[The Acting Speaker (Mr. Laniel).

● (1710)

[Translation]

Mr. Olivier: I rise on a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

I did not vote because I did not want to vote on foolish things like that which make the House of Commons look ridiculous.

Mr. Pelletier (Sherbrooke): On a point of order, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. Speaker: The hon. member for Sherbrooke on a point of order.

Mr. Pelletier (Sherbrooke): Mr. Speaker, I did not vote on this motion because I feel it is an abuse of the rules. In my view, the members of the House of Commons should have been reminded that it is really ridiculous to move motions of this kind.

[English]

Mr. Horner (Crowfoot): Mr. Speaker, I rise on a point of order. It is quite improper for a member of the House of Commons to cast a reflection on the vote of other hon. members. It is quite improper, also, for a member to refer to any action by another member when he is casting his vote in the House as being ridiculous or otherwise. This sort of thing should not be entertained by Mr. Speaker, and if it continues it will set a precedent which I am certain this House will regret.

Some hon. Members: Hear, hear!

● (1720)

Mr. Speaker: Order, please. The hon. member for Crowfoot (Mr. Horner) has the floor.

Mr. J. H. Horner (Crowfoot): Mr. Speaker, I rise to speak on the three motions presently being debated with respect to Bill C-203, particularly the one providing that election campaign funds should be Canadian funds and should come directly from Canadian sources. While I realize there might be difficulty in determining what is a Canadian source, I must admit that I am inclined to support that part of the motion. It is not a question of whether it can be implemented. Quite often in politics it is not necessarily a question of what you are doing but of how the voter perceives that you have done it. We have already laid down certain laws with respect to foreign investment in Canada. We will allow only 10 per cent foreign investment in our banks, and none in our newspapers and other news media. Surely, as a parliament, we should be proud to declare that money spent on the election of members to this House should come from Canadian sources.

The hon. member for Timiskaming (Mr. Peters) spoke of the rumour which is often touted about his party, that it gets a great deal of money from international unions. He attempted to assure the House that, from his knowledge, this is not the case. I point out that he is not a collector for the NDP; he is not a finance man for the NDP; he does not know where the money comes from for his party. And
