The remaining evidence in the McCormack v. Lambe case was adduced in the mack v. Lambe case was adduced in the Assize Court yesterday morning. A. B. Lambe and J. H. Ferguson are the defendants in the suit. Ferguson claims freedom from liability in the action, as he says he had resigned his interest, previous to the sale of the land, though he still held a lien upon it. The case against the latter was dismissed with costs, but no decision has, as yet been pronounced with regard to Lambe's liability.

Editor World: It will not be showing proper appreciation of a citizen who has earned distinction in his chosen profession if Mr. S. H. Clark is not greeted with a crowded house on Thursday evening next in Association Hall on the occasion of his farewell recital prior-to his departure to as sume his new and important duties in connection with the University of Chicago. As Mr. Clark actually leaves for his new home on Friday morning, this will be the last opportunity of hearing him. As an elecutionist Mr. Clark has, perhaps, no superior in America. He is, indeed, more than a mere elecutionist—he is an artist of breadth and culture with a proper conception of the dignity of his art. He has read for us in Carlton-street Methodist Church six times within a year, and instead of our people growing tired of him the interest has increased with each appearance.

John J. Dixon & Co. received the following despatch over their private wire from Henry Allen & Co. to-day:
NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The stock market to-day has been only fairly active, and there have been realizations on a number of conspicuous stocks. Whisky is off a little. New England is down about a point. Other stocks have been a shade weaker. There evidently is a disposition on the part of important insiders to wait until after the election before taking hold with energy. The money market squeeze so much predicted did not come and generally the situation is more bullish, but there is evidently an unwillingness on the part of big interests to go into the market pending the incertainties of election campaign. Thus this is a waiting time. Meanwhile we believe that on reactions the average stocks are a purchase.
