

Bosnia and Servia, addressed to the 767 cardinals, patriarchs, archbishops, and bishops, titular and real, who composed the Ecumenical Council at Rome, in 1869:—

“Consider well, my honourable brethren,” he exclaimed, “the situation in which these men (the Jesuits) stand. It is they who initiate and determine all the proceedings of the Council. Consider the dangers to which the Church must be subject when it takes its teachings from the Jesuits, as their doctrines are in contradiction to history, to the Fathers of the Church, to the Word of God—to everything, in short, that is held most sacred by true Christians.”
