

Legislative Council.

JUNE 14, 1923.

Mr. McNamee.—I would like to make a few observations on the speech of his Excellency the Governor and wish to take advantage of the opportunity of associating myself with previous speakers in welcoming him and his family to Newfoundland. His Excellency although only a few months, has already shown a great interest in our social and industrial concerns, and I am sure will administer the affairs of the Colony with the same fair play and impartiality which is traditionally his. It is true that post-war reconstruction the world over is proceeding slowly, but compared with conditions one year ago, it will be observed that marked improvement is being made in the British Empire and notably England is fast recovering from her depression and suffering from income tax and expenses to some extent and has reduced its number of unemployed from a million compared with two million a year ago. It is not surprising that similar improvement should obtain in Newfoundland if our main industry, the fishery, had not been interfered with by the same consideration and on the treatment accorded it, that has been the case in the Humber venture. It is said and done, it will be seen that the codfishery is our industry representing fully 75 per cent of the earning power of this colony and it is most surprising that it should be so neglected. It is practically ignored and neglected by a short paragraph of nine lines in the Speech from the Throne. It is in that there has been no reference made to our Herring fishery, which is the main industry that yielded one million dollars return to this country. It is estimated that fully 60 per cent of our fishermen are employed in the staple industry of the Colony, and at best we can only hope, after some years, to have about 4000 employed at the Humber. In view of these facts I am sure that nearly all the speech in his Excellency the Governor is in support of this Humber venture, a prominence given it which is out of proportion to its value to this country as a whole. It is premature for me to fully express my opinion for or against the venture, until its features have been disclosed to this Chamber, the same time considering the lack of employment in our midst, the lack with favor on every laboring industry that would help our people through the present crisis, we are disappointed that there was no reference made in his Excellency's speech to the British Empire Exhibition which is to be held in London next year. Already Australia has the turf on its 4 1/2 acre space, and New Zealand, South Africa and Canada are busily engaged preparing exhibits, and if our Government had already made arrangements for our display, I would suggest that we do so without further delay. It is gratifying to see this exhibition will be visited by very many more people than hitherto attended similar affairs of this kind, and the opportunity for marketing the products of our fishery, our mines and forests should be taken advantage of to the very best extent. Our island, as a fishing Paradise, should also be advertised at this exhibition, possibly, in attracting tourists and sportsmen here in very large numbers from time to time. We have the finest salmon rivers and the finest salmon fishery in the world, and every advantage should be taken of this splendid chance to let the world know that we can offer sportsmen what is rightly termed the "sport of millions."

In congratulating Sir M. G. Winter on his elevation to Knighthood, I was pleased to learn that he did not agree with the profuse use of words both before and written the past few years and admit that a business man prefers direct action in public matters rather than surplus words and high sounding phrases which are sometimes of a meaningless character. Now that Sir M. G. Winter is a member of the Executive Council of our most successful business men, I would like to tell him that the Colony will look to him to show his well known commercial sense to oppose and prevent the introduction of any freak or fantastic regulations such as has caused so much trouble and unemployment that we are endeavoring to overcome in this industry.
