

from defects in planning and from the predominance of the infamous gross output. Its a paradox, but, in fact, it is the low cost of the basic materials which makes this design unprofitable for enterprises to use. This is what impels the managers of factories to refuse to produce these highly efficient "Dnepr"-type buildings.

If you are interested in these mobile container-type "Dnepr"-design system buildings, you may write to: 323000, Dnepropetrovskaya oblast', gorod Pavlodar, Pavlodar Experimental Factory for the Manufacture of Mobile Buildings.

Stroitel'naya Gazeta

July 15, 1988

Page 2 (full text)