local interest in the contest and their efforts were often wide of the mark. Their work was generally amusing and entertaining, but they did not grapple with local interest and local prejudices which were against the rohibitionists.

Mr. Wilson said that the benefits derived Mr. Wilson said that the benefits derived from outside speaking were not a sufficient compensation for the pecuniary outlay involved. In the present contest, however, this kind of thing was not at all necessary. The object of the present vote was to secure a true, fair and full criterion of opinion on the question of prohibition to be used in securing future legislation.

Mr. D. D. Wilson was made president on motion of Rev. William McDonagh, seconded by Rev. C. Fletcher.

Mr. John Muir, owing to the onerous duties which would devolve upon the secretary, and which the appointee for that position was unwilling to wholly shoulder, was elected associate secretary.

Rev. William McDonagh was made vice-president.

Mr. Septimus Hogarth, of Stephen township, who has been an enthusiastic temperance worker for years, was elected treasurer.

AN ANCIENT ORACLE!

The most ancient oracle was that of Dodona; but the most famous was that of Delphi, Crosus rendered himself renowned for the magnificent presents which he gave to that of Delphi.

It is difficult to determine which is the oldest cough remedy in the world. There are many that claim ancient origin without being able to show a record of good works. These old mixtures are fast disappearing; soon their names will be forgotten. Modern science and research has pro-
