The Visit of Lady Aberdeen

Arrangements for Her Excellency's Short Stay in London.

Why City Doctors Are Invited to Meet Dr. Worcester.

Mayor Little has accepted, in cordial terms, the invitation to meet her excellency on Wednesday next, and promises to do his utmost to make her visit and the occasion it honors a thorough success.

Presidents and officers of societies affiliated with the Local Council of Women, conveners of committees, and all officially connected with the hospital fair should be fully prepared to receive the Countess of Aberdeen on her arrival at the hall, and every stall should be in perfect order by 10:30 at the latest. All desiring presentations should have their names clearly written upon a card for the use of the A. D. C. in waiting.

in another column, The Advertiser is asked to give a few words of explanation. It having been proposed to hold at Government House, Toronto, on Dec. 2, a conference of doctors from that city and other centers, upon the subject of district and other nursing, with special reference to the Victorian commemoration of the 60th year of Wade & Beckett. Wilson was one her majesty's reign, it was hoped that the boys up yesterday morning for London would send its representative quota of medical men, To this end, the Local Council of Women were asked to send names and addresses, with a view to invitations being forwarded to them from Toronto. This was done, but the fear being expressed that distance, and perhaps other reasons, might interfere with the acceptance of the same, her excellency proposed to bring Dr. Worcester with her on the occasion of her coming visit to the hospital fair, and it is to meet him and give the subject a fair, calm and dispassionate consideration that the doctors are invited to the meeting at the board of trade rooms on Wednesday. They will surely be pleted arrangements yesterday for a prepared to give Dr. Worcester, who has studied his subject thoroughly, both in England and the United Cox has for a few years been pro- both in England and the United prietor of the London View House, on States, not only a fair hearing, but also a hearty fraternal greeting.

All the Bays and Ports Full of Disabled Vessels.

The Storm Extends over Northern Europe-Immense Damage Done.

London, Nov. 30 .- Stories of wrecks, fatalities and damage done as a result of the gale in England continue to be received today. All the bays and ports are full of shipping, more or less seriously damaged. Several of the inland towns of Kent are still flooded, and a long time must elapse before the damages done can be repaired. At Margate the damage is estimated to amount to £50,000, and at Southend to £30,000. Similar reports are being received from other seaside places.
