Disingenuous Journalism.

An illustration was given in the leading Tory organ a few days ago of the eagerness with which anything that can be tortured into evidence in their favour is seized upon, and of the unscrupulousness with which it is manipulated.

The words in italics were omitted; whilst the following, which immediately preceded the extract given, and will be seen to materially affect its meaning and to be part of the context, was also left out.

The Canadian Opposition may console itself for its defeats during the Session by saying that the Session is not ended, the report of the Pacific Railway Commission being yet to come.

We should add that the July number of the Canadian Monthly, from which the foregoing extracts are taken, was issued before the publication of Sir Hugh Allan's letters and his subsequent affidavit.

The Credit Valley Railway.

Last week we adverted to the scheme for extending the Credit Valley Railway through a portion of this County, and to the By law which will be voted on the 31st, inst for granting a bonus in its aid from eight of the Municipalities within its boundaries.

The Privy Council met again on Wednesday. It is understood that, amongst other matters, they have under consideration Sir Hugh Allan's report of his mission to England and its results.

The undersigned begs to intimate to his numerous friends and the travelling public generally that he has assumed the management of the above hotel, and trusts by court and strict attention to business to make the "Wellington" one of the most popular hotels in town.
