Will Not Take Out Licenses

At the last meeting of the Council Board the Cabmen's Union, through their solicitor, requested that the regulations governing cab fares not come into effect until May 1st, owing to the impassable condition of the country roads. This was granted by the Board with a proviso that all licenses were to be taken out April 15. We understand that since then another conference has taken place amongst the cabmen. Having fully considered the whole matter we learn they have decided not to take out licenses, nor do they intend to conform with the new scale of fees outlined by the Council as they did not think the new rates reasonable to the public or themselves. They have instructed their solicitor to notify the Council accordingly. This will, no doubt, elicit a hot discussion at the next sitting of the Council Board.

Dumping Garbage on Allandale Rd.

Dear Sir,—Would you kindly permit me space in your valuable paper to make a complaint in reference to the Council allowing garbage and nuisance to be dumped for the past four months in a space of land situated on Allandale Road, near the old railway track. I think it disgraceful to any community to allow these deadly germs to be dumped within the city limits, and I may say that it is detrimental to walk that way for fear of the many diseases which emanate from filth. Furthermore, I would like to ask our City Fathers if any of them would like to live in such an atmosphere, with the odor from this dump blowing into your bedroom and kitchen all day and all night long? If some of our Councilors had such a nuisance dumped near their residences they would not like it a bit too well; but the everyday individual is only looked upon as the under dog. Such conduct would not be tolerated in any other civilized community. This filth and dirt is dumped on people's private property, and the quicker that the City Council have it removed the more trouble they will save. It is high time now for some one to look out for the interest of the people and the community at large. Hoping, Mr. Editor, that the Council will give this matter their serious attention and have it cleaned up, I remain,
Yours,
A. RESIDENT.

Kite Doing Better

Tom Carroll, second hand on the Labrador, says that the S. S. Kite is doing well, considering what the other Gulf steamers are reported for. On St. Patrick's Day last the Kite struck a patch of old hoods, out of which she secured 1,500, and when the Labrador was killing her seals the Kite was sighted to the westward of St. Paul's Island also working in the seals. This is gratifying news from the baby of the fleet and it can be assumed that she will have at least a saving trip. Skipper Tom also said that she had less than 50 hands aboard all told, so that if she gets 5,000 seals her crew will make a good bill.

Died at Hospital.

Jeremiah Halleran passed away at the Signal Hill Hospital on Saturday morning last after a prolonged illness. The deceased was the nineteen-year-old son of Mr. M. Halleran, Treasurer of the L. S. P. U. He had been suffering from consumption for a considerable time past and was sent to the Consumptive Hospital to try and recuperate but could not survive the grasp that the dread disease had upon him and finally succumbed. His funeral took place from his father's residence, King's Road, yesterday afternoon, and was attended by a large number of mourners including the officers of the Longshoremen's Union of which the deceased was a member.

Worst Spring in His Career.

Capt. Martin, of the Labrador reports that this spring was a trying one in the Gulf and out of the twenty years he has prosecuted the fishery there he never experienced such terrific weather as that which prevailed this spring. Snow storms were continuous and the incessant frost was too intense for human flesh to withstand. On many occasions the weather was so rough and frosty that the crew could not get about deck much less than getting out on the ice. A few sealers suffered with frostbitten ears and hands but nothing serious. It is a coincidence to note also that this is comparatively the poorest catch he ever had. For nineteen consecutive seasons in a sailing vessel he got successful trips.

Sunday School Convention.

Yesterday afternoon in Gover St. Church the S. S. C. Delegates who attended the mass meeting of Presbyterian, Congregational and four Methodist Sunday Schools were greeted with an inspiring sight. Between 1700 and 1800 Sunday School teachers and scholars packed the spacious church. What a gathering! Truly we may say "The city is a-tingle with Sunday School enthusiasm and interest," and already the success of the Convention is assured. Mr. Harry Cowan made an ideal Chairman—bright, brisk, brief. Mrs. Matthews gave a choice example of how a Sunday School lesson may be made interesting and taught correctly. Rev. J. Sutherland, M.A., gave a very interesting address, "The wonder and importance of life." Impressing the children that they were partakers of the same "life" that made the world great. Life is to be lived here and now. God has prepared the world for you. His plan is to fit you for life. Are you going to waste or use your life? If you want to make the best of life build "Goodness." Some want to be great; there may only be room for few great. Some want to be learned; there may only be room for few learned. There is a large place for those who want to be Good.

