

DETROIT JURY DISAGREED.

The Unwritten Law Denounced by Judge Connolly.

No Man Has Right to Kill to Avenge Private Wrong

And Thus Become Judge, Jury and Executioner.

Detroit, Mich., July 17.—The jury which held the fate of the Armenian, Dr. G. K. Boyajian, for the killing of his nephew, Haroot Gostanian, were locked up yesterday afternoon to consider whether or not the prisoner was guilty of murder in the first degree.

Judge Connolly in a remarkable address, in which he charged against the prisoner, waited until after midnight before ordering the jury locked up for the night.

Yesterday afternoon, Prosecutor Van Zille and Judge Connolly delivered their addresses. In his address Judge Connolly said that according to the Michigan law no man could take life to avenge a private wrong. The slaying of Gostanian was not justifiable homicide. He considered that if the unwritten law prevailed justice would be a cheat, peril and misnomer.

"The killing of a human being by another is called homicide," said the judge. "It is undepicted in this case that on April 30 of this year the defendant shot Haroot Gostanian at the Police Court of this city, and that on the same day Gostanian died as the result of the wound or wound—so inflicted by this defendant. Hence, gentlemen, the defendant's act was homicide—he killed a human being.

"Homicides are divided into three classes: "1. Justifiable. "2. Excusable. "3. Felonious.

"To which of these classes does the defendant's homicide belong? Upon your answer to this question depends your verdict.

"Was the homicide justifiable? I charge you, gentlemen, that defendant's killing of Gostanian was not a justifiable homicide. This I say to you as emphatically as words permit. A justifiable homicide is one which in contemplation of law is committed according to a strict legal right. Under the testimony here produced the defendant had no right to kill Gostanian—absolutely no right whatever. No man can take another man's life to avenge his private wrong. This is the law of the State of Michigan. You must heed and follow that law without reservation. Any other rule would put a premium upon assassination. It would permit any and every man who considers himself injured by another to be his own judge, jury and executioner. Under such a rule any man could determine from the facts and without a hearing the guilt of his enemy; he could pass sentence upon him; he could execute him—a grotesque and atrocious thing which is the law of the land, and of justice a cheat, a peril and a misnomer. Hence, I charge you as the law that this homicide was not justifiable under the facts in testimony."

JURY DISAGREED.

Detroit, Mich., July 17.—The jury in the murder trial of Dr. G. K. Boyajian, who shot and killed his nephew, Haroot Gostanian, disagreed and was discharged early this morning.

LABOR WILL HAVE HOME.

Arrangements for Building Temple Are Progressing Nicely.

The Trades and Labor Council at its meeting last night took the initial steps towards providing the trades unions of the city with a labor temple. The lease of the present quarters does not expire for some time, but at last night's session a committee was appointed to get information and formulate plans for the erection of a labor hall, so that the unions will have suitable quarters when the time arrives to vacate the present building.

The report of the Labor Day Committee showed everything in connection with the celebration to be progressing satisfactorily. The choice of location has narrowed down to a couple of places, and the committee was authorized to decide the matter without waiting to report back to the Council.

Fifty per cent. of the proceeds of the Labor Day affair will go into a building fund for the proposed Labor Hall. Reference was made to the move on foot to make further restrictions on the distribution of printed matter in the city, and the Municipal Committee was asked to look into it, as it was thought restrictive legislation of this kind could easily be carried too far.

The Technical Committee was instructed to urge on the Technical School Committee that Canadians be employed as instructors wherever practicable.

The Stonecutters' Union wrote suggesting that the Council appoint representatives to the Greater Hamilton Association. The letter was referred to the Building Trades Council, as the stonecutters are not affiliated with the general Trades Council.

A circular in reference to a convention of women workers to be held in Chicago, was referred to the delegates whose unions have members of the sex on their rolls, with a recommendation for cooperation.

Some comment was made by garment workers that union bands and societies requiring uniforms were not careful to insist on the union label appearing thereon.

WAS IT A DUEL?

Lieut. Sutton Had Been Challenged by Brother Officer.

"Let Me Get at Him, I'll Kill Him," One Remark.

New York, July 17.—An Annapolis, Md., despatch to the American says that two persons of prominence who live in Annapolis and who prefer not to have their names mentioned, confirmed yesterday the existence of certain documentary evidence that James N. Sutton, the young marine officer who met his death on Oct. 12, 1907, was challenged by one of his fellow officers. The statement of Owens, the chauffeur, makes it probable that this is the explanation of the attack which the latter declares Adams made upon Sutton when the party alighted from the automobile. Owens has all along said that the affair had every semblance of being prearranged.

