Wilson Bros. & Co., of the Vancouver Iron Works, Victoria, have of late been making a specialty of architectural iron work. They furnished all this class of work for the new Drydri building which has more iron and steel in its composition than any other building in the province. They also manufacture sidewalk lights for basements, making frames of any size to suit and fitting them with Hayward's semi-prism light of English manufacture. These are already in use at the Turner Block, New Drydri and Leiser buildings.
