

organization is merely a mechanical activity. I do not profess political knowledge, or political sagacity, but in the views I have sought to express, I believe I represent a considerable body of opinion in every constituency in the country.

Faithfully yours,