The letter closed, he stated, with these words, "Let's call the gun play off."

Among the remarks which a former employee of the academy heard from the party was this: "Let me get at him; I'll kill him." Who it was who shouted this he does not know, nor can he identify positively any of the party. He heard the shots clearly, stating that there were three in rapid succession, and then two more.

DUE TO SHOCK.

Liquor the Cause of Troubles of Mr. and Mrs. Rae.

Toronto, July 17.—The coroner's jury decided at the inquest held last night in the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Rae on July 12 that Mrs. Rae came to her death immediately as the result of shock consequent upon a broken arm combined with a low physical condition produced by chronic alcoholism.

Mrs. Rae had been found by the police last Friday afternoon lying at the foot of the stairs at 390 Church street badly bruised, with a broken arm, and under the influence of liquor. She was taken to St. Michael's Hospital, where she died on Monday morning, July 12th. Before she died she told several people, including the doctor who attended her at the hospital, that her husband had hit her on the arm with a broomstick, and had knocked her downstairs. Dr. G. E. Smith, Dr. Uren and Dr. Chas. E. Rowland gave evidence to this effect.

According to the story told by Rae, his wife had been drinking heavily and on Friday afternoon threatened to stab him with a pair of scissors. She threw the scissors at him and then stepped back and fell down stairs. Rae said that any quarrels they had had were always started by her. He himself had never been drunk in his life, and had been working steadily up to Tuesday of last week.

Rae's two sons, George and William, took the witness stand and declared that they had often seen their father strike their mother when he was under the influence of drink, which was latterly a great part of the time.

Rae and his wife formerly lived in Hamilton where he was employed as a cutter and clothing inspector.

26 LIVES LOST.

Earthquake Not So Disastrous as at First Supposed.

Athens, July 17.—From reports sent in by the prefects from the Province of Elis, the casualty list in the earthquake of Thursday does not appear so large as was at first feared. Up to the present time it is known that twenty-six persons lost their lives. Twenty-three bodies have been recovered from the ruins of Havari, where about 250 houses were destroyed. Eighty persons were injured at this village. Three persons were killed at Pomboti, and ten were injured at Analaiva. The quakes caused more or less damage at other points, but did not result in casualties.

INSULTS AGAIN HEAPED UPON HAMILTON WOMEN.

Declaring that a certain newspaper in Hamilton was offering prizes to vulgar men to insult women on the streets of the city, a well-known young lady of East Hamilton reported at the Times office this morning that she had been subjected to great annoyance on Central Market and again on the street leading from the market. This young lady who left her name and address, declared that a man caught hold of her in the market and accused her of being Dolly Dimples. She told him she was not and asked him to leave go her arm. The man, with an insulting laugh, insisted and called upon another rough fellow, who was close at hand, to hold her until he could go some where and get a copy of the newspaper. The young lady was advised to call for the police but the thought of having to appear in court in such a case was revolting to her. The suggestion of the police, however, evidently made the man think, and he allowed her to go. However, he procured a copy of the paper and again accosted the young lady after she had left the market. Several other unpleasantnesses have been called to the attention of the Times. The ladies are in a very trying position. They must either submit to being pulled around and questioned by fellows they do not wish to speak to, or else call the police and go to the police court, a thing which is obnoxious to every woman.

Boulbee and Kennedy Were in All Probability Drowned.

The Boat Found in Bay Was a Yesterday's Upset.

Last Seen of Missing Men Was Just Before Storm.

"From enquiries I made yesterday along the lake shore I fear there is no hope of the boys being alive," said J. P. Bell, manager of the head office of the Bank of Hamilton here, whose brother-in-law, F. O. Boulbee, and J. C. Kennedy, of Toronto, but formerly of this city, have been missing since Sunday, when they were last seen west of Niagara Point by the captain of the tug "Mary R."

"The captain told me," said Mr. Bell, "that shortly after the boat passed there a heavy squall came up and it blew hard all night."

It was thought last night that a small up-turned sailboat found in the bay about a mile from the piers, might be the one belonging to the missing men. It was first noticed by the captain of the Turbine, who called the attention of Captain Lundy, Beach lighthouse keeper, to it. With Commodore Judd, of the Hamilton Yacht Club, and Arthur Brown, Captain Lundy towed the up-turned boat to shore. It was a small sailboat, painted white outside, and a leg-of-mutton sail. There were one and a half pairs of shoes and socks, and one oar was in the boat when it was found.

