

WESTERN EUROPEAN TOPICS

A graduate of the University of Manitoba, Mr. Molgat attended also the Institut d'Etudes politiques de Paris. He is a Rhodes scholar. He has had postings in Hong Kong, Rawalpindi, Islamabad and Washington. He is currently Director of Western European Division.

Canada and NATO

RIDDELL, G.G. (See biographical sketch on page 1)

Mr. Molgat is currently Director of the Western European Division of the Canadian International Affairs Centre. He has held postings in Hong Kong, Rawalpindi, Islamabad and Washington. He is a Rhodes scholar. He has had postings in Hong Kong, Rawalpindi, Islamabad and Washington. He is currently Director of Western European Division.

Canada's relations with Western Europe and North America are of great importance to the West. At the University of the Western Ontario, Mr. Molgat has been a Fellow at the Centre for International Affairs. He has held various positions as Director of the Historical Division, as Director of the International Division, and as Director of the International Division. Other assignments include the International Division, Berlin, and the International Division, London. Mr. Molgat has also held positions in the International Division, London, and the International Division, London.

Canada's relations with Western Europe and North America are of great importance to the West. At the University of the Western Ontario, Mr. Molgat has been a Fellow at the Centre for International Affairs. He has held various positions as Director of the Historical Division, as Director of the International Division, and as Director of the International Division. Other assignments include the International Division, Berlin, and the International Division, London. Mr. Molgat has also held positions in the International Division, London, and the International Division, London.