"A Friend of the Poor" Warns Mr. Squires.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,-It was indeed amusing hings at St. John's to see the large R. A. Squires to take the leadership Liberal Reform Party-self-If the country is unfortun-I'll tell you what you are," is a trite old saying, and how nicely it applies well in Harbor Grace. We have a Relieving Officer here by that name, and when I tell you that during the efrain from mentioning them here. But my point is to have the would-Premier of the Reform Party, put a good stout plank in his platform, one that would keep citizens in future from witnessing such sad deaths of the poor who are unjustly called "Rattle his bones over the stones, He's only a pauper that nobody owns." Nobody owns, did the poet say? God owns all these His poor. He says, "the poor ye have always with you," and "he that giveth a cup of cold water in My Name shall have his reward." What of the man or men who will allow the above number of these poor people to die in want, misery and dirt? What can he experience the man or men agrees with me perfectly. In fact, I am in first class health again, and I feel confident that Tanlac has added years to my life. I will always be night in Victoria Park (weather

A word to Mr. Squires and his Reform Party. Tell us what are your opinions of reform on the above

A word to Premier Cashin: Tell us what you intend to do re this matter. If the Relieving Officer here has not a free hand to avoid the above painful incidents, then give him that free hand at once, and is ne already has that free hand, and or any reason is not using it justly, emove him from his office at once. Squires is a name here that causes sense of sadness among many people who have never been compelled ask him for help.

Yours very truly, A FRIEND OF THE POOR. Harbor Grace, Aug. 30.

> "I feel ten years younger since I commenced taking Tanlac, and I have such a good appetite that I actually have to eat between meals," said railway men in Canada, having been in this line of work for about fifty years. At present he is Bridge Foreman for the Grand Trunk Railway with headquarters at Edmonton, and is stopping for a while at the King Edward Hotel in Calgary.

I suffered from stomach trouble and indigestion in the worst way. What I ate would sour and I would be terribly bloated with gas for hours afterwards. Often this gas would get up into my chest and would make And shalt thou go in rags! into my chest and would make breathing very difficult, and I frequently thought that one of these attacks would finally kill me. ### Nine Commandments of German Labor in 1848

Curious Contract Showing Growth of Proletariat Demands.

The difference in ideals which aninated the revolutionists of 1848 and ose which seem to inspire those of o-day is recalled by "Vorwaerts," the organ of the Majority Socialists. No fact could be given than in citing, as Vorwaerts" does, the Ten Commandof Labor, contained on a flyheet of 1848. Germany was then a and of small burghers and there was no sharp distinction, such as exists North American Scrap o-day between the powerful capitalstic class and a proletariat consciou of its strength and growing importance, "Vorwaerts" points out.