"It could not possibly be the boat," said Capt. Lundy, this morning. "It was only a 14-footer, while the Toronto boat was a 26 footer."

The Toronto boat had the figure 9 and letter N sewed on the sail, while this boat had no marks. It was stated this morning that the boat Capt. Lundy picked up was one in which Elmer S. Chagnon, 131 Wentworth street north, a stenographer, in City Clerk Kent's office, and a friend were sailing yesterday. It capsized near Oaklands, and the occupants were rescued by men in a rowboat, after being in the water a considerable time. They were taken to Oaklands.

It was reported last night that an up-turned boat had been seen between Port Credit and Cobourg. This clue will be followed and Mr. Bell thinks it may be the boat.

Mr. Frank Turner, uncle of Boulbee, has sent two launches out along the shores to search. Messrs. A. G. Stimson & Company, where Kennedy worked, are also remitting in their efforts to secure tidings of the missing young men.

PURE MILK FOR BABIES.

Child Life-Saving on Scientific Lines—Godsend to Mothers.

Last summer, according to Dr. Roberts' records, one hundred babies died of stomach and intestinal diseases in Hamilton, all or most of which might be said to have been due to unclean milk and improper feeding.

This year a commission appointed by the Hamilton Medical Health Society, working with Dr. Roberts and the Health Department, has begun a campaign for clean milk for babies. Through the generosity of the Victorian Order of Nurses funds have been advanced to begin at once, and clean milk—not pasteurized—will be available at stations in the city by the first of next week, Monday or Tuesday.

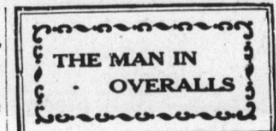

The milk stations will be established in the Butter Market building and at the City Hospital and milk may be had at cost price, an expense of about one cent per feeding for a baby.

The cows supplying milk have been examined and declared free from tuberculosis. A steam sterilizer is used to clean all utensils, and a nurse is stationed on the farm to supervise the milking, bottling and cooling of the milk. Everything possible will be done to supply to the depots milk that will be pure and free from germs.

The campaign for cleaner milk as carried on during 10 years by the Rochester, N.Y., Health Department after whose ideas the Hamilton Commission is working, has resulted in cutting the infant death rate in half. If you want to keep your baby well during the hot months, call at one of the depots, get literature on this subject, and use the milk thus made available for all infants.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

Don't stay away from church to-morrow because the minister happens to be away on his holidays.

Who is supposed to see that things run smoothly at Dundurn? Nobody in charge, Mr. Wild?

Another factory coming. More on the way.

1909 is certainly a drowning year. I never heard of anything like it.

You don't need to go to Toronto to buy your goods. You don't catch Toronto people coming here to make purchases.

Start up a little fire in the furnace every other week or so. It keeps the rust from getting in its work.

Now would be a good time to have the sanderucker clean out the mountain drain.

On Monday do your shopping so that there will be no trouble in closing the stores at 5 p. m.

It might be as well for the caretaker to have the church furnace going good and hot to-night, so that everything will be nice and comfortable on Sunday morning. I hate a cold church.

Any more candidates for the Mayor? Wouldn't Chairman Clark like to take a whirl at it?

Well, what will be the next fake, I wonder?

There is some talk of the P. P. A. being resurrected. Where's Mrs. Shepherd?

The person who is competent to teach men and women how to walk should be able to make a fortune. From observation I am constrained to say that not one in a hundred of Hamilton people know how.

Did it ever occur to you what a lot of work falls to the man who accepts the position of Sunday School superintendent or even of teacher? Does it for nothing too. And such a thankless job. Teaching your boy and other boys how to get on the right road and how to keep there. Did I say he gets nothing for it? Well he does. He gets sauce and impudence and provocation enough to make him wish to wring the neck of some of the young heathens. And you never even ask him to tea.

I often wonder why the Labor men do not take a more definite stand on Sunday labor and early closing.

As I said, the other day, my Liberal friends ought to be doing some deep thinking as to how they are to beat the enemy in the next battle. We can't afford to get beaten all the time. In fact, I won't stand for it.

With such fine shooting, we ought to have the King's Prize this year.

Who is responsible for decent ladies being insulted in the street by strange men? What other fake will the people have to put up with?