Certainly Ends Stomach Misery

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn, or Dyspepsia go in five minutes.

You can eat anything your stomach craves without fear of indigestion or dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment or sour on your stomach, if you will take a little Diapiesin occasionally.

Your meals will taste good, and anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid or poison or stomach gas, which causes Belching, Dizziness, a feeling of fullness (like a lump of lead in stomach), Bloating, Heartburn, Water brash, Pain in stomach and intestines or other symptoms.

Headaches from the stomach are absolutely unknown where this effective remedy is used. Diapiesin really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. A single dose will digest all the food you eat and leave nothing to ferment or sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from your druggist and start taking now, and in a little while you will actually brag about your healthy, strong stomach, for you then can eat anything and everything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, and every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away without the use of laxatives or any other assistance.

Should you at this moment be suffering from indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief within five minutes.

Want to Give Them a Rest.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—We are still waiting to see what action the Governor will take in the Morison scandal. I expect the query, "What will the Prime Minister do?" like the election petitions, has fallen on deaf ears. The Premier is as irresponsible as the mummy of Ramesis. We have arrived at a pretty pass in this country where the Government no longer represents the people. We have reverted to that condition where the people are ruled by a party of autocrats, who are utterly ignoring the voice of the people.

The petitions of some thousands of voters, who asked for a General Election next fall, have been routed and cast aside. The excuse of the Government for this contumely was that the petitions did not represent the wish of the people who signed them. It was said that as the petitions were from the different councils of the F. P. U. they represented the wish of but one man. In other words, the members of the F. P. U. were coerced or influenced in some way to sign them, and that they did not know what they were doing.

It may be asked how Sir Edward accounts for the signatures of hundreds of others, not members of the F. P. U., being attached to those petitions. Perhaps they were all fools who did not know what they were doing. Would that be your answer, Sir Edward? Mr. Earle in presenting one of those petitions to-day, read from letters that were sent to him with the petition. According to those letters "everybody wanted to sign the petitions," members and non-members of the F. P. U. alike. The hon. gentleman caused a smile to play on every face by remarking that perhaps the petitioners, aware of the hard work that has been done by the Government, wish to be given an opportunity to retire them early and give them a rest.

That the people are anxious to give the Picnic Party a rest is quite plain but that desire is not born of sympathy of the Picnic Party, but of concern for the country. They want to give the country a rest.

Their Defender.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—In recent controversies on current political topics one feature in my opinion has been glaringly prominent, and that is the effort of the latest created member of the Legislative Council, P. T. McGrath, to thrust himself forward as the defender or champion of the Messrs. Reid. This he did in the discussion which occurred as to the desirability of the Sanatoria preferred to the country by the Messrs. Reid. Well may these gentlemen look askance at such a friend. It is only a McGrath who would undertake such a task in the light of past events and it is only a Morris who would honour the person who would hurl at him the language of the gutter as the Honorable P. T. McGrath did so persistently in bygone years, when the paper he edited, the Herald, regularly appeared telling Sir Edward that he was "reared on Poor House scraps." McGrath in giving is as much as Morris is in swallowing such a nauseous dose, and Morris shows his ideas of honour when he confers the title of honourable on one who could thus blackguard him. No doubt Sir Edward adds to his other qualities the virtue of forgiveness. But that the Messrs. Reids will accept McGrath even though he is an honourable as their champion or apologist without a feeling of contempt for him I hardly think likely. They, with many others, remember how the Reids admitted Mr. McGrath to their confidence and he knifed them. The story of his duplicity, hypocrisy and faithlessness was evidenced in the Chicago "Record." The honourable Patrick's excuse was that he was a writer for the fees that were in it, and like Judas of old he betrayed his benefactor for 25 shekels. These worthy traits are so evident in him that our Premier whom he reviled and insulted must needs show his gratitude to him.

SPELLING.

