

Our Organization

The Department of Foreign Affairs and International Trade is structured to match Canada's activities and interests abroad. We have branches which concentrate on Asia Pacific, the United States, Europe, Africa and the Middle East, and Latin America and the Caribbean.

Each branch has divisions which specialize in issues such as international organizations, human rights, cultural and academic relations, arms control, defence relations, international security, economic policy, trade and legal affairs, and services to Canadians who are travelling or living abroad.