THE PICNIC.

Great Event of the Grocers on Wednesday Next.

The annual picnic of the Grocers' Association at Niagara Falls next Wednesday promises to be bigger and better than ever. The programme of games is the longest on record—21 events. In addition to the regular card there will be some spectacular features, including the explosion of bombs containing orders for 500 prizes, and the release of a lot of homing pigeons, which will race back to Hamilton. Klein & Binkley have donated a gold watch to be awarded to the oldest lady on the grounds, and a special prize will go to the largest family in attendance.

Excellent transportation facilities for reaching the Falls will be offered by the two railway companies—the G. T. R. and T. H. & B. The time table will be published on Monday.

THINK BY-LAW COVERS CASE.

Advertising Matter Must Not be Thrown on Verandahs, Etc.

Deal For Holland White Property Has Been Closed.

London Thinks It Is Not Getting Square Deal.

Discussing demands made by local retail merchants that the council enact legislation preventing Toronto firms from distributing advertising matter around Hamilton, the city solicitor declared to-day that he did not think the present by-law could be improved upon. At the conference yesterday it was suggested that application be made to the Legislature to have the statute amended so that all advertising matter would have to be placed inside doors. The present by-law practically provides for that. It makes it an offence to place advertising matter of any sort on verandahs, lawns, door steps or any place where it is likely to blow on the street. There have been several convictions under this by-law, although some have expressed the opinion that if tested the by-law would be declared illegal, as it goes further than the statute. Mr. Waddell does not admit this, however. He points out that the statute provides that advertising matter shall not be distributed where it is likely to blow around the streets and public places. This is what the Hamilton by-law covers. It is likely that complaints made by the merchants will result in the police being instructed to see that the by-law is more rigidly enforced than at present.

Whoooping cough and scarlet fever continue to head the list of cases of infectious and contagious diseases reported to the health department. During the week seven new cases of scarlet fever and six of whooping cough have been recorded; also one case each of diphtheria and typhoid fever.

The Parks Board just closed the deal for the Holland A. White property in the southwest end, which completes the mountain drive and parks scheme. The purchase price was $9,000. The key of the house, which will be rented for some years, was handed-over to the secretary of the board to-day.

Secretary Barr, of the Harbor Committee, was wrathful to-day because a local paper yesterday urged that the drowning of a boy in the bay showed the need of a supervised swimming bath. Mr. Barr points out that the city already has a supervised swimming bath, —the Donald baths. The city pays a man $40 a month to look after it and the place is crowded every day.

The London papers point out that Hon. Adam Beck's latest declaration on the power situation from Hamilton's standpoint makes it very clear that London and the other municipalities will have no say in the terms on which Hamilton will enter the power union. They say this is rather a startling statement for Londoners who were promised a square deal.

It is likely that the Hydro Commission will have some pertinent enquiries fired at it when the London power committee confers with it in Toronto on Tuesday. Some of the aldermen there persist in believing that they have been double-crossed.

H. Bowler was granted a permit to-day for a frame house on Gordon street, between Birch and Sanford avenue, to cost $1,400.

The Toronto papers speak glowingly of the manner in which the civil representatives of that city were entertained here on Thursday. The Telegram says: "The city fathers were more than pleased with the hospitality of the Hamilton City Council, which could not have possibly crowded more enjoyment into such a small space of time."

Mayor McLaren to-day cabled congratulations to Lieut. Col. Bertram and the Hamilton boys on the Bisley team for their success in capturing two of the most coveted cups at the meeting. His message read, "Hamilton congratulates the Canadian team."

ORPHANS' AUTO OUTING.

Arrangements have been completed for the second annual orphans' outing to be held at Winona Park next Thursday. About two hundred children will be entertained by a drive to the park, where games and refreshments will be provided, and a good time for all is looked for. The outing is given by the Hamilton Automobile Club.

LIKE ENGLAND.

Why American Millionaires Prefer to Live in Britain.

Want to be Let Alone—Newspapers Don't Bother Them.

London, July 17.—The Daily Mail this morning prints an article from an anonymous "American millionaire" in which he professes to give the reasons which cause so many wealthy American to settle in England. "One of the real reasons," he says, "so many of us are escaping from America is the desire to be let alone. In London people are accustomed to mind their own business. Private gossip and scandal are a minimum here, not only in houses but in clubs, and your newspapers do not print it. There is in fact no curiosity with regard to rich people in England.

