

THE ALLIES LANDING ON GALLIPOLI PENINSULA

General view of Allied Fleet covering landing of troops.

Photographed from a battleship:—British troops in boats being towed by steam pinnaces.

Immediately after the photograph was taken, they came under fire of Turkish guns.

The "River Clyde" beached at Seld-el-Bahr to disembark troops.

She has become known as the "Horse of Troy".

Australians and New Zealanders landing North of Gaba Tepe.

Copyright,
Underwood & Underwood,
New York.

British troops aboard a transport heading for the Turkish shore.