A Fine Complexion

Can be Had Through Keeping The Blood Rich and Pure

A girl's complexion is something more than a matter of concern to her vanity. It is an indication of the state of her health. Pallor in a growing girl means a thinning of the blood. Eruptions mean impurities in the blood. Mothers should be watchful of their daughters and see to it that these signs are corrected—not covered up.

When a girl in her teens becomes pale and sallow, especially if, at the same time, she shows an inclination to tire easily, a listlessness and inattention to her work or studies, she needs Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, a tonic which directly and specifically corrects the condition from which she is suffering. A chemical analysis of the blood of such a girl would show it to be deficient in just the elements that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can supply, but the physical signs are plain. The girl with a bad complexion, or who suffers from occasional headaches, who is easily tired and breathless after slight exertion, should begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at once. A good appetite, sparkling eyes and rosy cheeks follow the fair use of this medicine.

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail, postpaid, at 50c a box, from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE BANKS

The failure of one Canadian bank since the parliamentary session ended and the proposed amalgamation of two others suggest the question what would have happened had there been parliamentary knowledge of these things? The condition of the defunct bank and the certainty of failure cannot have developed since the session ended. It is not improbable that negotiations for the proposed amalgamation were begun, perhaps were well advanced, the rumors of other amalgamations are matters of while the banking act was being debated at Ottawa. The failure, the serious concern. One incident of the Home Bank failure is the declaration in a Toronto meeting, a few days ago by Dr. I. G. Williams representing the Druggist Association, that depositors had lost faith in the Canadian Banker's Association. Another was the remark of a barrister that "it was in the interests of other banks of the Dominion to help the depositors in this case, or they might have to look for trouble in their own banks before long." It is equally significant that the Toronto meeting of depositors unanimously demanded the appointment of a man thoroughly qualified and independent of the Canadian Banker's Association to investigate the affairs of the Home Bank in collaboration with the Curator. These are not unnatural incidents of the failure, but they cannot in view of closely following incidents in our banking life be set down as purely idle remarks. Canadian banking is on trial to-day as never before and while there is faith in the general stability of the banks it must be recognized that every failure and every merger is by many regarded as a distinct challenge to the system. As the number of our banking institutions decreases doubts that our system is the best naturally increase. The concentration of financial control is at all times a matter of concern. There exists in Canada today, particularly in Western Canada, a decided division of opinion on the wisdom of Canadian banking methods and recent happenings must, in the very nature of things intensify feeling on the subject.

BIRD SANCTUARY IN N. B. POSSIBLE

The matter of bird sanctuaries in New Brunswick is likely to come to the fore at an early date. The federal authorities already have approached the Department of Lands and Mines of New Brunswick on the matter but proposals have not advanced to a stage where a definite announcement can be made.

Hon. C.W. Robinson, Minister of Lands and Mines, when asked about the matter, said that Tracadie Lagoon in Gloucester county, had been suggested by the Ottawa authorities, who evidently had the idea that provincial assistance was necessary in the establishment of a bird sanctuary although the Migratory Birds Treaty between the United States and Canada gave the Dominion extensive powers. It also was possible, said Hon. Mr. Robinson that other localities in New Brunswick would be suggested as bird sanctuaries.

The securing of leases of bird-shooting rights in the vicinity of Timber Lake Sunbury county, which is in a district between French and Maquapit Lakes much frequented by ducks, is said to have cast the creation of a bird sanctuary in that section. T.H. Estabrooks, of St. John whose summer home is at Belmont, Lincoln, in that county, is interested in the securing of the leases.

The creation of bird sanctuaries in any section may create ill-feeling locally and there is a belief in provincial circles that the federal authorities should take the necessary steps.

THE ADVOCATE

2,000 Extra Buffalo Sentenced To Die

The Dominion of Canada has 2,000 surplus buffalo and they are to be slaughtered. These unwanted members of a race of animals, which had been showing signs of disappearing, are now wandering on the range in the National Park at Wainwright. For several years the Dominion Government has been paying special attention to the preservation of these animals, and so successful has this work been that the accommodation in the National Parks is being overtaxed. Consequently, 2,000 of the buffaloes are to be killed this fall and the meat and skins sold. The contract for the slaughter of the animals has been given by order in council to A.S. Duclos of Edmonton, Alta., who performed similar services for the government on a smaller scale last year, when 250 head of buffalo were killed.