"The absence of class feeling in England is another reason. The rich and poor are not divided into hostile factions. There is not the rush, envy, malice of New York society, with its continual struggle of western and Pittsburg people to get into that curious circle, the four hundred.

"New York city is not what it was in my early days. When old Mrs. Astor reigned supreme society in New York was not at all unlike society in London. There was no ostentation and any persons of birth, brains or breeding, were freely admitted. To-day it is merely a question of money, and such charming salons as exist in London where rank, money and brains occupy about the same position, are now impossible in most American cities and certainly in New York.

The writer goes on to contrast the daily life of a rich man in New York and London and emphatically sums up the preference for London in this sentence: "In London I am not perpetually stared at, telephoned at, written at, paragrahped at and libelled."

This movement from New York to London, the writer declares, is only in its infancy.

RESULTS THAT COUNT.

Mr. John Bath, 152 Ferguson avenue north, dropped a beautiful button-brooch a few days ago, and never expected to get it again. He valued it very highly, as it was a reward from the Royal Life Saving Society. It was found by a prominent railway man, who advertised it exclusively in the Times. Mr. Bath saw the announcement, and the missing article was claimed at the Times office. The Times is the best paper for efficient results.

FOR TATTOO.

Fine Musical and Spectacular Event on 27th.

Eight bands have been engaged to take part in the grand military tattoo to be held in the Cricket Ground on Tuesday evening, July 27, under the patronage of Lt.-Col. W. H. Bruce, commanding, and officers of the 91st Regiment. Following is the list of bands: 13th, Hamilton, Geo. R. Robt. bandmaster; 19th St. Catharines, William Peel, bandmaster; 25th Dragoons, Brantford, Walter Bartman, bandmaster; 44th, Grimsby, Fred Howard, bandmaster; 77th, Dundas, Fred Thornton, bandmaster; 91st Highlanders, Hamilton, H. A. Stares, bandmaster; Guelph Band, Fred Stares, bandmaster; 91st Bugle Band, Geo. Andrews, bugle major. Hand & Co. will have charge of the fireworks display. Some idea may be gained of the entertainment to be offered from the fact that considerable over one thousand dollars will be spent on the programme. A special train will leave Guelph at 5.10, Galt 5.50, Brantford 6.40, arriving in Hamilton 7.25. Tickets are on sale at Anderson's Music Store, 65 James street north, and Nordheimer's Music store, 18 King street west.

In this flight Curtiss exceeded all his previous records and all American records for the year.

BIG DISPLAY OF WARSHIPS.

148 British Vessels Line Up in the River Thames.

Every One of Them Fit and Ready For Active Service.

Demonstration Intended to Allay the People's War Scare.

New York, July 17.—A London despatch says that one hundred and forty-eight British warships dropped anchor in the Thames River last night, the array extending from the estuary at the south end of the river to Westminster bridge, in the heart of London. The total tonnage of this fleet is 750,000; its cost is $310,000,000, and it is officered and manned by 42,000 of the picked sons of the nation.

More warships—167, to be exact—were assembled for the naval review at Spithead in 1897, but at least thirty of these could neither steam nor fight, and were there simply for show purposes. The fleet now converging on the Thames is without a useless obsolete unit. Every one of the 148 vessels could go into battle at a moment's notice.

The object of this extended and superb display of Britain's fighting power afloat is largely that of an anti-panic show. Uneasiness prevails in every quarter of Britain. Anxiety in the higher circles as to the condition of the country's defence has bred apprehension and pessimism throughout the body politic.

The mighty armada of the Thames, the assembling of which has been saddened by the loss of a submarine in the North Sea on Wednesday night, is the Admiralty's heroic sedative.

"They have made the country think that we have no navy," said Admiral Fisher. "The British millions may now line up along the Thames, go out in boats, and see the great reality for themselves."

MAD ABOUT IT.

What Some Parents Attribute the Girls' Failure To.

Among the parents of the girls who failed in the recent entrance examinations in this city there is a very decided feeling that the chief cause of the poor showing made by the girls was not the hard arithmetic and geography papers, or the unfamiliar words given for spelling, but that the conditions under which the girls wrote caused most of the trouble. Reference was made at the time to the fact that the girls were put in the attic of the new Technical School to write their exams. The room was not finished and was stuffy and the drenching rain came through the roof to such an extent that some of the girls were soaked and some of the papers destroyed.

There is no getting over the fact that there is a good deal of feeling among the parents about it.