Spelling is a disease which was first introduced to this continent by Noah Webster, and has been handed down to the third and fourth generations of stenographers. When once this disease secures a firm hold upon the system, there is no cure for it except a dose of phonetic spelling after each meal. Phonetic spelling is an offspring of the Morse telegraph code, and makes fully as fascinating reading as the terse remarks of a shorthand reporter. It is used mainly by billing clerks and newspapers which have run low on body type. Women generally spell better than men, for they have more time to chase a difficult word through the jungles of an unabridged dictionary. College professors and ministers of the gospel never have any trouble with their spelling, as the editor straightens it out so that people won't take it for a Chinese laundry ticket. Spelling used to be taught in our public schools with considerable success, but it is now put on the classical course, along with the other dead languages, and has been supplanted by basket ball and the 100-yard dash. Reformed spelling was invented by the poet Chaucer, who succeeded in getting a lot of unprintable matter through the mails by adopting his disguise. Some of our latter-day novelists have improved on Chaucer's spelling to some extent, but have retained most of his style. A spelling match is a place where people meet for the purpose of assaulting the English language, and retire with a sickly smile. If there were more of these matches, there would be less sour spelling in circulation. Spelling is very useful in correspondence which leads up to an offer of marriage, and has discouraged many a young woman who couldn't see anything but a fuzzy hat and a home run in the ninth inning.

A Reply to Two Trinitarians

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—In your issue of April 9th appears a letter signed "Two Trinitarians." This letter would lead you to believe that the settlements from Bonaventure Head to the Horse Chops contain no business places except those at Trinity. As a matter of fact, Mr. Editor, both English Harbor, Champneys, Port Rexton and Trinity East can boast of business places quite as up to date as those of Trinity, and the people patronize them liberally. I doubt very much if you would get either an anchor or a beaver at Trinity except it may be a second-hand one! As regards spur line the only place the spur line will benefit is Trinity. Why should Trinity with its population of 439 get a spur line any more than English Harbor and Champneys with a population of 1017? Three parts of the four thousand fishermen Trinitarians speak of live between Trinity and the Horse Chops and are already enjoying the benefit of a railroad. The people between Trinity and Bonaventure Head are served much better by the present station (Trinity Junction) than they would be by one at the end of the spur line.

Had Trinitarians been at Trinity East and Port Rexton stations on several days of the last few weeks they would have found it easy to convince themselves that Trinity is not headquarters for everything. Mr. Coaker has a better knowledge of present day conditions around Trinity than Trinitarians have. Thanking you, Mr. Editor, in anticipation of space.

Shot Dead as He Hugged His Fiancee.

Macon, Ga., April 3.—The death of Charles Hall Taylor, the scion of one of the wealthiest families of Georgia, as the result of his shooting by Franklin Tindall, a bookkeeper, today resulted in the latter's commitment to the county jail on the charge of murder, although a Coroner's inquest held that the homicide was justifiable. Taylor's father swore out the warrant.

Almost on the eve of his wedding to Miss Lulu Isabella Carter, a poor and pretty girl, with the marriage license in his pocket, Taylor was shot down and killed by Tindall. Saturday the Carter family had planned to go to Smithville, Ga., to live. Friday night they were to stay at the home of Tindall, who married one of the Carter girls. Taylor met his promised wife down town and walked out to the Tindall home. They were sitting on the steps, arms around each other affectionately, when Tindall returned from his office. It was dark, and he but dimly recognized the forms of a man and woman. He says he thought it was his wife and that she was resisting unwelcome attentions. At any rate he pulled his pistol. Taylor arose and advanced. Tindall fired and Taylor dropped with a bullet through his brain.

Miss Carter testified she was not resisting Taylor's caresses. Taylor was the grandson of the late Dr. Charles Hall. His mother's sister is Mrs. S. R. Jacques, the wealthiest woman in Macon and the leader of local societies. Charles Hall and Dr. Tom Hall are his uncles. He was well known and prominently connected throughout the State. In 1904 he married a hospital nurse who attended him during an illness. Last year she divorced him. Lately he had been very attentive to Miss Carter. Although his family opposed the match, her family also objected, believing that he was trifling with her.

MORE SCARLET FEVER.—A case of scarlet fever was reported at the South Side Saturday afternoon. The patient, a boy, is being nursed at home.
