Hurrah! for the time that is coming,
When ladies shalf vote like the min;
Och, won't the polls be a bloomin'
With fithers and crinoline this.
Election day thin I am thinkin'
Will be the great day of the year,
Whin lassies and lads will be drinkin'
Together the candidates' beer.'

What's the use to wrangle wid Biddy
About who the livin' shall make;
An' sure,if 'twill please her, I'm riddy
To give up the hod for her sake,
An' be stayin' all 'day at the shanty
To 'tind the domestic affairs,
A boilin' the baif an' petatics,
An' mendin' the rips and the tairs,

Thin whin elections approaches,

An' the lassies are marchin' the state
Wid big bands of music and torches,
An' biddy is standin' the trate,
I'll be on the sidewalk hurrahin' For me own darlin' Biddy McFlynn, Wid a child in me arms and drawin' A cab wid another one in.

An' whin she is makin' her spaches
Before the great min of the land,
Sure thin I will lind her my braches
An' sit by her side on the sthand;
An' after she's done wid her talkin'
Och, then, how the people will cheer,
An' off to the polls be a walkin'
And votin' for Biddy, my dear.

An' whin all the votin' is over An' Biddy elected sure thin' I'll live like a pig in clover, Wid Honorade Mrs. McFlynn. Wid Honoralle Mrs. McFlynn.
The shanty I'll quickly be lavin'
An' livin' wid illigant taste,
Wid a horse and a shay for me drivin',
An' a nager to wait on the baste.

It's never a lie I am spakin',
But true every word that I say,
It's meself 'twould never be takin'
The rights of the ladies away.
If a lassic thinkin' if proper,
Should shoulder the mortar and brick Bad luck to the thiaf that would I'd black his two eyes purty quick.

The way is for all to kape aisy, An' give to the ladipe alsy,
An' give to the ladipe their way;
They'll trip up and vote like a daisy,
No matter what blackguards may sa
An' thin should they office be shakin'
Or twirlin' the pick of the spade,

Who cares so the livin' is made.

WONAN'S RIGHTS.

Dennis McFlynn has been thinking scape calumny."

The great master of the human heart said, and said truly, "Be thou as chaste as ice, as pure as snow, thou shalt not escape calumny."

Keep doing, always doing—remembering that wishing, dreaming, intending, murmuring, talking, sighing and repining are all idle and profitless employments.

The world is governed by three things—wisdom, authority, and appearance. Wisdom is for thoughtful people, authority for rough people, and appearance for superficial people.

The training of children is a prepara-tion for the gravest and important re-lations of life, and upon the character of our home-life must rest the well be-ing of our nation and the permanence of all our institutions.

Nothing really succeeds which is not based en reality; sham, in a large sense, is never successful; in the life of the individual, as in the more comprehensive life of the State, pretension is nothing, and power is everything.

The Church of England supports an immense system of education in England. It is teaching nearly a million and three quarters of children, and makes provisions for teaching two millions. Parliament appropriated last year in educational grants £1,356,000,of which sum more than £800,000 went to the Church of England Schools, of which there are nearly 10,000 in England and Wales. The number under the British and Wesleyan system is 2,000; Board Schools, 1,000 and Roman Catholics, 600. The School Board provides for the education of 250,600 children, the British system for 560,000 and the Roman Catholics for 190,000. Recent educational statistics show that in England and Wales the the Church of England is teaching more than three to one of any other system, and much more than half of the whole number taught by all systems.

KINDNESS IN LITTLE THINGS.

The sunshine of life is made up all the time. In the nursery, on the play ground, and in the school, there is room all the time, for little acts of kindness that cost nothing, but are worth more than gold or silver. To give up something, where giving up will prevent unhappiness—to yield where persisting will chafe and fret others—to go little around rather than come against another—to take an ill word or a cross look quietly, rather than resent or against another—to take an ill word or a cross look quietly, rather than resent or return it—these are the ways in which clouds and storms are kept off and a pleasant and steady sunshine secured, even in very humble homes, and among very poor people, as well as in families of higher stations.

a Farm Workman.—The increase in the machinary used upon farms makes it desirable to have a properly furnished workshop. It will not pay to run to the carpenter or the blacksmith when a little repair is needful. The time lost is too valuable, and the yearly bills for repairs is a scrious item. One of the useful results of machinery is to increse the value of a man's time, and this should be provided for.
