted, every young girl will be afraid to walk up the street, without the danger of assault from such men as you. You have already served two terms for just the same sort of offences, besides a number of minor offenses, and as you have been out but a short time, it can hardly be to your new credit to start on your career crime so early. It was only the other day that Justice Anglin in Toronto sent a man to Kingston for life, on the same charge which I find you guilty of. I am not going to send you down for life, but I am going to make the sentence strong to make you understand what serious crime you have committed. Is sentence you to seven years in penitan-tiary, with 30 strokes of the lasn. Fifteen lashes to be given the first three months of the first year and the rest the last three months of the second

Such was the sentence handed out to William O'Connor, found guilty of assaulting and robbing Mary Vodyck, on April' 10, by Judge Suider, yesterday afternoon, after hearing evidence in the trial, which lasted nearly two hours. Mr. J. L. Counsell, for the prisoner, fought hard for his client, but the evidence of the girl, Vodyck, proved to be a stumbling block to the accused. Her evidence, given through the court interpreter, Budimir Protich, was straightforward enough for His Honor to take as correct. She stated that O'Connor had accosted her while she was on her way to the Stuart street station pre-Such was the sentence handed out t Stuart street station pro shops. O'Connor asked ner to go none with him, but as she did not understand the English language, she did not pay attention to what he said until he grabbed her satchel away, and at the same time, struck her in the dicth. She screamed and ran after the prisoner, but did not eath him. When she saw him again he was in the hands of P. C. Brown, who had taken up the chase. She positively identified O'Connor as the man who had assaulted and robbed her. Other witnesses swore that they had chased O'Connor, but did not see the assault as described by Miss Vodyck. Two men named Marshall both swore that O'Connor had been working in the same same and ran after the prisoner, but did not eatch him. When she saw him again he was in the hands of P.C. Stock at the Savov.

Stock at the Savoy.

The Summers Stock Company played to good business again at the Savoy last night, and kept the audience in a "riot" of laughter with their screamingly funny farce, "The Wrong Man." It is one of the best comedy attractions seen here in a long time, and given a clever presentation by Mr. Summers and his capable company, proves thoroughly enjoyable from first to last. Dainty little Miss Doris Canfield, who does a specialty between the acts, has established herself a favorite already with the theatre's patrons, and presents a delightfully entertaining number.
